SENATOR QUAY WILL LEAD HIS LAST GREAT BATTLE

Will Be State Chairman in Campaign to Elect Mr. Pennypacker.

THE JUDGE WILL BE NOMINATED

Penrose to Be Temporary Presiding Officer of State Convention.

PERMANENT GAVEL NOT YET AWARDED

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
903 Fifteenth St., N. W.,
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 3.

For temporary chairman—Boies Penrose of Philadelphia.

For governor—Samuel W. Pennypacker of Philadelphia.

For state chairman—Matthew Stanley Quay of Lancaster.

These selections accurately forecast a portion of the work to be done by the Republican state convention when it meets in Harrisburg one week from tomorrow. They have been decided upon and will not be changed.

The task of giving a rousing majority for Judge Pennypacker will fall upon the shoulders of Senator Quay, who has so often piloted his party to victory. As this is to be his last big campaign, the senator purposes to make it a notable one, and when he retires from politics he expects to leave the party in excellent shape and free from the "grafters."

He will see to it that Judge Pennypacker has an overwhelming majority; that the legislature is strongly Republican and will re-elect Senator Penrose; that 28 of the 30 congressmen to be elected shall be Republican, and that most of the hold-over state senators who will vote for his (Quay's) successor shall be Republican. With this accomplished the "Old Man" believes he can safely relinquish the reins of party control to others.

One Honor Not Apportioned.

For permanent chairman of the convention no one has been selected. As the active contest of Louis A. Watres in the northeastern section of the state and of the friends of Representative Sibley in the northwestern section of the state aided immensely in opening the eyes of the people to what was back of the Elkin boom and thus saved the party from disaster the leaders are desirous that either Mr. Watres or Mr. Sibley shall be the permanent chairman of the convention. Neither one has accepted, and in the event that neither accepts Senator Penrose may be continued as the permanent chairman.

For the other offices on the ticket no selections have been made. State Senator Brown of Lawrence county is in the lead for the nomination for lieutenant governor, while Isaac B. Brown of Erie county seems to have no opposition for secretary of internal affairs. However, neither one has been slated and neither one may be nominated. On the other hand, both may be nominated. That will be settled next week at Harrisburg.

The news from York county that the Elkinites had met their Waterloo there today was a severe disappointment to the few friends here of the attorney general.

The Test of Strength.

There were 217 delegates in the convention and a test vote was held on two sets of delegates. The result was that the highest Elkin candidate received only 67 of the 217 votes, while the highest anti-Elkin candidates received 187 of the 217 votes. As Mr. Elkin went to York last night to influence the result his rebuke by the convention is overwhelming.

HARRISBURG, PA., June 3.—(Special.)—Decorators began today on the Lochiel hotel, which will be the headquarters of Attorney General Elkin during the state convention. The hotel, for so many years the exclusive headquarters of Senator Quay in every important battle, will for the first time appear in the role of anti-Quay headquarters. The Lochiel also will shelter State Chairman Reeder, Assistant Chairman Eyre and the rest of the Stone administration forces.

Elkin went to Carlisle this evening to deliver the address to the graduating class of the Dickinson law school, of which State Librarian Reed is president. To create sentiment for Stone's candidate Reed and other Elkinites arranged a reception for Elkin on the college campus. Later Elkin had a meeting with Charles Mullin, one of the Cumberland delegates, at the house of ex-Judge Sadler. Mullin controls the other two delegates, and every possible effort is being made by Elkin to secure his pledge to influence his colleagues. Mullin has for years been Quay's devoted personal friend, and it is expected that he and his colleagues will vote for Judge Pennypacker.

Not One Delegate for Elkin.

Attempt is being made by the Elkinites to bolster up their failing cause by claiming two of the six delegates elected by today's York county Republican convention. The truth is all of these delegates will be controlled by Quay's wishes and were elected on the anti-Elkin ticket.

Extravagant claims are being made by the retainers of the Stone administration, to convert the uninstructed delegates. These officeholders are circulating a report tonight that Elkin has enough delegates pledged to nominate him on the first ballot; that Pennypacker will not have 40 votes outside of the 85 from Philadelphia, and that Elkin is sure of 34 of the 38 Allegheny delegates.

Gov. Stone is trying to force the Montgomery county delegates to vote for Elkin by holding open the vacancy in the office of register of wills created by the resignation of County Chairman Freed to become chief coiner of the Philadelphia mint.

United States District Attorney Holland and other party leaders united in a petition to Stone asking him to appoint Representative Grant R. McGlatherty, one of the stalwarts in the last legislature; but Stone has a lingering hope that by declining to appoint McGlatherty he may force the delegates to withdraw their support from Judge Pennypacker and turn in for Elkin. Holland has refused to be cajoled or driven away from Pennypacker, and today Stone approved the bond of Howard A. Whitehead, deputy regis-

CITIZENS TO NAME HON. JOHN DALZELL

This Will Be a Surprise to the Congressman and Old Organization---Citizens Elect Committeemen.

John Dalzell is to be nominated for congress in the Thirteenth district by the Citizens county committee at a meeting to be held either tomorrow or the day following.

This will be a surprise to the old organization. It had planned to nominate Mr. Dalzell next November. The leaders of this faction have also said that they would not allow any candidate on their ticket to take a nomination or indorsement from the Citizens. The nomination will also come as a surprise to Mr. Dalzell. It is thought that he will accept it.

The eight legislative conventions of the Citizens party yesterday elected the 32 members of the county committee and adopted a platform of principles. The conventions were all well attended, almost every voting precinct in the county being represented. There was no quarreling, but plenty of rivalry. In none of the gatherings was there anything to indicate bossism. Slates were not prepared and the delegates were allowed to select the men of their choice. The Fifth district held the largest convention and the greeting given William B. Rodgers was an indication of the popular esteem in which he is held. He will no doubt be the candidate of the party for city recorder next spring.

Members of the Committee.

There are 32 members of the committee, two being allowed for each of the 16 representatives in the state house of representatives. The following were selected:

1. E. L. Braun.
1. C. C. Mendel.
1. W. S. Armstrong.
1. Joseph Gilchrist.
2. Thomas McHenry.
2. S. S. Woodburn.
3. B. F. Oliver.
3. John H. Trimble.
3. W. B. Hays.
3. Thomas Curtain.
3. Samuel S. Gilson.
3. Geo. W. Henderson.
4. A. B. Stewart.
4. L. S. Lavin.
5. C. S. Crawford.
5. James J. Booth.
5. W. S. Haynes.
5. Henry Moore.
5. W. M. McCracken.
5. T. S. Bigelow.
5. Cadwalader Evans.
5. W. C. Reitz.
6. U. M. Beck.
6. Joseph H. Shaw.
6. James W. Spalter.
6. W. H. Munsey.
7. R. T. Cunningham.
7. Thomas Perry.
7. James T. Ewer.
7. W. T. Anderson.
8. J. G. Messner.
8. James Evans.

The men on the county committee cannot be candidates for any office. If they desire to seek a nomination they will have to resign from the committee the day it organizes, as a resolution will be adopted on that day barring them from becoming candidates.

The platform, among other things, contains a strong paragraph condemnatory of the administration of Gov. William A. Stone. The few lines would indicate that should John P. Elkin by any means secure the nomination for governor he could not expect an indorsement from the Citizens party, as his affiliation with Stone would bar him.

The Platform Adopted.

In each of the eight legislative conventions the following platform was adopted:

We, the representatives of the Citizens party, in convention assembled, recognizing and deploring the existing evils in the present methods of the administration of the municipal, county and state government, and realizing our duties in the premises, do hereby adopt, declare and publish the following as the principles and purposes of our political organization:

First—We favor civil service reform, and demand that all city, county and state employes be placed under the merit system of appointment.

Second—We favor the securing and maintaining of an economical and efficient city, county and state government, and shall endeavor to defeat all efforts to elect incompetent and dishonest men to public offices.

Third—To prevent the perpetration of fraud upon taxpayers by private individuals or public officials, either separately or in conjunction with each other.

Fourth—We favor the enactment of such laws as will prevent the granting of franchises to public service corporations or persons using public streets, roads and public property for an unlimited period of time.

Fifth—To demand that all public service corporations and individuals to whom franchises have been granted, or to whom in the future franchises may be granted, shall pay a tax of at least 3 per cent upon gross receipts during the first five years, and thereafter 5 per cent of the gross receipts during the life of said franchises.

Business-Like Expenditures.

We further declare that the Citizens party favors a wise and progressive anticipation of the needs of the city, county and state, and the proper expenditure of the public moneys for education, for pure water, for sanitation, for good roads, and for the enjoyment and the development and protection of all manufacturing and commercial interests within the boundaries of the city, county and state. We demand, however, that such expenditures shall not be made under the supreme control and direction of an irresponsible boss, and conducted for the private profit of himself and his supporters, but that such expenditures shall be made in a business-like manner, and in a way that will be of the greatest benefit for the public alone.

We believe that united labor should have the same representation in the state as is given in other prosperous and enlightened communities.

We believe in a proper regulation for the deposit of public moneys, and are opposed to the selection of depositories controlled by professional politicians, and we insist upon a prompt investment of accumulations.

We are opposed to extravagance in all departments of public administration, and will support measures to prevent and punish the levying and collecting of assessments for political purposes from public employes, and exacting from them political services.

We are opposed to all expenditures in excess of the actual receipts of the city, county and state.

Stone Roundly Denounced.

We are strongly opposed to all extravagance, mismanagement, favoritism and jobbery, in connection with the letting of contracts for public improvements.

We denounce the treacherous, unbusinesslike and unclean administration of Gov. William A. Stone. He has incurred the profound indignation and hatred of the people because of his scandalous administration, and because he has usurped the authority vested in him by the people and wilfully perverted the powers committed to him by the legislature, for the benefit of the people of Pittsburgh, in aiding an odious and intriguing cabal which the people demand shall be deprived of political authority.

The foregoing principles are all necessary to the good government of the city, county and state. No candidate who has a sincere desire to promote the interests of good government will refuse to support the foregoing principles, and no other candidate is worthy of the support of good citizens.

Allegheny Convention.

The first and second district conventions were held in Allegheny city hall last night. Dr. R. T. Duff was made permanent chairman; George Armstrong, vice chairman; C. R. French and Enslie Barker, secretaries of the first district. There was no opposition to the election of the four members of the county committee.

Dr. S. S. Woodburn presided over the second district convention and was made the permanent chairman. H. W. Heckel and Richard Walsh were elected secretaries. There was no opposition to the four county committeeman. John H. Trimble made a speech in which he said he would not vote for any man who was in favor of increasing salaries.

John F. McTighe was made permanent chairman of the third district convention at the meeting at headquarters last night. Stanley Mills was made vice chairman; Thomas C. Scott and B. Dunn, secretaries, and J. R. Brooks, treasurer. There was contest for the four places on the county committee.

The fourth district was organized at Citizens headquarters by the election of A. P. Carr as permanent chairman, and Martin J. Hunt and W. C. McCoy as secretaries. There was no contest for committeemen.

The fifth is the largest of the districts. This convention was held in city hall last night and there were 159 of the 180 delegates present. Charles S. Crawford

ROYAL BLUFF BEING WORKED TO AID ELKIN

SENATOR EMERY STRIKES A SNAG

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

MERCER, June 3.—If noise will win Elkin will carry the state convention next Wednesday. Hundreds of claquers will be taken to Harrisburg with instructions to yell for Elkin. It is immaterial whether they are for the attorney general or not, if they are willing to yell when necessary. Of course, railroad transportation will be furnished in return for services rendered.

Senator J. D. Emery is organizing the claque in Mercer county. With a pocketful of railroad passes he began a search for claquers yesterday. He was unfortunate in approaching Clerk of Courts James L. Greer, who exposed the scheme. Greer is not for Elkin, and did not mince words telling the senator so.

Since the county committee instructed the delegates to the state convention to vote for Elkin the factions in Mercer county have been fighting each other harder than ever. The Elkin supporters have been losing ground and are having a hard time to hold the delegates in line. They are showing evidence of a desire to kick over the traces. To bolster them up the scheme of raising a claque was devised.

The Mercer county claquers will be expected to make a great noise every time a Mercer county delegate shows his head and thus create the impression that the entire county is yelling for Elkin.

The most obstreperous delegate is said to be Dr. W. D. Berryhill. He is alleged to have declared that he will not obey the instructions of the county committee to vote for Elkin. He claims as much right to instruct the committee as the committee has to instruct him.

GERMANS THINK WELL OF THE JUDGE

Annual Convention of the Centralbund Will Indorse Judge Pennypacker for Governor.

Judge Samuel W. Pennypacker of Philadelphia, who will be nominated for governor by the Republicans, will be unanimously indorsed for the office at the annual convention of the German-American Centralbund, which meets in Reading on June 15.

At this convention between 300 and 400 delegates of different associations in Pennsylvania will be present. These delegates represent a membership of over 60,000.

Never before have the German-Americans of Pennsylvania been so enthusiastically interested in the nomination for governorship. The feeling has been so strong for Judge Pennypacker that he will be the nominee of the convention.

Pittsburgh German-Americans have been particularly active in their work for Judge Pennypacker and the resolutions indorsing his gubernatorial candidacy will, in all probability, be presented by members of the Centralbund of this city.

SLASHER JACK IN THE HANDS OF THE POLICE

Vandal Who Spread Terror Past Two Weeks Run to Earth.

HE IS A PUZZLE TO THE OFFICERS

"Jack the Slasher," the strange person whose daring vandalism during the past two weeks caused him to be regarded by both police and citizens as a veritable terror, has been captured. He was cleverly arrested about 1:30 o'clock yesterday morning in Cliff street by Policeman John Jennings. He gave his name as John Durby and said he was a Pole. He refused to reveal his place of residence or divulge his occupation. When first arrested he understood what was said to him in English, and made replies in that language, but it was not long until he evidently realized that the police were certain that they had the right man and then he refused to answer any questions and endeavored to convey the impression that he did not understand English.

Thefts Led to Identification.

The slasher was completely identified by the hat he wore and by a watch found in his pocket. The hat he stole from the house of James Sheafer, No. 1003 Bluff street, on May 25, when he paid the place one of his destructive visits. The watch he stole from the house of Joseph Berninger, No. 300 Main street, Lawrenceville, on May 23, after slashing all the upholstered furniture and hangings with his sharp weapon.

Naturally, the police force is greatly elated over the capture of this man. He has given them more anxiety and interest than any other mystery they have had to deal with in a long time. In the opinion of the police Durby is entirely sane despite his fiendish and devilish performances. For nearly two weeks they have been hunting the man. The only clue they had was the old hat he left when he took that of Mr. Sheafer, which helped materially to establish his identity.

Clever Work of the Police.

The slasher in a number of instances repeated his visits to neighborhoods where he had carried on his work of devastation, and it was reasoning by the police along this line that he would revisit Cliff street, that resulted in his capture. Early last Monday morning the slasher entered the house of R. D. Hester at No. 12 Cliff street. The police, thinking he would attempt to enter another place in that section, placed an extra guard in the neighborhood.

It was shortly after Monday midnight when an unknown man was seen to come up the Seventeenth street incline from the Penn avenue section. His actions aroused the suspicions of the police and he was closely followed from that time until he was arrested. At one time Officer Jennings, who was trailing the fellow, lost him. Fortunately Police Captain G. B. McClelland happened to reach that section about that time, and as soon as he learned what Jennings' suspicions were Capt. McClelland started off quietly after more officers, with the idea of "rounding up" the fellow.

He Took to the Tall Grass.

Jennings, after Capt. McClelland had hastened away, proceeded along Cliff street in the direction the stranger had taken, and had not gone far when he got another view of his suspect. The fellow started to run and Jennings gave chase. The slasher jumped into a yard near the residence of President John S. Lambie of select council and tried to hide himself in the grass, but Jennings was on top of him in less time than it takes to relate it. Just about that time Capt. McClelland returned with a squad of officers and the slasher was hurried to No. 2 police station.

After Durby refused to talk it was recalled that Detective Albert Swinehart had said that the slasher, if ever caught, might possibly be identified by a black soft hat, the property of Mr. Sheafer. The hat Durby wore was at once examined. It answered the description given of Mr. Sheafer's hat and inside was found the trade mark of a Wood street hatter of whom Mr. Sheafer buys his headgear. Later the hat was taken to the Sheafer house. Mrs. Sheafer was certain it was her husband's, but he had already come down town. During the course of the morning Mr. Sheafer was found and he positively identified the hat as his.

Berninger Identifies His Watch.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Berninger identified the watch found on Durby as his, it having been stolen the night the slasher ripped through his home. Durby said he had bought the watch and that he had had it for several years. Berninger had the receipt given him by the jeweler from whom he purchased the timekeeper, and on it is the number. This number corresponded to that of the watch found on Durby.

Durby is a small man, about 5 feet 4 inches tall, and weighing about 140 pounds. He is sullen and morose in appearance and looks like an ordinary Polish laborer. His hands indicate that he has been working recently. His clothing was of good, serviceable material and almost new. He is about 35 years old.

Yesterday afternoon Durby was brought out before several newspaper men. He never raised his eyes to them and stood apparently disinterested in everything about him.

The police were unable to learn Dur-

LORD KITCHENER TO BE REWARDED BY KING EDWARD

Title and Money for Central Figure in Peace Negotiations.

HOUSE OF LORDS TO HEAR MESSAGE

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

London, June 4.—Contrary to custom the house of lords will hold a sitting today to receive a message from King Edward with reference to peace in South Africa. It is expected that this message will announce the conferring of a title upon Lord Kitchener and the granting to him of a reward for his services. The money reward will probably be £100,000.

It now appears that Lord Kitchener will not return to London for the king's coronation, and Joseph Chamberlain, the colonial secretary, has said the government does not propose to have the new South African colonies represented at the crowning of King Edward. Transvaal and Orange river representatives could hardly reach London in time.

King Edward has cabled his congratulations to Lord Kitchener and Lord Milner.

UTRECHT, HOLLAND, June 3.—The Boer delegates in Europe arrived here this afternoon. They held a prolonged conference in the house of Mr. Kruger. None of the delegates was willing to talk.

The Handelsblad declares that neither Mr. Kruger nor any of the Boer delegates in Europe has received any communication from the Boers in South Africa concerning peace. "The inference is," says the paper, "that the British government is stopping such dispatches."

PRETORIA, June 3.—There was great rejoicing in all the concentration camps upon receipt of the news that peace had been concluded. The occupants assembled in the open spaces and chanted psalms, the women weeping with joy.

BOMBAY, June 3.—The news of the conclusion of peace in South Africa was received with mixed feelings in the Boer prison camps here. A majority of the prisoners rejoiced, but many of them considered the news to be bad, as it meant the loss of all they had been fighting for. "We would have stayed in captivity for years, without complaint," said many of the Boers, "had such been the judgment of the burghers."

TO SEND KRUGER HOME.

Report That British Will Offer Safe Conduct to South Africa for the Former President.

AMSTERDAM, June 3.—Sir William Conyngham Greene, the British minister at Berne, Switzerland, who was formerly British agent at Pretoria, together with Lord Reay from London, has arrived here and conferred at length with Dr. Kuyper, the Dutch premier.

It is rumored that Sir W. Conyngham Greene and Lord Reay purpose accompanying Dr. Kuyper to notify Mr. Kruger of the conditions of peace, and to offer him a safe conduct to South Africa and other facilities, conditional upon his retirement to his farm at Rustenburg.

Dr. Kuyper's good offices in this matter were requested by Great Britain.

TRACTION MEN WANT A BETTER ADJUSTMENT

Committee of 14 Will Try to Secure Higher Wages From Pittsburgh Railways Company.

At a meeting which adjourned shortly before 2 o'clock this morning, members of Division 85, Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employes, decided that a committee of 14 and the executive officers of the association visit the management of the Pittsburgh Railways Company and endeavor to secure a more satisfactory adjustment. The conference will be sought at the earliest possible moment and the results will be reported at a mass meeting of traction employes to be held in Old City hall.

The meeting was held in Smith's hall, No. 906 Liberty street, and was called to order shortly after midnight. Fully 400 men were present. John Dooley occupied the chair and F. J. Denman acted as secretary.

At first a motion was made that a committee of 14 wait upon officers of the company and demand a straight wage rate of 25 cents an hour, the men to strike within 48 hours in case the demand be refused. This was an extreme motion. In lieu, it was suggested that the company give to the low-priced men, who get 20 cents an hour, the money which, under the company's new offer, would accrue to those conductors and conductors who, after six months' work, have had no accidents to their discredit.

The men of the West End, United, Suburban and Birmingham divisions are the chief objectors to the company's new plan of wage paying. They say that as it eliminates the relief plan, under which the men have time for dinner, some of the employes get as low as 19 cents an hour.

Explorer Borchgrevink Thinks He Has Secured the Necessary Data.

JUST RETURNED FROM MT. PELEE

Will Submit an Official Scientific Report to Geographical Society.

ISLAND SURVIVORS REACH NEW YORK

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, June 3.—Having among her passengers C. E. Borchgrevink, the Anthracite explorer, who went to St. Pierre on the Dixie; Edouard Reynal de Saint Michel, a former resident of the destroyed city; Benjamin Benrentsen, a carpenter, and Manuel Ledee, a mess boy, formerly on the steamship Roraima, which was sunk by the volcano rain of fire, the steamship Madiana arrived this evening from Martinique.

Mr. Borchgrevink said he had returned with valuable information on the subject of volcanic eruptions and that he would go at once to Washington to report to the National Geographical society.

"Of course, my going in an official capacity prevents me from saying much until after I have made my report at Washington," said he; "but I am liberty to tell you that I have secured valuable data which, I think, will enable scientists in the future to foretell when an eruption will take place.

"I do not think that you will hear of any more trouble on the islands for some time. Mont Pelee, when I left, was perfectly quiet. I do not think that St. Pierre will ever be inhabited again."

When asked what he thought of Prof. Heilbrin's reported ascent to the crater of Mont Pelee, he said: "If the report is true, it was a very brave act, done by one I know to be a very brave man; but it is of little practical use. It would have been much better if the crater had been inspected before the eruption took place."

M. Saint Michel lost his mother and four sisters, besides all his property, and said, pathetically, this evening: "I have not a cent in the world." He tells this story:

"On May 7, the day before the eruption, I sent my wife and baby son to Fort de France to stay with friends. The next morning at 6:30 o'clock I set out to join them, taking a little ferryboat that makes trips from one end of the island to the other. When I arrived at Fort de France, two hours later, I was told that no communication could be had from St. Pierre, and that it was feared something terrible had happened.

"I and several other persons tried to put back to St. Pierre the next day in the ferryboat, but we could not get within several miles of the town, the waves were so high and the air so full of ashes. It was not until six days after the eruption that I succeeded in getting to St. Pierre, and when I saw what had really happened I fainted. Although I lived for nearly 30 years in St. Pierre I could not tell one spot from another; when I went to look for the place where my house had been I finally settled on a place which I thought would be about the location of the house, but it did me little good. Everything was the same—a hot, dusty, dreary waste, and I was glad to get away."

M. St. Michel will stay for the present with cousins in the city.

A Survivor of the Roraima.

Berentsen, the carpenter, said he was on the deck of the Roraima when the fire struck the ship. He immediately ran below and covered himself up with blankets, thereby escaping serious injury.

Capt. Frazer of the Madiana, who went ashore at St. Pierre and walked through the town, said: "It is impossible to describe the scene of desolation that the town presents; but it looks as if someone with a giant scythe had come and swept everything away. The slate-colored dust which covers everything gives the town the appearance of a sandy plain, without a shrub or brush to relieve the monotony."

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 3.—President Roosevelt has found a competent man willing to undergo the dangers of another eruption of Mont Pelee. He is John F. Newell of Galena, Ill., who today appeared before the board of officers at the state department and was examined to ascertain his fitness to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Consul Prentis at St. Pierre. His nomination will be sent to the senate tomorrow. The department wishes him to reach Fort de France as quickly as possible that he may relieve Consul Ayme, whose post is at Guadaloupe, and who has been compelled to attend not only to the consular business of his own island, but to that of Martinique as well.

FOUR BOLD MEN GAZE DOWN PELEE'S CRATER

They Were Heilprin, Kennan, Leadbetter and Varian—High Praise for the Philadelphian.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

FORT DE FRANCE, MARTINIQUE, June 3—(1 p. m.).—George Kennan, accompanied by Messrs. Jaccaci and Varian, arrived here at 11 o'clock this morning after an absence of 12 days. Prof. Angelo Heilprin, president of the Philadelphia Geographical society, who is in Martinique under the auspices of the National Geographical society, and Mr. Leadbetter are expected to reach Fort de France tonight.

Prof. Heilprin, Mr. Kennan and Mr. Varian have ascended Mont Pelee. They stood on the very edge of the crater and looked down on the incandescent mass within. This ascent was made last Sunday and it was the second time Prof. Heilprin climbed the mountain. Mr. Kennan said:

"I must preface all I have to say by paying the highest possible tribute to Prof. Heilprin. He is modest and brave, a superb mountaineer and the nerviest and plucktest man I ever knew. Prof. Heilprin's first ascent of Mont Pelee last Saturday with Mr. Leddbetter was a most awful experience, yet he started a second time undaunted.

"Five of us started for the crater of the volcano last Sunday and three of us reached our objective. We crossed Lake

Palmiste, which is now dry and full of boulders and huge, ragged rocks of trachyte, rhyolite and andesite. We then climbed on up and reached the edge of the crater. We found it to be a huge chasm or crevasse, with perpendicular walls. We could not see down into the crater more than 150 feet; it was like looking into a white-hot furnace. The chasm opens out toward St. Pierre, but the enormous columns of steam cut off the view in that direction.

"There were hundreds of fumaroles all about us. What was thought to be a cone of cinders in the crate was found to be a huge pile of gigantic rocks, piled up one upon the other. There were crusts of sulphur everywhere, but we saw no ashes or cinders in or near the crater. The whole vast bed of the old crater and of Lake Palmiste are emitting steam through thousands of orifices.

7 —SEVEN— 7

"The ascent to Lake Palmiste is up a long and sharp incline covered with ashes. These had been soaked by rain, and as we proceeded there were terrifying gorges full of hot, volcanic debris on each side of us.

A Terrifying Experience.

"Every footstep dislodged ashes and our footing was most insecure. There were also clouds of sulphurous smoke, through which the sunlight swept at intervals. The ascent was the most terrifying experience of my life, yes Prof. Heilprin, the previous day, had been enveloped in darkness on the lip of what had once been Lake Palmiste, and had descended the horrible Arete in a thunderstorm of volcanic clouds and almost complete darkness. Mr. Leadbetter was with him.

"The itinerary of our party was as follows: May 23 we went to Vive plantation, the property of Herman Clerc. Vive is on the river Capot, into which flows the river Failaise from the new crater. Vive is in the new volcanic area, and our position there was very dangerous. May 24 we went to Basse Pointe. On the 25th we went to St. Pierre and returned to Basse Pointe by way of Morne Rouge. Our party was the first to make this trip. We followed the old road to the point where the volcanic tornado had swept across it and from there we followed down the track of the tornado. The spectacle here was appalling. There were numberless bodies on every side.

The Eruption of the 26th.

"On the night of the 26th occurred the great explosion of the volcano. All that day Mont Pele had been emitting masses of yellow, mud-colored vapor. We now knew that this presages a serious explosion. We heard fearful detonations during the 26th, and huge columns of black smoke, alive with lightning-like terrifying flashes, rose from the crater. One column, which rose to the height of a mile and a half, was lit up like fire from the fierce reflection of the incandescent mass within the crater. The population of Vive plantation became panic-stricken at the eruption and went to Acier, two miles further away. Mr. Jaccaci and I returned to Vive. The day had been one of terrifying experiences and of inconceivable grandeur.

"Our party rested the 27th. Mr. Varian and Mr. Jaccaci were not well, and I was very shaky. The ash-laden water caused us digestive troubles.

"Another enormous explosion occurred the morning of the 28th, and Vive was declared to be untenable. We all abandoned the plantation, and taking furniture, bedding and provisions, we went to Acier, which from that day was our base.

Driven Back by a Storm.

"The 29th we spent at Morne Rouge, questioning eyewitnesses of the catastrophe of May 8. The 30th we tried to ascend to the crater from this side along the Cale Basse divide. From the crest of the divide we had a wonderful view of the awful Fallaise valley, which was a tremendous, seething gorge of terrible volcanic activity. We were driven back by a severe thunder storm and very nearly lost one another in the dense volcanic clouds. We planted a record stake at the highest point we reached, on which we inscribed our names.

"While at Morne Rouge we saw and interrogated the man who was rescued from the dungeon in St. Pierre, and who is the only real survivor of the city.

"On the 31st we returned to Acier and at 6:30 o'clock in the evening Prof. Heilprin and Mr. Leadbetter came down from their splendid attempt to reach the rim of the crater. Prof. Heilprin said he and Mr. Leadbetter had been enveloped in volcanic clouds and a thunderstorm, and that they, therefore, did not reach the actual edge of the crater itself. I fully realized Prof. Heilprin's danger the next day, when we made the ascent. He is a fearless scientist, and Mr. Leadbetter also deserves the highest praise.

Last Attempt on Sunday.

"On Sunday, the 1st of June, the five members of our party—Prof. Heilprin, Mr. Leadbetter, Mr. Jaccaci, Mr. Varian and myself—started to make the ascent. Mr. Jaccaci came down with mountain fever on the Arete, and Mr. Leadbetter became exhausted. They did not reach the crater. June 2 we rested and went to La Trinite, and today, the 3d, we are here, safe and sound.

"We had a good time and a hard time, both. Fern and Cleric were most kind to us. At Vive plantation we were well sheltered and had pretty good food, though the water was very bad. The traveling was exceedingly rough, trying and fatiguing. The vegetation was loaded with ashes, which fell upon us at the least touch. We were often exposed to great dangers, but, happily, there was not the slightest accident. I am now going to examine the Le Precheur area thoroughly.

"I forgot to say we planted another record stake alongside the crater on the summit.

Mont Pelee is quiet today, but great volumes of steam are issuing from the volcano. The lower mud craters are still pouring forth torrents. Le Precheur district is said to be caving in, but this report has not been verified.

DRIVERS ON STRIKE.

Thirty-Three Employes of United States Express Company Refuse to Work Longer.

Twenty-five drivers and eight platform men employed by the United States Express Company went on strike yesterday, and all day long and far into the night the business of the company was hampered. Agent J. D. Zimmerman said last night that he had engaged plenty of men to take the places of the strikers.

The striking employes received from $45 to $50 a month. Last Saturday they demanded $60 a month, shorter hours and a helper on the wagons, as the Adams and American Express Companies furnish helpers to their drivers. Mr. Zimmerman says he told the men that he had no authority to increase wages, but if they would incorporate their demands in a letter he would submit it to the general manager. This, he says, the men promised to do, but yesterday morning they refused to take out the wagons unless their demands were immediately granted.

CHANGE OF FIRM.

Liberty Clothing Company Absorbed by a Stock Company.

A great many persons in the two cities were surprised to read that the Liberty Clothing Company, of 646 Liberty street, went out of business May 31. However, it was not because of any lack of business that the dissolution of the firm occurred, but because the business had grown to such an extent as to make the formation of a stock company necessary to carry on the affairs of the establishment.

Since the day of the dissolution of the old firm the members of the Liberty Clothing Company, Incorporated, which is the title of the new concern, have been very busy reorganizing and shaping up things to effect some of the largest deals in clothing ever planned in this country.

The names of the officers and directors are: President, Sol Cohn; secretary and treasurer, L. E. Sugerman; directors, Henry Strelitz, Mitchel Strelitz, Philip Sugerman, W. E. Bingham.

There will be no change in location. The business will be carried on as heretofore at 646 Liberty street.

The Result in York.

YORK, June 3.—(Special.)—York county Republicans today went on record against the nomination of Attorney General Elkin, when in convention they elected six state delegates without instruction. The Elkin people surrendered, N. Sargent Ross, their leader, recording his opponent's nomination for presiding officer. Every one of the 217 delegates elected was present. Of this number but 63 voted for the Elkin slate. These delegates were elected: B. F. Payne, East Hopewell; W. H. Menges, Heidelberg; Arthur S. Keller, York; John McCoy, York; George W. Moore, Wrightsville; R. N. Meisenheider, Hanover.

HUNTINGDON, June 3.—(Special.)—Today's Republican county convention ratified the nominations made at Saturday night's primaries as follows: Governor, John P. Elkin; lieutenant governor, William M. Brown; secretary of internal affairs, Thad M. Mahon; congress, Howard E. Rutz; assembly, John C. Taylor and T. W. Montgomery; associate judge, W. H. Benson; delegates to state convention with Elkin instructions, W. T. Bell and C. C. Brewster. The nominees met at the close of the convention and re-elected A. S. Welch of Mt. Union chairman of the county committee.

LEWISTOWN, June 3.—The Mifflin county Republican convention declared Gen. John P. Taylor elected delegate to the state convention, he having no opposition. Resolutions of instruction for Elkin were tabled by a vote of 20 to 10. No instructions of any kind were passed.

A Watres Mass Meeting.

SCRANTON, June 3.—An enthusiastic public demonstration in behalf of the candidacy of Col. L. A. Watres for governor was held here tonight, the Lyceum theater being crowded by people eager to give their popular indorsement to their fellow citizen. Ex-Congressman Joseph A. Scranton, editor of the Republican, presided over the meeting and made the opening address, highly eulogizing Col. Watres. Other speakers were A. J. Colburn, Maj. Everett Warren, ex-Speaker Farr and John E. Barrett, editor of Truth. The meeting adopted resolutions indorsing Col. Watres.

EMPORIUM, June 3.—(Special.)—The Cameron county Republican convention elected George J. Labar of Emporium delegate to the state convention without instructions and unpledged. Capt. G. W. Barclay of Sinnamahoning was named for congress, with power to select delegates to the congressional convention. E. J. Jones of St. Marys was named for state senator, and G. L. Butler, V. K. Corbett and W. L. Thomas were elected delegates to the senatorial convention. National and state administrations and Congressman Sibley were strongly indorsed. The convention ignored the contest for governor.

Alleged Deal With Coal Operators.

PHILADELPHIA, June 3.—(Special.)—It is stated Gov. Stone has taken advantage of the anthracite coal strike to endeavor to advance the interests of Attorney General Elkin. It is alleged the coal operators informed the governor that they intend to operate the mines at once and that non-union men had been engaged for that purpose. The governor, it is said, was requested to have the national guard in readiness for an emergency.

Gov. Stone, it is alleged, urged the operators to delay action until after June 11, the date of the Republican state convention, promising, if this was done, to furnish all military assistance required. The governor explained, it is said, that if he were to act now the miners and workingmen generally would be so exasperated that Elkin's gubernatorial prospects would flash in the pan. An agreement, it is said, was reached along the lines suggested by Gov. Stone.

Orders to be in readiness for a sudden call have been received by officers of the First, Second, Third and Sixth regiments, and the local men are prepared for duty. They will hardly be called, however, until after the next governor has been nominated.

Mr. Durham said tonight Penrose would go to Harrisburg on Friday, Senator Quay on Saturday and he (Durham) on Sunday.

GERMANS TO JOIN IN.

Residents of Allegheny County Will Participate in the Fourth of July Celebration.

A great number of German-American representative citizens of Pittsburgh and Allegheny will hold a special meeting in the office of John Dimling in Market street at 1 o'clock this afternoon to complete arrangements for having the German population of Allegheny county take part in the great Fourth of July celebration that has been planned for Pittsburgh.

John Dimling, honorary member of the Saenger-Bund of North America, had a conference with Col. A. J. Logan, president of the Pittsburgh chamber of commerce and chairman of the arrangement committee for the Fourth of July celebration, yesterday afternoon. Mr. Dimling informed Col. Logan of the desire of the German-American residents of the two cities to participate in the exercises and Col. Logan was much pleased with the proposition.

The German-American residents all over the county are enthusiastic over the proposed visit of President Roosevelt to Pittsburgh on Independence Day and are extremely anxious to take part in the demonstration. At the meeting this afternoon committees will be appointed and an effort will be made to have the largest turnout of German-Americans in Pittsburgh on July 4 that has ever been seen in Pittsburgh.

was made permanent chairman. Albert York Smith and Richard Muse are the secretaries. These men were voted on for county committeemen with the following result: C. S. Crawford, 159; James J. Booth, 158; W. S. Haynes, 152; Harry Moore, 155; W. M. McCracken, 153; T. S. Bigelow, 157; Cadwalader Evans, 158; W. C. Reitz, 146; Walter Everson, 7; Thomas O'Brien, 12; Joseph Patton, 14, and Henry Stang, 9.

S. S. Leslie presented a resolution which was adopted. It thanked organized labor for the assistance given in the city fight and solicited the support of the trades unions in the fall. A pledge was given that union labor would be given the preference in all public work.

W. B. Rodgers was given a great ovation when requested to address the convention. He said: "We are going into the county fight to stop this eternal round of office holding in the court house. They are sitting in seats term after term as though they held them in perpetuity. There are hundreds of men in the county who are just as fit to fill the positions. Wisdom will not die with the present county officials.

Not Responsible to Bosses.

"We want men who are not responsible to any bosses. They are to be responsible to the people and owe no allegiance to any others. We want men in the legislature who will vote for ballot reform and vote for decency in government. We do not want men who can be dealt from one to another. They must be responsible to the people and not care for anyone, whether he be a governor or a United States senator.

"You judge men and parties by what they have done. Last February, in Pittsburgh, we elected a controller who controls. We also elected a common council and no job can go through this common council. Neither will any corporation be held up in this council, if it is asking for something right and just.

"We are against all assessments on police and firemen by the 'Yellow Book' or otherwise. The people of Pittsburgh are opposed to it. We say to the police and firemen that they are not obliged to put up any of their hard earned money for the benefit of they do not know who. Let them assert their right and the Citizens party will take care of them after next February. The outlook for November is most favorable. The people propose to do business then."

Rivalry in the Sixth.

The Sixth district convention was held at Citizens headquarters yesterday afternoon. John Campbell of Crafton, was elected permanent chairman over Thomas W. Conway by a majority of five votes. Robert W. Heath was made vice chairman and Charles D. Fetterman and H. L. Baker secretaries. A motion was offered by W. H. Pickler to exclude anyone from the county committee who now holds a political office. This was done to bar Senator John W. Crawford. The motion was lost. The convention then elected the four committeemen named above and defeated Senator Crawford, John M. Boyce, F. O. Wolff and T. E. Morgan.

N. G. Ayres was elected permanent chairman of the Seventh legislative convention which was held at Citizens headquarters. Robert Malone is vice chairman, George R. Wallace and J. T. Euwers secretaries. There was no opposition to the election of the four committeemen.

The Eighth district convention was held at city hall in the afternoon. George Hogg of Braddock is chairman, and W. J. Stoup and Dr. R. Lang are the secretaries. J. G. Messner, James Evans of McKeesport, and Walter Hansell were nominated for committeemen and the first two were elected.

Dr. Cadwalader Evans, who will be chairman of the county committee, says that the body will be organized either tomorrow or Thursday. He says that a resolution will be adopted preventing members of the committee from being candidates for any office. There will be a committee appointed to confer with Democrats on fusion. Aside from the nomination of Dalzell, no other places on the ticket will be filled until after the old organization has made its nominations.

SHOOTING ON HILLTOP.

Peculiar Affair Late Last Night Lands One Man in a Hospital and Another in Prison.

A mysterious shooting occurred in the rear of No. 4 Katherine street, Mt. Washington, about 11:15 o'clock last night, and as a result Lloyd Harding is in the Homeopathic hospital with a 32-caliber bullet in his left shoulder, and J. Clyde Boger of No. 8 Katherine street is a prisoner at No. 3 police station. Harding's wound is not thought to be serious, but this morning the physicians were unable to extract the bullet.

Harding lives with his sister, Mrs. F. W. Kahlert, and Boger resides with his parents two doors away. Last night Harding went to an outhouse and while inside was struck in the left shoulder by a bullet. He ran out of the building and as he stepped out of the door another shot was fired. Harding says the bullet came from the window in a rear second-story room of the Boger home and that after the second shot was fired the curtain was hastily pulled down to conceal the light and person in the room.

Boger, who is 18 years old, when arrested by Policeman John McPoland said he was shooting at dogs in the Kahlert yard. He was taken to the police station and charged with being a suspicious person.

by's place of residence, although they searched in vain among the Polish people in this city. Supt. John McAleese said it might take several weeks to find his rooms, but they will ultimately be located. Durby is untruthful in all his statements. He told the officers he lived at Forty-first and Butler streets. An officer was detailed there in the afternoon, but was unable to find anyone that knew anything of Durby.

There were other articles found on Durby that may lead to further identification. There is a small morocco pocketbook, a pair of cuff buttons and a cigar case. There were several small bits of down found on Durby's hat when he was arrested. McAleese said this was enough to send him to jail, considering the circumstances under which he was arrested.

McAleese says Durby can be sent to the penitentiary for 33 years on charges that will probably be lodged against him.

The damage done by the slasher in the two weeks he has been operating is estimated as follows:

Queen Quality Shoes.

Boots (regulation shoes), $3, $3.50.
Oxfords (low cut shoes), $2.50, $3.

The Boston makers of this delightful shoe, searching for an appropriate name with which to christen it, happily lighted upon that of Queen Quality, and chose as its symbol of goodness the picture of the beloved Louise of Prussia, great-graudmother of the present emperor of Germany. All that is good and beautiful in womanhood was represented by Queen Louise: all that is comforting and graceful to the feminine foot is represented by Queen Quality. No shoe made for women ever had such sale; no shoe fashioned for women ever gave such universal satisfaction. Since we took up this gracious queen of the shoe world some two years back the sales have been remarkable—almost phenomenal.

Just now Queen Quality Oxfords are the most called for—especially the one made of patent ideal kid. Women who would like to wear patent leather, but have the notion that they can't, should certainly give this soft, lustrous kid a trial. For tender feet it is a most comforting leather—for every foot it is, as the name implies, ideal.

PENN AND FIFTH.

B. P. O. E. TEMPLE CHRISTENED BY MERRY CROWD

Brilliant Scene at the First Ball in the New Structure.

DEDICATION CAME FIRST

Before That, Pittsburgh Lodge No. 11 and Hundreds of Visiting Friends from Neighboring Cities Marched Through the Streets.

The dedicatory exercises of the new temple of Pittsburgh lodge No. 11, at Fifth avenue and Jumonville street, came to a glorious triumph last night with a magnificent ball and banquet in the temple. The supper was served on the lower floor in the room usually used as a rathskeller. The lodge room, gleaming with lights, with a splendid hard wood floor, was used for the ball.

It was a great day for the members of Pittsburgh No. 11. The celebration started in the morning with a parade and ended last night with the ball. All day long the festivities continued, each more diverting than its predecessor. After the ceremony in the afternoon, at which time the whole house was cleaned for the ball, beautiful floral decorations were placed about, so that when the guests arrived in the evening the house was a bower of beauty.

Guests walked to the door under the awning, which protected them from the gaze of the curious, who thronged the streets on each side of the house until late at night. Once inside the guests were conducted to cloak rooms, where their hats and wraps could be disposed of. All about the house were flowers and bunches of cool green palms and ferns.

Scene in Ball Room.

The ball room was brilliant with its galaxy of electric lights, its bowers of green and its parties of fair women, clad in cool looking gowns becoming to the season. In the center of the room glowed a great chandelier of brass and elk horns, studded here and there with electric lights. The stage, on which sat the orchestra, was bowered with palms and ferns, presenting a very pretty picture from the floor.

The guests began arriving shortly after 8 o'clock and by 9, or shortly after, the house was thronged. The overture was played and a few of the more impatient young people could not keep from dancing. Finally the grand march was called, and after a little delay was started, with James E. O'Donnell, exalted ruler, and his sister, Miss O'Donnell, in the lead. Couple after couple followed about the floor, turning and twisting here and there, until with four couples marching abreast they stopped and formed into sets for a quadrille.

It was very warm but the younger people danced indefatigably. About 10 o'clock supper started in the lower room and made dancing in the hall a little easier and more comfortable.

On the lower floor also the decorations had been carried out. The supper room was very pretty, tables seating four people being placed in regular lines, set with handsome china and cut glass, all gleaming under the electric lights. Palms in the corners made the room look cool and inviting. A fine supper was served quickly, allowing the people to return to the ballroom for further dancing with little delay. In fact, the ball did not break up until nearly morning.

The members of Pittsburgh No. 11 were delighted with the success of the evening's entertainment. The entertainment committee which had the affair in charge was congratulated on all sides, especially James F. Dunlevy, its chairman, to whose efforts much of the success was laid.

The celebration attending the dedication of the new temple will continue today, with trips about the city for the visitors, a visit to Allegheny lodge, and in the evening a social session in the new temple for Elks alone, no women being admitted. This social session will practically terminate the celebration.

Exercises of the Day.

The festivities last night were but the culmination of a day of rejoicing beginning with a parade yesterday morning. The parade formed at Water and Smithfield streets, and started from there at 11 o'clock, proceeding along Smithfield street to Seventh avenue, to Liberty avenue, to Ninth street, across the bridge to Anderson street, to Church avenue, to Cedar avenue, to Ohio street, to Federal street, across the Sixth street bridge, up Sixth street, to Liberty avenue, to Fifth avenue, to Stevenson street, to Forbes street, and disbanded at Turner hall, near Magee street.

It is estimated that there were between 1,500 and 2,000 men in line, many out-of-town lodges being represented. Among the out-of-town lodges which took part in the parade were Homestead, McKeesport, Wilkinsburg, East Liverpool, O., Bellaire, O., Wheeling, W. Va., Sistersville, W. Va., Apollo, Pa., and Rochester, Pa. Many were uniformed, generally with purple and white colors prominent.

Col. J. H. Corbett was chief marshall, and, with 20 mounted aids, led the procession, followed by the Fourteenth Regiment band and about 120 of the Pittsburgh Academy cadets.

Then came 400 members of Pittsburgh No. 11, the hosts of the day, after which other lodges, accompanied by their bands, followed in goodly number. At Forbes and Stevenson streets, Col. Corbett and his aids reviewed the column.

The parade was the largest ever held by the Elks in this part of Pennsylvania, and was generally voted a great success. Turner hall had been engaged for the day, and the bands and the Pittsburgh Academy cadets were taken there for refreshment after the parade disbanded.

Almost all day hundreds of people thronged the new temple, going from room to room and admiring its beauties. Many women and children passed under the awning which covered the walk from street to porch, and many of the out-of-town Elks looked about and then congratulated the nearest member of Pittsburgh lodge on having such a handsome home.

The dedicatory exercises, which are the occasion for all this celebration, were scheduled to begin at 3 o'clock, but it was considerably after 4 before any start was made. At that time the hall was well filled and Exalted Ruler James E. O'Donnell called the gathering to order. District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler Harry T. Howe was brought in by the officers of Pittsburgh lodge, who then took their places about the room.

New Temple Dedicated.

The dedication ritual was taken up by District Deputy Howe, and the officers of the lodge and the pyramid representing "Charity," "Justice," "Brotherly Love" and "Fidelity" was duly erected on the altar. The officers of the lodge taking part in the dedication were, besides District Deputy Howe, Exalted Ruler James E. O'Donnell, Esteemed Leading Knight E. J. Small, Esteemed Loyal Knight William H. Hare, Esteemed Lecturing Knight A. B. Blanchard, Grand Inner Guard James A. Cavanaugh, Grand Treasurer L. W. Vilsack, Jr., and Grand Secretary Ferdinand Fuhrer.

After the ritual had been completed, which makes a very pretty, though very plain service, addresses were made by Grand Secretary George A. Reynolds of Saginaw, Mich.; A. V. Winternitz, past exalted ruler of the New Castle lodge; District Deputy Charles E. Bair of Oil City, Charles A. Ashley of Homestead, and several others.

PETER HIGGINS' FRIENDS THINK HE WAS KILLED

Murder Theory Has Been Advanced and Will Be Investigated.

CORONER NOT NOTIFIED

When Remains Are Disinterred and Properly Buried an Investigation Will Be Made—Certificate Given When Remains Were Not Viewed.

The alleged mystery surrounding the death of Peter Higgins at the home of his sister, Annie Higgins, No. 2932 Mulberry alley, on May 23, may soon be solved. Friends and relatives will have his remains removed from a single grave in Calvary cemetery and interred in a special lot in the same burying ground.

When the removal is made physicians will make an examination to ascertain the real cause of death. It is the intention of the relatives and friends to ask Coroner McGeary to hold an examination.

Friends of the dead man believe he was murdered. Before Higgins was buried friends claim to have found holes in the back of his head, while his face was badly bruised and scratched.

For eight months prior to his death Peter Higgins lived with his sister in Mulberry alley. Patrick Higgins, a brother, also lived with Peter and his sister. For several days previous to Peter's demise it is said the trio drank heavily and quarrelled. The day before Peter died his brother Patrick called on him. He was in bed, but Patrick insisted he should get up and go out with him, which he did.

Peter Higgins is supposed to have been worth on January 1 about $5,000, but on account of drink it is said his savings dwindled until they amounted to only a few hundred dollars before his death.

Peter and Patrick returned early in the afternoon in a carriage. Peter was unable to walk and Patrick and several of the neighbors helped him to bed. At 3:45 o'clock the next afternoon Peter died.

Dr. J. M. Russell of No. 2908 Penn avenue, was called to visit him. Dr. Russell said last night that he found the man suffering from acute gastritis. When Dr. Russell was asked by Patrick Higgins on the night of the day Peter died for a death certificate, he wrote one without going to the house to learn if the man was dead. The disease given on the death certificate was "acute gastritis or peritonitis." After he had given the death certificate Dr. Russell told Patrick Higgins to notify the coroner.

The first person to question the truthfulness of the death certificate was Mrs. Fannie Kirchern of the South Side, a cousin of the dead man. She stated openly at the funeral that it was her belief that Peter had been murdered.

For over 10 years Peter Higgins boarded with the family of John Routley. Mrs. Sadie Gernert of Hazelwood was Higgins' favorite member of the Routley family. Mrs. Gernert saw the body at McCabe's undertaking rooms. Last night Mrs. Gernert said: "I will always believe Peter Higgins did not die a natural death. We examined his body after he was dead and I have the best grounds in the world for making such a statement. In the back of his head were two large holes. His head was badly bruised in many places and his face was scratched and badly colored. There was every evidence to my mind of foul play."

In discussing Higgins' death last night, Dr. J. M. Russell said: "I know absolutely nothing of how Peter Higgins died. I had been attending him off and on for several months for stomach trouble and was called to the house on the Monday before he died. I did not see him again, but Thursday evening his brother, Patrick, told me Peter was dead and he wanted a death certificate. I gave him one and told him if Peter had died suddenly he had better notify the coroner."

Peter Higgins was 57 years old. He was born in Ireland and came to Pittsburgh over 40 years ago. He worked in several mills in the South Side before starting a store. When he had gathered together enough money he sent for his mother, sister and brother in Ireland.

LADIES ELECT OFFICERS FOR HAWKINS HOME

Pittsburgh and Allegheny Women Are Chosen at Gettysburg.

MANY VETERANS MEET

Fully 2,500 Old Soldiers Are in Attendance at the Annual State Encampment—Butler Man a Candidate for Commander.

Gettysburg, Pa., June 3.—Fully 2,500 veterans are gathered here for their 36th annual state encampment and 800 women are present for the conventions of the auxiliary societies, the Ladies of the G. A. R. and the Women's Relief corps.

The Ladies of the G. A. R. held their first business session today, at which Miss Daisy Thorne delivered the address of welcome, which was responded to by Mrs. Roach of Scranton, president of the order.

The following officers were elected to take charge of the Old Ladies home at Hawkins station: President, Mrs. E. G. Collingwood, Pittsburgh; senior vice president, Mrs. Kate Kirker, Allegheny; junior vice president, Mrs. Susan Sloan, Allegheny; secretary, Mrs. C. N. Sheriff, Allegheny; treasurer, Mrs. Joseph Sticker, Pittsburgh. The home board was elected and a report received showing $2,000 of debt was paid off, which, with the $5,000 appropriation from the state, reduces the debt to $12,000. A reception was tendered by the retiring officers of the association tonight.

The encampment opened this evening with a camp fire in Xavier hall. W. C. Sheafly welcomed the veterans. The evening was then spent in war reminiscences.

The election of department commander engages the interest of all. Congressman Mahon, a member of the One Hundred and Twenty-sixth Pennsylvania volunteers and the Twenty-first Pennsylvania cavalry, was the first to announce his candidacy. Robert P. Scott of Butler, a member of the Seventy-eighth Pennsylvania volunteers, is making a stubborn fight.

The western delegates claim it is their turn for department commander, and are leaving no stone unturned to secure votes. This afternoon the survivors of the One Hundred and Eighty-seventh Pennsylvania volunteers held their annual reunion in Brua chapel. The speakers were: Department Commander Loyd G. McCauley, Dr. H. W. McKnight, Capt. G. Lovett, Lieut. S. C. Elginfrit, Col. H. C. Demming and J. M. Gibbs.

INDIANA, PA., June 3.—(Special.)—A stormy session of the Democratic county convention today nominated J. A. Campbell over C. F. Murray for county commissioner. Harvey Buchanan was nominated for auditor and J. H. Engle was elected state delegate. J. Wood Clark was re-elected county chairman and he will name a committee who will appoint the remainder of the county ticket. A resolution instructing the delegates to support the candidacy of Robert E. Pattison was tabled by a very close vote. Chairman Clark has been acting as field manager for George W. Guthrie of Pittsburgh in his fight for the gubernatorial nomination.

WEST CHESTER, PA., June 3.—The Chester county Democratic convention today elected the following delegates to the state convention: J. D. Moore, Phoenixville; Col. A. M. Holding, West Chester, and D. S. Wright, Phoenixville. An effort to instruct the delegates how they should vote on the gubernatorial nomination threw the convention into confusion and adjournment was taken without reaching any expression.

"LADY OF LYONS."

A Beautiful and Interesting Revival of Bulwer Lytton's Old Play.

It has been some years since Pittsburgh has had a revival of Bulwer Lytton's old comedy of love, "The Lady of Lyons." The play has never lost its popularity, however, with many theatergoers and to this was added last evening the attraction of a cast that contained the names of some of the most popular players on the American stage. Miss Mary Mannering and Mr. Kyrie Bellew were the principals and they were surrounded by such well-known people as Edwin Arden, Maclyn Arbuckle, Brandon Tynan, W. H. Thompson, Edward Abeles and W. G. Jones. As Pauline Deschapplles Miss Mannering was charming to look upon and delightful as an actress in the lighter moments of the play. In the demand for strong emotionalism there was a lack of distinction, which must be set down to the limitations of Miss Mannering's art, which is that of a comedienne. In the tragic interview with Melnotte in the cottage after the revelation of the trick that had been played upon her, the fair Pauline came perilously near to eating, but so gracefully does Miss Mannering attempt even that which she cannot do and so pleasing is she always to the eye that it would be a churlish critic indeed who would pick flaws in an impersonation that was in every other particular brimming over with the charm of this tender lady's appealing personality.

Mr. Bellew as Claude Melnotte was distinguished and resourceful. The grandy-stilted lines of this ornate love romance suits admirably the posing and attitudinizing ideal of the matinee girls. Mr. Bellew looked the love-lorn gardener's son to the life and he elocutionized his lines with all the tender and turgid force that Bulwer's lover is supposed to have assumed in the flesh.

The character is an overwrought and lackadaisical one and might easily be made ridiculous. Mr. Bellew's polished art saves it from this and his reading of the love passages was in some instances distinguished for taste and refinement. True stars both received the most enthusiastic applause and at the end of each act were called to the footlights again and again. Of the cast Mr. Arbuckle's work as Col. Damas was clever and tinged with a rugged comedy that was most enjoyable. Edwin Arden was capable, but not great as Beausant. Mrs. W. G. Jones made a truly delightful Mother Melnotte and was chirpy and cheerful or tenderly mournful as the occasion demanded. The small part of Gaspar, played by Brandon Tynan, was made a standout by reason of his vigorous and accurate rendering. W. H. Thompson, Edward Abeles, Kate Pattison Selton and Russell Crawford gave excellent support. The revival has been made in sumptuous manner, the stage settings and costuming being very beautiful.

SWINDLED WHILE HYPNOTIZED.

An Ohio Farmer Gives His Promissory Note to a Stranger.

STEUBENVILLE, O., June 3.—(Special.)—While under hypnotic influence, Zadoc Burriss, an old and prominent farmer of Smithfield township, this county, signed a note for either $2,250 or $2,700, at the command of a confidence man, who gave his name as Raper. Mrs. Burriss did all in her power to prevent her husband from attaching his signature. She says the man had the strangest pair of eyes she ever saw.

In spite of the woman's protests, the man took the note and drove away, and she is not sure but that it was for $2,700. Mr. Burriss warns people against buying any note purporting to have been signed by him.

J. T. MORGAN'S LIFE LONG FIGHT IS NEARLY OVER

After Fifty Years of Struggle for Nicaragua Canal, Victory Seems Near.

FINAL BATTLE HAS BEGUN

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., June 3.—The senate today disposed of the Philippine government bill by passing it, and began its wrestle with the Isthmian canal question.

The vote on the Philippine bill was 48 yeas to 30 nays. Three Republicans—Messrs. Hoar of Massachusetts, Mason of Illinois and Wellington of Maryland—voted against the measure, and one Democrat, Mr. McLaurin of South Carolina voted for it. All amendments offered by the minority were rejected.

"We are certain to get canal legislation," said Senator Morgan this afternoon. "It will be final at this session. I believe Nicaragua will win."

The Hepburn Nicaragua canal bill, of which Mr. Morgan is the champion in the senate, was brought up for consideration immediately after the passage of the Philippine bill. Never before in the history, covering a long period of years, of American effort to get an American canal has the project been so far advanced as it is tonight. It has been reported favorably by the senate committee on interoceanic canals. It is now the order of business in the senate, and it will be made the special order for each legislative day until disposed of.

Almost a Lifelong Fight.

For nearly 50 years Senator Morgan has been struggling for an Isthmian canal. For the first time in all this long fight he expressed hope of success tonight, and could see the way clear for the final passage of the bill. Friends of Nicaragua go into the fight claiming over 50 votes in favor of their proposition. The only danger they anticipate is the setting aside of the bill temporarily for consideration of the Cuban reciprocity bill.

The debate on the Philippine measure has been in progress seven weeks and two days. Just at the close of the discussion today a sharp exchange occurred between Mr. Dietrich of Nebraska and Mr. Patterson of Colorado, in the course of which Dietrich reflected caustically upon the Colorado senator. He was called to order, his remarks were read and he was declared to have been out of order in uttering them. He withdrew his statement, thus ending the controversy.

Mr. Quay offered an amendment providing that the duty on imports to the United States from the Philippines—products of the islands—shall be 50 per cent of the rate of duty charged on similar imports from other countries. The amendment was rejected, 19 to 56, the detailed vote being:

Vote on Quay's Amendment.

Yeas—Bacon, Bailey, Bate, Berry, Blackburn, Clapp, Clay, Cockrell, Dubois, Foraker, Gallinger, Gibson, Hettfeld, Martin, Mitchell, Morgan, Nelson, Quay, Tillman—19.

Nays—Allison, Bard, Beveridge, Burnham, Burrows, Button, Carmack, Clark (Mont.), Clark (Wyo.), Culberson, Cullom, Deboe, Dietrich, Dillingham, Dolliver, Elkins, Fairbanks, Foster (La.), Foster (Wash.), Frye, Gardner, Hanna, Harris, Hawley, Jones (Nev.), Kean, Kearns, Kittredge, Lodge, McComas, McCumber, McEnery, McLaurin (Miss.), McLaurin (S. C.), McMillan, Mallory, Millard, Money, Patterson, Perkins, Platt, (Conn.), Platt (N. Y.), Pritchard, Proctor, Quarles, Scott, Simmons, Simon, Spooner, Stewart, Taliaferro, Teller, Vest, Warren, Wellington, Wetmore—56.

The Philippine government bill approves the action of the president in creating the Philippine commission and the offices of civil governor and vice-governor of the islands and authorizes the governor and vice-governor to exercise the powers of government as directed by executive order. The "bill of rights" of the United States Constitution are applied to the Philippine Islands, except the right to bear arms and the right to trial by jury.

All the inhabitants of the Philippine islands are deemed to be citizens of the Philippine Islands and entitled to the protection of the United States.

After Peace Is Complete.

When the insurrection in the islands shall have been subdued a careful census of the islands shall be taken, and after such census the governor of the islands shall make a full report to the president and make recommendations as to future government. Meanwhile the Philippine commission is authorized to establish municipal and provincial governments with popular representative government so far and as fast as the communities are capable and fit for the same, the Philippine commission being authorized to determine the qualifications of the electors.

The Philippine commission is authorized to acquire the friar lands and is empowered to issue bonds to pay for them. These lands, once acquired, shall be a part of the domain of the United States and may be disposed of as such.

The Philippine government is authorized to coin a silver dollar containing 416 grains of standard silver, to be a coin of the Philippine islands, the denomination of the coin to be expressed in English, Filipino and Chinese characters.

The bill continues the division of insular affairs of the war department, the chief of which shall have the rank of a colonel of the United States army.

AGAINST ANARCHISM

House Committee Reports a Substitute for Senate Measure, Considering Latter Unconstitutional.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 3.—The house today began consideration of the anti-anarchy bill. The house committee reported a substitute for the senate measure. Mr. Ray of New York, chairman of the judiciary committee, who was in charge of the bill, argued that the senate bill is unconstitutional.

Mr. Lanham of Texas supported the feature of the bill to exclude anarchists, but opposed that making it a particular offense to kill the president or any one in the line of the presidential succession. He argued that every man was equal before the law, and that existing laws are ample to punish the killing or attempted killing of the president.

POSTAL MATTERS.

McKinley's Friend, Postmaster at Apollo, to Lose His Place.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 3.—(Special.)—Representative Jack has recommended the appointment of Maj. T. A. Cochran to be postmaster at Apollo at $1,500 a year, vice Thomas J. Johnston. Mr. Johnston formerly lived in Canton, O., and had a personal acquaintance with the late President McKinley. This led to McKinley's persuading the then Representative Robbins to recommend Mr. Johnston to the office. The same reasons do not now exist, though it is said there are no objections to Mr. Johnston's record as postmaster.

The following West Virginia postmasters were appointed today: Crown Hill, Kanawha county, W. F. Hays; Renicks Valley, Greenbrier county, A. M. Chappell.

The salary of the postmaster at Crafton, Pa., will be increased on July 1 from $1,000 to $1,100 a year.

The postoffices of Burdette, Eno and Vido, Greene county, Pa., will be superseded on June 30 by a rural delivery service.

LOOPHOLE IN THE LAW.

Pacific Coast Men and Labor Leaders Ask for Amendment of Chinese Exclusion Act.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 3.—(Special.)—Alarm has been sounded by Pacific coast senators and labor leaders over what they regard as a loophole in the recently-enacted Chinese exclusion law. The words of the new act which trouble them are, "So far as the same are not inconsistent with treaty obligations." Does this mean "with China" or with all nations"? If the latter, as attorneys for the Chinese assert, the Chinese residents of Hong-Kong who have become British subjects might come in here freely, and some Central American country might go into the business of naturalizing Chinese on easy terms to take advantage of our treaty with such a country.

The treasury holds that treaty obligations with China are understood from the context in the new law, and, accordingly, exclude persons of the Chinese race, wherever they come from, unless they meet the conditions laid down by law. This was the interpretation made by Assistant Secretary Taylor and submitted by him to Acting Solicitor Reeve, who gave an opinion on the same side.

The Chinese, doubtless, will take the matter to the courts unless in the meantime congress regards the point as serious enough to pass amendatory legislation at this session. Senator Turner of Washington already has introduced a bill to do this.

NATIONAL CAPITAL NOTES.

The house adopted the conference report on the river and harbor bill, which now goes to the president.

Senator Hanna is in great demand as a campaign orator. He is wanted especially in Maine and West Virginia.

Under the new war medal bill proposed by the administration, over 25,000 of these medals would come to Pennsylvania soldiers.

By a vote of seven to five the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce agreed to report the Nelson bill for a department of commerce.

By a party vote the house military affairs committee decided to table the resolution asking for information concerning expenditures in Cuba. The Democrats gave notice of a minority report.

Internal Revenue Collector Heiner for Western Pennsylvania, at the treasury department, protested against a general dismissal of employes whose employment was required by war taxes. He found that at least two of his field deputies and two or three of his office deputies will be dismissed.

Mr. Hale from the senate committe on naval affairs reported the naval appropriation bill. The amendments in favor of the new vessels recommended by the house and at the prices fixed in the house bill, but strikes out the provision that half the vessels shall be built in government yards.

DAIRYMEN MEET.

Milk Producers' Directors Beginning to Arrange for First Annual Meeting Here in September.

The regular meeting of the directors of the Milk Producers' association of Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio was held yesterday afternoon at the Home hotel. Besides transacting routine business the board ordered that arrangements for the first annual meeting of the association, to be held in Pittsburgh beginning on the first Tuesday in September, be begun.

There are now 485 members in the association, 31 having been admitted yesterday, but it is expected that fully 1,000 dairymen will attend the convention. Papers will be read by members of the association and scientific men connected with the pure food departments of Ohio and Pennsylvania will lecture.

At yesterday's meeting of the board it was decided that the association shall have a distinctive mark, the letter "A," which will be stamped on the topmost hoop of each can. This is to insure prompter return of the cans. A committee consisting of A. Kornman of Rochester, J. W. Wallace of Bishop and C. S. Dean of Freedom, was appointed to secure a hall for the meeting of the association in September. The next meeting of the board will be held on the second Tuesday in August, when final preparation for the convention will be made.

SENATE CAUCUS ON RECIPROCITY QUITE PROBABLE

Leaders Yet Hope to Pass the Measure by a Republican Majority.

NO SPLIT IS RECOGNIZED

Party Decision Not to Meddle With Tariff Schedules, Applies to Present Session Only—The Question Likely to Be Considered Later On.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
603 Fifteenth St., N. W.,
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 3, 1902.

The opinion still prevails among Republican leaders of the senate that a Republican majority will be obtained for the Cuban reciprocity bill, notwithstanding the opposition of some Republicans to any plan except the rebate scheme. Of the 18 Republicans who yesterday conferred and expressed their preference for the rebate it is known that a number will not hold out against the wishes of a majority of their colleagues and of the administration.

It is thought now that a caucus will be called at an early day. The managers of the bill are not pushing their cause against the wishes or protests of their colleagues. They do not realize that a split exists among the Republicans of the senate, and do not purpose to have a split. They are trying to work out a business-like plan which will meet with the concurrence of a Republican majority of the senate.

Senator Dietrich of Nebraska, who stands with the beet sugar interests, today introduced a compromise bill. It provides that the differential on refined sugar shall be abolished, but that an equal amount shall be added to the duty on raw sugars, and then it gives Cuba a 25 per cent reduction from this increased duty.

Senators and representatives who believe there should be revision of the tariff law earnestly discussed today the conference which was held at the White House last night between the president and some of the Republican leaders in the house and senate.

The tendencies disclosed at last night's conference against any revision of tariff schedules apply only to the present session of congress, and are due to the belief that it would be inexpedient at this late day in the session to enter upon such an important field as a revision of tariff schedules. At the same time, it is said, there was no determination that the Dingley schedules would stand indefinitely, but, rather, to await the next session, or the next congress, before considering how far new conditions warrant a revision. Some division of opinion was developed as to what schedules should be touched.

It was brought out in the discussion that the men of strong protection views, like Senator Platt of Connecticut, Senator Hanna and Representative Dalzell, are not so much disposed toward a change as are some of the others present, including the president, Senators Allison, Spooner and Aldrich and Representatives Babcock and Overstreet.

Grain Tax to Remain.

THE REV. W. J. REID, SR.
Pastor of the First United Presbyterian Church, Oakland, Who Has Been Forced to Retire Owing to Ill-Health.

DR. REID FORCED BY ILLNESS TO STOP ALL WORK

From Now on, His Son Will Be Pastor of First U. P. Church.

SORROW IN ASSEMBLY

The Rev. Dr. Charles E. Dickey Paid a Beautiful Tribute to the Venerable United Presbyterian Before the General Assembly.

After twoscore years devoted to the ministry of the United Presbyterian church the Rev. Dr. William J. Reid, Sr., pastor of the First United Presbyterian church, Oakland, has practically retired from the active duties of his calling. From now on his son, the Rev. W. J. Reid, Jr., will assume the more active work of the congregation, pending the formal announcement of his retirement, which will probably be made this summer. This decisive step in Dr. Reid's career has been taken at the urgent demand of his physician, Dr. Edwin Zugsmith, who yesterday announced that Mr. Reid's present condition demands his absolute retirement from all active duties. Dr. Reid's ambition was to be able to prosecute his duties as principal clerk of the general assembly throughout the entire forty-fourth session, but the excessive heat of the past few days, coupled with his physical ailments, began to tell after the first day's arduous work.

Resignation Not Yet Accepted.

Monday morning his condition became alarming to his friends and he was urged to tender his resignation of a position he has held since 1875. There is a committee now out deliberating about the acceptance of this, and, as yet, it has failed to take any definite action, largely because the assembly itself is unwilling to see Dr. Reid mustered out without some special effort being made to retain him. There is a tendency to nominate his son to the position in recognition of his valuable services. From the platform of the assembly church yesterday afternoon a beautiful tribute was paid to Dr. Reid by the Rev. Dr. Charles E. Dickey, ex-moderator of the Presbyterian general assembly, who had been invited to speak. "I have looked, and looked in vain," he said, during the course of his speech, "for the face of my tenderest friend, that great United Presbyterian, Dr. William J. Reid. I am sorry that so dear a face is missing today. Let me tell you in all truth the United Presbyterian church has no grander man in its ranks, no stronger pillar of its principles, no more fervent minister than Dr. Reid."

Deep Sympathy Manifested.

There was a deep sympathy manifested yesterday by every commissioner to the assembly when it was announced that Dr. Reid had been ordered to bed, as it was taken as intimating that his condition was serious. However, yesterday evening he was able to be about the house, but has agreed to the wishes of his physician in the matter of retiring. Dr. Reid's son stated yesterday to The Gazette reporter that his father had now done his work for the church and needed a long rest.

"We hope that my father may thus be spared to us," he continued, "by placing the burden of the elder's work on the shoulders of the son. We have frequently advised him to retire, but he wants to die in the harness."

Dr. Reid, on the 6th of April last, celebrated the 40th anniversary of his pastorate and ministry.

Had Many Other Duties.

Besides being past of the First church Dr. Reid found time to look after the editorial department of the United Presbyterian and likewise teach a Bible class on Saturdays at the Young Men's Christian association. He was born in Washington county, N. Y., in 1824, and licensed in 1861. On April 7 of the following year he was ordained and received a call to the First church, of which he is now pastor. The history of the First church is part and parcel of the history of United Presbyterianism, and it is one of the old landmarks of the faith. Several years ago the old structure was abandoned and one of the finest edifices in the two cities built in its stead. It faces Fifth avenue within a stone's throw of Schenley park and is one of the imposing sights of that district. Dr. Reid was at one time secretary of the board of home missions, and was also delegate to the Pan-Presbyterian council in 1884.

Children Killed In Riots.

VIENNA, June 3.—There were further strike riots at Lemberg, Galicia, last night, during which a detachment of hussars charged a mob. It is reported that several children were killed. A number of persons wounded during yesterday's riots have died in the hospitals.

Many quiet sufferers from headache, heartache and home cares, can find sure relief in Dr. D. Jayne's Tonic Vermifuge.

NEW RECORD TO BE ESTABLISHED ON THE P. R. R.

Time Between New York and Chicago to Be Twenty Hours.

WILL START ON JUNE 15

Limited Train to Be Called the Pennsylvania Flyer Will Make an Average Speed of 48 Miles an Hour for 912 Miles.

The Pennsylvania and the New York Central lines will inaugurate, on June 15, the long-discussed fast service between New York and Chicago. The trains will be scheduled to make the distance in 20 hours, which on the Pennsylvania is an average of about 46 miles an hour, the distance being 912 miles. The New York Central-Lake Shore route, which is longer, will require an average speed of about 48 miles an hour.

The trains will make the fastest runs for the distance on any schedule in the world. A still greater speed is to be looked for within a few months, if the patronage of the trains justifies it and the schedule is proved a practicable one. An 18-hour train between the two great commercial centers is believed to be in store for the near future. The "Empire State Express" of the New York Central, between New York and Buffalo, runs already on a faster schedule than this.

It is an entirely new train that the Pennsylvania will initiate in this 20-hour schedule. Official announcement of the intentions of the railroad and the lines west of Pittsburgh to start the service was made yesterday by the passenger departments at Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

New Train a Light One.

The new train will not replace any of those now in service. It will be known as the "Pennsylvania Special." It will be composed of a Pullman combination smoking and baggage car, a dining car, a Pullman drawing room sleeping car and a Pullman compartment car. It will be run every day. The trains will be hauled by the great E-2 Atantic type passenger engines of the road, which have demonstrated themselves the speediest engines in the world. The maximum scheduled speed will be 52.6 miles an hour and the minimum 44.6.

The train will leave the West Twenty-third street station of the Pennsylvania at New York at 1:55 p. m., eastern time; Philadelphia, 4 p. m.; Harisburg, 6:05 p. m.; Altoona, 8:45 p. m., and arrive at Pittsburgh at 11:20 p. m. its stop here will be but for a few minutes necessary for the unloading and loading of passengers and the change of engines, five minutes being the probable time. Leaving Pittsburgh at 10:25, central time, it will arrive at Chicago at 8:35 a. m., the only stops on the way being at Alliance, Crestline and Ft. Wayne. The exact time at which the train will reach these intermediate points is not yet settled, but will be announced today or tomorrow.

The East-Bound Schedule.

The eastbound train will leave Chicago at 12, noon, central time, make the same stops between Chicago and this city as the westbound train, and reach Pittsburgh at 11:20 eastern time, so that the east and westbound trains will be in Pittsburgh at the same moment and will pass in the Union station. Continuing east, the train will leave Altoona at 2:05 p. m.; Harrisburg, 4:45 a. m.; arrive at Philadelphia at 7 a. m., and New York at 9 a. m.

The train is intended primarily for the swell New York-Chicago patronage and an excess fare of $8 on through tickets will be charged. This excess fare is added by an agreement between the lines connecting New York and Chicago. In order to give the weaker lines a show and thus keep them from cutting rates the strong roads agreed to make the standard time 28 hours and to add $1 an hour to the price of a through ticket for each hour under that time. The new schedule being eight hours faster than the standard, the excess fare is $8. The excess fare between Philadelphia and Chicago will be $6 and $4 between New York and Pittsburgh.

The Twentieth Century.

The New York Central-Lake Shore train will be called the "Twentieth Century." It will leave the Grand Central station in New York at 2:45 p. m., eastern time, and reach Chicago at 9:45 central time, the next morning, passing Buffalo at 11:45 p. m. Returning it will leave the Grand Central station, Chicago, at 12:30 p. m. central time, and arrive in New York at 9:30 a. m., eastern time, passing Buffalo at 12:30 midnight. The train will consist of five cars, a buffet, smoking and library car, two sleeping cars, an a la carte dining car and a compartment observation car. The equipment is entirely new. The Atlantic type of engine used on the "Empire State Express" and the Lake Shore limited will be used on this train. A connection with the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie is probable.

The New York Central-Lake Shore ran a 20-hour train between New York and Chicago during the world's fair in 1893.

LIPTON IS CRITICISED.

Shareholder Says He Should Pay More Attention to Business and Less to Yacht Racing.

LONDON, June 3.—The annual meeting of the company known as "Lipton, Limited," produced some interesting complaints from the shareholders over the reduction of the amount of the dividend. One man said that if Sir Thomas Lipton, the chairman, attended a little more to business and a little less to yacht racing the conditions would be improved. Other shareholders loudly denounced the action of Sir Thomas Lipton in going into the liquor business.

Lipton's gift of the company's advertising expenses was also criticized, a shareholder declaring that he did not want to be bolstered up by one man or to be the recipient of charity. Sir Thomas replied that it was not too late for the shareholders to refuse the gift, but this offer produced no takers, and eventually all the directors were re-elected and the meeting passed a vote of thanks to Lipton.

Here's Richness in a
Sideboard

The illustration portrays a new type of Sideboard. And "newness" is undoubtedly one of the most desirable qualities in the furniture of the present. But, being both new and distinctly artistic, every person who sees this Sideboard becomes an admirer.

The design needs no extended comment—the picture is sufficiently realistic to convey a proper conception of the general appearance of this noteworthy style, although, as a matter of course, the real charm of such furniture is lost in attempts at illustrating.

Made of the very finest grade of golden oak, 6 feet wide, 28 inches deep; French plate mirror, 62 by 12 inches—a truly magnificent Sideboard—a real work of art—

Price $135

FOOD AND GIRLS.

Study Doesn't Hurt if They Are Fed Right.

Some time ago one of the ladies' papers published a long list of extracts from letters from mothers, speaking of broken down school girls. Too much work and too much confinement is largely responsible, but, on the other hand, if the girl is fed on the right kind of food to rebuild the daily waste she can stand more work and the matter of food is the real foundation of the subject.

A 17 year old girl writes from Cairo, Mich., about how a change in food helped her. "I am only a school girl 17 years old but I am old enough to appreciate what the wonderful brain food Grape-Nuts has done for me. About two years ago my health became very poor and I was unable to study, and finally obliged to leave school.

"I was put on Grape-Nuts Breakfast Food. In about three months I recovered my strength, my mind became much more clear and acute and I was able to resume school work.

"I continued to use Grape-Nuts until I discovered I was getting too fat. I gained so much in weight that I had to discontinue it. It is the best food I ever heard of for building up a broken down system.

"I have an aunt who went to India as a missionary and whilie there she was ill four times with Indian fever and became a mere skeleton. When she returned here her muscles were as flabby as could be. She was put on Grape-Nuts Breakfast Food and quickly recovered. Her muscles grew hard and firm and she entirely regained her health, has greatly increased in weight and never knows a sick day now. She is still eating Grape-Nuts and says she would not do without the food for anything.

"I can never say enough in praise of your wonderful food." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Ask the cook to show you the recipe book in the package of Grape-Nuts.

United Irish League to Work Hard for Additional Members.

The executive committee of the central branch of the Western Pennsylvania branch of the United Irish League of America held a meeting yesterday afternoon in the office of Edward F. Duffy, the president, on Diamond street. The purpose was to consider ways and means of continuing the local branches and furthering interest in the movement for increasing membership.

It is the intention to hold occasionel meetings of the several branches, to use every endeavor to add to the membership, so that by fall, when the national convention meets, Western Pennsylvania will have a large number of thoroughly organized branches and be entitled to a fitting representation of delegates.

Edward F. Duffy said that the Hon. Joseph Devlin, the Irish member of parliament, will be compelled to postpone his visit to Pittsburgh and vicinity until he returns to this country, probably in the fall, but that some member of the Irish Nationalist party in parliament would be here at an early date to aid in the work.

Quay for State Chairman.

The most important political development of yesterday is the announcement that Senator Quay is a candidate for chairman of the Republican state committee. Another important announcement is the candidacy of Senator Penrose for temporary chairman of the Republican state convention. Coupled with these announcements is the declaration that Judge Pennypacker will be the Republican nominee for governor. The combination is invincible. The emphatic repudiation of the Stone slate of delegates in York county yesterday is a straw indicating what will happen in the Republican state convention and the announcement that Senator Quay intends to be the active manager of the Republican state campaign in Pennsylvania this year is a guarantee of a Republican triumph all along the line in November. The election of a Republican for governor, with the whole state ticket, the election of Republican congressmen, a Republican legislature and the success of the county tickets by majorities that will be an inspiration to the Republican party of the nation is Senator Quay's ambition and he will devote himself to this work. The dominance of Republican principles and policies in national affairs is in no small degree dependent on the result this year in Pennsylvania. The presence of Senator Quay at the head of the state committee, with a ticket in response to the popular demand, will be a guarantee that there will be no faltering at any point, and that the Republican vote in this state will be so large as to give the party leaders in other states and in the nation assurance of Republican success in the presidential election two years thereafter. The vote of Pennsylvania under Quay's leadership will be a vote of confidence in the administration of President Roosevelt and in the aims and aspirations of the party of Lincoln, Grant and McKinley.

Congressman Dalzell.

Public assurances given by leaders of the Citizens party that instead of opposing Congressman Dalzell they are in favor of his re-election and will place him on their ticket for congress are evidence that they have read public sentiment aright and are not hunting trouble by running counter to it. Congressman Dalzell has served his party well by serving the nation well and the party or faction that would oppose him would only weaken itself by so doing. Mr. Dalzell has earned the lasting good will of the people of his district and of his state and should be returned to congress without opposition of any kind from any quarter. Opposition to him would be as fruitless as it would be ungrateful, and we do not believe that there will be any.

Good as Far as It Goes.

Much advantage to Pittsburgh should result from the Pennsylvania railroad's new East End terminals. They are designed to give additional yard room and to keep much through traffic away from the downtown terminals. It is designed to connect the main line with the Allegheny Valley and West Penn divisions and with each other, thus bringing into play the full forces of the three lines. It will certainly fully justify the cost, which is considerable.

This improvement is not all that is needed, however, to properly care for Pittsburgh traffic. The downtown terminals when relieved of through traffic will still be insufficient to accommodate the business of the city. There are not enough tracks at which cars may be loaded or unloaded to give prompt service. Facilities for getting cars in and out will be increased, but they cannot be transported any more rapidly than they can be prepared for movement. So it may be assumed the East End project is only a start at what the Pennsylvania system intends to do. It is a pity, though, this particular improvement was not conceived and carried out more than a year ago, for it would have prevented a good bit of the restriction put upon Pittsburgh industry.

For the future needs of the Pittsburgh district nothing will answer short of continuous movement of cars. The four-track road to the east and all the connecting systems will be valuable, but the plan will not be complete without downtown improvements, including the removal of tracks from Liberty street, which are operated in violation of ordinances, but are yet wholly inadequate to care for the traffic.

Stone Becomes Desperate.

Gov. Stone has again shown his abiding interest in the success of Elkin. He is endeavoring now to club the Montgomery county delegates, who are instructed for Pennypacker, over to the Elkin side. A vacant county office that the governor has the authority to fill until the regular election is the club in the executive's hands, but it will not produce results. The effort, however, again makes clear that it is Stone's fight rather than Elkin's, and that delegates are badly needed by the governor for his candidate. The Stone-Elkin movement is in extremis, and the governor is showing the activity of a desperate man.

When Gov. Stone put John P. Elkin in his cabinet it was with a well-defined purpose. Mr. Elkin was then an aspirant for the Republican nomination for governor and Gov. Stone intended that he should win. It was no secret that the attorney general was placed by the governor in the line of succession and that the governor intended to use all the power of the state administration in his behalf. The field was pre-empted for Elkin and the bars put up against other candidates wholly to satisfy the governor's thirst for power that had been merely aggravated by his election to the gubernatorial chair and the possibilities it opened to his imagination. He needed a governor in his business and he chose Elkin for his naturally strong qualities. It was Stone's plan to confirm by furtherance of Elkin's ambition his own political power that had scarcely been established by a plurality election. Popular disapproval of Stone was strong when he was in the field for the governorship. It was so emphatic that a majority of the votes cast at the election were against him. Had the opposition been concentrated he would not be now in the chief executive place in the commonwealth. It was his fortune that the opposition was a divided one, and thereby ineffective to keep him in private life. The governor did not add to his reputation after his election to the high office he holds. So great is his disrepute with the people of the commonwealth, and especially with the people in Western Pennsylvania, which should be his political stronghold, that his public appearances are few in any part of the state and entirely minus in the western part of the state. The Stone administration was in such bad odor after the last session of the legislature that the Republican nominees for judge of the supreme court and state treasurer were handicapped by it to the extent that they would have been defeated at the election last November but for the special efforts made in their behalf in Philadelphia and Allegheny counties. In the rest of the state they were hopelessly beaten. This should have been a warning to the governor, but it was not, for after the state election he was guilty of the crowning scandal of turning the government of the city of Pittsburgh over to the political powers from which it had been wrested by means of an act of the legislature at the demand of the people. This law, demanded by public opinion, the governor's own hand had robbed of many of its best features before its passage, but enough of it had been left to bring about real reform in Pittsburgh had the administration been left in the hands of the reform city administration. But the work of reform was nullified by the governor's final defiance of public sentiment in delivering back to the organization from which it had been rescued the whole machinery of municipal government. Popular condemnation of this misuse of power was shown by an uprising of the people at the February election and popular resentment continues strong because the will of the people as then expressed has been defied by the governor's holdovers in office. This has helped to keep alive the resentment throughout the state and has added to it a powerful element that was lacking when the Republican ticket escaped the rocks last November.

The governor is still using his influence to drive the party on the rocks. Party leaders who have the triumph of Republican principles at heart see that the simplest way to save the party is to defeat this effort of Stone to retain power in public affairs and to deprive him of the voice in party councils that he hopes to retain through Elkin. The principal duty of the Republican state convention is the repudiation of Stone and the selection of a candidate free from his influence and under no obligation to further his political fortunes. Such candidates are before the people and the state convention will choose between them and Stone's choice. The result is no longer in doubt. With the vanishing of hope the governor is becoming desperate and giving the final blow to his political future by letting his interference in the selection of delegates be seen.

No Scuttle in Oregon.

Oregon stands by the Republican administration and declares in favor of the American policy in the Philippine islands. The Oregon Democrats stood for the scuttle theory, and the Republican platform supported the policy of McKinley and Roosevelt. The two Republican candidates for congress are re-elected, Mr. Tongue of the First district receiving an increased majority. Both houses of the legislature have Republican majorities, insuring a Republican successor to Senator Simon. The state ticket is Republican by something like 10,000 majority, all the candidates having been elected but the one for governor. The Democratic nominee is successful by a small majority. The choice of Chamberlain for governor was the result of factional trouble in the Republican ranks. There was a personal fight among the Republican leaders and this hostility afforded the opposition a chance to win the governorship. The combatants did not permit their animosity to extend farther down the ticket, however. The Republican candidate for governor was sacrificed, but every other candidate was elected. That this should be the result under the circumstances and that the Republican candidates for congress should do so well in an off year is a satisfactory indication that the people are not going to rebuke the American Philippine policy at the polls next autumn.

Redeeming the Nation's Pledge.

It was in almost strict party alignment that the senate voted yesterday to establish a civil government for the Philippines. The Democrats who have devoted themselves for seven weeks to a criticism of military rule in the islands voted, with one exception, against the bill and therefore for a continuance of military domination. The measure has yet to pass the house, but there is no doubt of the result. The Democrats will in all probability pursue the same inconsistent course in the lower as in the upper branch of congress, but the Republican majority is united and determined. It is the intention of the administration to as speedily as possible place the civil arm of the government in control of every district of the Philippines and the measure that yesterday passed the senate will bring about this result. It is the mission of the United States to establish and confirm liberty and equality in our island possessions, and while the Democrats may impede the work they cannot prevent it. The duties and obligations assumed in the treaty of Paris will be fully discharged and the good faith of this nation vindicated in the islands of the Pacific, as it has been in the West Indies.

Fair Play Is Just.

Nothing is accomplished by the rioting in Chicago except to prove again the inability of some people to be fair or reasonable. The right of men to do work that suits them is a part of the same justice that accords to every man the privilege of quitting work when he does not like it. No one has disputed the right of the stockyards teamsters to strike, and every power of the law must be exerted to maintain the right of others to haul meat in peace. The police have thus far been very lenient with the mobs, probably in the belief that ignorance is not culpable, but if the riotous demonstrations do not soon cease sterner measures will have to be adopted. There is no excuse for the disorder, which expresses as poor a quality of sympathy as of citizenship.

One difference between desirable and undesirable immigration was graphically stated in court by an applicant for naturalization papers. When interrogated regarding his ready command of the English language he said: "The trouble with most of the foreigners who come here is that they take to the bottle instead of the book, so they never learn the language. I prefer the book."

Norfolk has done itself no credit by hanging the president in effigy on account of his strictures upon lynching. The mob has simply demonstrated its readiness to hang anybody who ventures to have opinions different from its own.

The Boer peace rumor having gone out of business, the strike peace rumor may take its place.

England may be willing to turn the next little difficulty over to The Hague court of arbitration.

Chicagoans are not only compelled to eat vegetables, but also to go to the green grocer's after them.

MY SOLDIER LADDIE.

The Night Wind mourned for the dying day,
As my brave young soldier laddie,
Shouldered his musket and marched away
Over the mountains cold and gray,
Down to the South where the foeman lay
Eagerly waiting the coming fray—
My brave young soldier laddie!

How noble he looked in his suit of blue,
My brave young soldier laddie,
As he turned to wave us a last adieu,
His eyes aflame with a purpose true,
Just as the last long bugle blew
And the long line faded away from view—
My brave young soldier laddie!

Oh, it seemed his life had but just begun,
My brave young soldier laddie!
The moonlight gleamed on his sword and gun,
And we fondly prayed when the war was done
He would come again, with his laurels won,
Far beyond 'neath the Southern sun—
My brave young soldier laddie!

But safe through battle and prison pen
Many a soldier laddie
Back to his loved ones came again,
And great was the joy in the village then,
But, who can picture our sorrow when
We missed from the ranks of marching men
My brave young soldier laddie!

But his dear old comrades love to tell
How my brave young soldier laddie
Stood right in the teeth of the Rebel yell,
Bearing the banner he loved so well,
Careless alike of shot and shell,
Planted his standard and dying fell—
My brave young soldier laddie!

They made a grave on the mountain steep
For my brave young soldier laddie,
And round about him the ivies creep,
And down the valley the willows weep,
And the sentinel pines their bivouac keep
Over the mound where he lies asleep—
My brave young soldier laddie!

I know not the spot where he lies today,
My brave young soldier laddie,
But wrapped in the mists of the mountains gray
He waits for the dawn of the golden day
When the Angel of Peace sounds the reveille
And wars are banished for aye and aye—
My brave young soldier laddie!

Old Sol Takes Life Out of the Stock Market

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, June 3.

If may have been partly on account of the hot weather that this was the slowest day at the stock excange for at least a year and a half. It has been very hot, and even Wall street men are inclined to relax their efforts when the mercury is in the 90's. One of the principal reasons assigned for the dullness on the street was that London was keeping holiday to celebrate the signing of peace between Great Britain and the Boers, as well as in honor of the king's nominal birthday. There was nothing doing here on foreign account and domestic securities were flat, in sympathy with those of Europe. There were less than 20,000 shares traded in today, against 1,700,000 a year ago. With the exception of Saturday the sales today reached the lowest volume recorded since the first of January, 1901. There was only one sale of St. Paul in the first hour. There was some show of interest in some of the specialties, such as Continental Tobacco preferred, and a slow advance in transactions, based upon the reduction of the Metropolitan's operating ratio, or the trading would have been much smaller than it was. The fact was that the heat made everyone languid and stocks were in sympathy with the tired feeling of humanity. In the various offices the brokers and clerks were trying to amuse themselves with gentle games, such as checkers, which did not demand much physical or mental exertion. Ping-pong games were on here and there, but on account of the necessity of moving about the tables and stooping to the floor for the little balls it was not so popular as the amusements where one could sit at the table without moving for an hour at a time. No one seemed to be depressed by the slowness of business on 'change, the general feeling being that things will look up tomorrow, but certainly it was a record-breaker in the way of small sales today, at least for a great many months.

Trying to Get Back to Pittsburgh.

Nelson Roberts, formerly a Pittsburgh theatrical manager, is desirous of settling in Pittsburgh again. He is in communication with Philadelphia men looking to his re-establishing himself as a Pittsburgh manager. Mr. Roberts has many friends in Pittsburgh who will welcome him back, should his plans be perfected.

Cocoanuts in Large Quantities.

The largest cargo of cocoanuts ever brought to this port on a sailing vessel was unloaded on a South street wharf today. A number of men were busy all day separating the good cocoanuts from those not so good, and by tonight they had handled a large portion of the half million nuts that came in the cargo. The brigantine Frederick Schepp is the vessel that brought the nuts from islands in the Caribbean sea, where the natives bring the nuts down from the plantations. In unloading a cocoanut ship the workers on the dock wear great, shapeless grass hats and but little clothing besides the two essential garments, a checkered shirt and blue canvas trousers. Two men in the hold of the clean, white brigantine alongside the pier gather the loose cocoanuts into baskets and pass them to a man on deck, who, working with the silence and regularity of an automaton, puts them on the deck. Then they go through the master workmen's hands. These men, grasping a cocoanut in each hand, crack them sharply together, and, judging entirely by the sound, cast the bad ones aside. The tick-tack of the clicking nuts is incessant.

A Sandwich Constitutes a Meal.

New York magistrates are often faced with the problem, "Is a sandwich a meal?" They have had to discuss this question several times a week in the years which have passed since the Raines law went into effect, and seldom do they decide alike on two occasions. Magistrate Zeller handed down a decision today that covers the ground as well as any court declaration could. It held that when a sandwich is ordered in good faith it is a meal. It adds: "But the proprietor is not accountable for the operations of the guest's mind, unless the language of the alleged guest clearly indicates that in ordering the meal he was not acting in good faith, but was using the meal as a subterfuge." In the case under consideration he found that "A regular bill of fare was placed before the guest, from which he ordered a sandwich and paid therefor. I hold, therefore, that the sandwich was a meal." If this holds good it will lay at rest a question that vexes the souls of New Yorkers more than any other single thing.

Too Many Parties Ruin Park Grass.

The authorities have shut down on the children's lawn parties in Central park. It is found that the thousands of children playing on the grass in the many May-day parties have worn it down so much that the roots are destroyed and bare spots have appeared in many places. According to park employes the numbers of children that have flocked to the park this season on Saturdays and half-holidays have been greater than ever before. All applications for permission to hold parties on the grass next Saturday have been refused. This means a great hardship to the children, but something must be done to preserve the park. The statement made lately on good authority that Central park is deteriorating has caused something of a scare. If there is any New York institution in which the people take special pride it is Central park.

Aldermanic Oratory.

The board of aldermen of Greater New York is the most curious department of the city government, and, like many funny bodies of men, as well as individuals, it does not know it is funny. It has a lot of comical elements, particularly in the way of orators. Reginald S. Doull, representing the Eleventh district, is regarded as the champion talker of the present board. He is a Tammany man and his name is difficult to pronounce. Some members call him Duel, some Doll and others Dull. His friends call him "Reggie." Alderman Doull favors the dramatic, or Fourth-of-July, style of oratory. When he rises at his desk he always addresses the chair, then turns and faces the gallery when he talks. At the first wave of his arms the other members duck their heads and listen for the whirr of the rockets, the boom of the bombs and the scream of the eagle. Like the great Sulzer, Mr. Doull is a friend of the "pee-pul." He speaks on every subject that comes before the board, and has two stock phrases that fill all the gaps in his sentences, periods and perorations. These phrases are "the rights of the peepul" and "this great city of New York." In his highest and finest flights of eloquence he curtails the latter phrase and says 'Noo Yawk." The friends of Alderman Doull say he has a great future as an orator and office-getter, and that is the only proposition he does not debate.

Tale of the Thermometer.

As a matter of record, interesting to cooler cities in the United States, the mercury reached 96 in the shade, according to one street thermometer in upper Broadway this afternoon.

A Worthy Catholic Charity.

An eleemosynary institution in this city that does splendid work is the Mission of Our Lady of the Rosary. As its name suggests, it is a Catholic place of refuge for persons of that faith, and its work is to care for the friendless and homeless Irish girls that come over from the old country in the steerage of the big liners. Father Henry, a hard-working clergyman beloved of many thousands of young women whom he has saved from danger and annoyance, is at the head of the mission. Last Saturday the Celtic brought 100 lassies who found shelter in Father Henry's mission. It has cared for 2,500 and more since the opening of the current year. Night and day the work goes on. Thousands of girls have found their first situation in this country through its employment bureau, and hundreds of housekeepers have discovered treasures in the rough among the unsophisticated but loyal-hearted Irish girls. "It seems as if old Ireland were emptying itself of her stalwart red-cheeked lassies," said Father Henry this afternoon. "We have room enough for all who come; but, God bless the innocent dears, what pitfalls are dug for them! Only we who work among them know the perils that they are saved from. There are wolf men, devil men, all about, and their ingenuity is something diabolical; but, thank God! the good Catholic girls seldom fall into their hands. Our watchfulness never relaxes."

Private Auto Course Projected.

Members of the Automobile Club of America met in the clubhouse in Fifth avenue today to discuss the question of racing in the future. It was thought that the club would take action leading to the purchase of a private course for speed contests. All members agree that the accident of Saturday was a severe blow to auto-racing, but no one took it to mean that it was a crushing stroke. The sport is too gloriously exciting to be laid aside for one casualty, say members. W. C. Baker and G. E. Denzer, drivers of the freak automobile which caused the death of Andrew Featherstone and John T. Bogart, have been acquitted by a coroner's jury, on the ground that it was an unavoidable accident.

After Delinquent Taxpayers.

Delinquent taxpayers here must pay up or suffer legal consequences. Some well-known and wealthy New Yorkers have not paid for as long as ten years, and the authorities are after them with warrants and all kinds of dreadful legal weapons.

Lieut. Vanderbilt as a Soldier.

Reports from Peekskill say that Lieut. Cornelius Vanderbilt is performing his camp duties like an experienced soldier. He seems to regard it as a novel experience, and when he returns home, at the end of the week he will be much tanned and will have considerable knowledge of military tactics. He will start with his regiment tomorrow for Lake Mohegan.

Fate in Falls.

John Ross was having his shoes shined in Broadway. He pitched headfirst out of the bootblack's chair and fractured his skull on the pavement. He may get well, but perhaps he will not. He is in Bellevue hospital. In the next bed to him is Harry Leonard, who fell from the roof of a five-story tenement house and was only slightly bruised, besides sustaining a trifling scalp wound. Clotheslines broke Leonard's fall, but even with that it is curious that he should have got off so lightly, while a man who fell four feet may die.

Frightened by a Tree's Fall.

A giant elm tree, 50 feet high and five feet in circumference, that stood in front of 323 East Fifty-fifth street, fell over without warning this afternoon. The tree was old and rotten at the roots. It fell while a young man and young woman were talking near it, frightening the woman so much that she shrieked. The crash of the tree awoke a number of persons on the block. No one was injured, as it happened.

University Class Day.

The class day exercises of the class of 1902 of New York university were held this afternoon. The platform was placed under the trees of Battery hill, a spot on University Heights that overlooks two rivers and the distant Palisades. Lewis Garrett Blunt, class day marshal, assembled the class on the steps of the library. The seniors were marched to the lawn of the Charles Butler hall, where a circle was formed and the class yell given. The college songs were then sung under the leadership of George Daniel Hadley of New York, college cheer leader. Then there were some more college yells, and happiness reigned, as it always does on such occasions.

THE DEATH ROLL.

Dr. John Henry Barrows.

OBERLIN, O., June 3.—After nine days' illness with pleuro pneumonia, Dr. John Henry Barrows, president of Oberlin college, died this morning. He was unconscious at the time of his death, which came during a shaking spell. Dr. Barrows was born in Medina, Mich., July 1, 1847. He was graduated from Olivet college in 1867. His theological training was obtained in Yale, Union and Andover seminaries. He did educational work in Kansas for two and a half years. He preached in Springfield, Ill., and Lawrence and Boston, Mass. He traveled abroad for one year. In 1881 he was called to the First Presbyterian church of Chicago, where he served 15 years. In 1896 Dr. Barrows was the organizer and president of the World's Parliament of Religions, held during the World's fair. In 1896 he went to India to give the Haskell lecture for the university of Chicago. On his return he lectured for two years. In November, 1898, he was elected president of Oberlin college. During his incumbency as president the institution has prospered greatly. A widow, three daughters and a son survive him. Funeral services will be held Thursday morning from the Second Congregational church of Oberlin. A large number of Dr. Barrows' old friends and associates, many of whom were interested with him in the religious parliament at the World's fair, will hold memorial services Thursday evening. All classes at the college have been suspended until Friday.

James Dixon.

James Dixon, 67 years old, a pioneer resident of North Versailles township, and for many years supervisor in that district, died suddenly early yesterday morning at his home near Saltsburg. He was a native of Ireland and came to the United States in his youth, settling near Saltsburg, where he had since resided. He is survived by two sons, William and Hugh Dixon, a stepson, Patrick Crawford, and a stepdaughter, Mrs. Mary Goodfellow.

William R. Lovell.

HOLLIDAYSBURG, PA., June 3.—William H. Lovell, a relative of President William Henry Harrison, died here last night, aged 81. He was a Pennsylvania railroad official for 50 years and was associated with President Thomas Scott and Robert Pitcairn. A son, D. H. Lovell, is superintendent of terminal division of the Pennsylvania railroad.

John S. Shattuck.

BEAVER FALLS, PA., June 3.—(Special.)—John S. Shattuck, an expert machinist, died suddenly at his home today. He was 73 years old. His widow and son, Webster, of California, and daughter, Miss Gertrude, of Roxbury, Mass., survive. He was a member of the Odd Fellows.

A Fear and a Hope.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

I am informed that it is the intention of Com Sample, of Post 128, to introduce a resolution in the department encampment now being held at Gettysburg, indorsing Gov. Stone's administration, which will be similar to the one he had passed in his post indorsing Stone for removing Major Brown from the recordership of Pittsburgh. As the rules of the G. A. R. strictly prohibit anything of a political or religious nature being introduced in any meeting of the order, I hope the encampment will sit down on the resolution of Mr. Sample. VETERAN.

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 3, 1902.

PERSONALS

Charles J. Close, a contractor of Columbus, O., after spending several days in Pittsburgh making purchases of steel and lumber, went to his home last night. "While in Pittsburgh I placed an order for $10,000 worth of lumber and $10,000 worth of structural steel," he remarked, "which will be used in the construction of the new roundhouse for the Pennsylvania Company at Columbus. The foundation for this roundhouse has been completed and its erection will be commenced at once. (It will be 1,280 feet in circumference and will have 42 stalls for locomotives. Each stall will be 85 feet long, so that the largest locomotive can be housed. The interior will be inlaid with tile, and when completed will be the finest roundhouse in the world. Its total cost will be $150,000. I have also closed contracts for the erection of a large shop and power house for the same company at Columbus. The shop will be 600 feet long by 85 feet wide. The erection of these two buildings, and their equipment, will cost $400,000. I think that the greatest part of the machinery and the material for their construction will be purchased in Pittsburgh."

The Pittsburgh Alumni association of the Phi Kappa Psi college fraternity held a smoker last evening at the University club. About 100 enthusiastic Phi Psis were present and college and fraternity songs, speeches and stories filled in the time until it was no longer evening. Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: Samuel A. McClung, president; S. T. H. Johnson, consulting engineer of the Pennsylvania railroad, the Rev. George E. Rosenmiller, rector of the McKeesport Protestant Episcopal church and Attorney Dlen B. Smith, vice presidents; Attorney Harry J. Nesbit, secretary, and Benford Brittain of the Carnegie Steel Company treasurer. These meetings are to be held regularly about once a month. Among the new members added to the roll last evening were Superintendent L. G. Haas of the Baltimore & Ohio and Mr. Alden of the firm of Alden & Harlow, formerly of San Francisco.

Lord Thurlow of London passed through the city last night to Cincinnati, where he will inspect the Bullock Electrical Manufacturing Company, in which he is interested. He was accompanied by George R. Procter, of London, who is also a stockholder in the company. In speaking of the terms given by England to the Boers he said that he rejoiced with his countrymen that peace had been declared. "To Lord Kitchener, more than any other Englishman, the successful termination of the war is due," he said. "The Boers will undoubtedly make as good subjects of England as they were fighters, and it was only in simple justice to them that such favorable concessions were granted. It is right that my countrymen should rejoice over the close of the war, as it has cost them millions in money and some of the best blood in the kingdom."

State Senator H. S. Ambler of Chatham, N. Y., who is interested with M. E. Ingham of Pittsburgh, in West Virginia oil lands, passed through the city last night to his home after a visit of inspection of the Texas oil fields. Mr. Ambler is a director of the Empire State Oil & Refining Company and was accompanied on his visit to Texas by G. G. Schoenberger, secretary and treasurer of the company. "The problem which now confronts the oil operators in the Texas field," he said, "is transportation facilities. It is almost impossible to get sufficient cars to move the oil there." His company has invested largely in oil lands in Pleasants and Wood counties, W. Va.

A. W. Alcott and F. S. Irwin of the National Tube Company entertained a party of railroad men at dinner last night at the Hotel Henry, and afterward gave them a box party at the Alvin theater. The dinner was spread in the red room of the hotel. Among the guests were C. S. Kirkpatrick, E. M. Geist and D. T. Amend of the Pennsylvania railroad; A. M. Marion, Pennsylvania lines west; William T. Lichliter, Baltimore & Ohio railroad; A. J. Cook, Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railroad, and F. S. Welgel, Fred Vaughan, William Weltzer, T. O'Toole and L. A. Lee, of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad.

Lieut.-Gen. Nelson A. Miles, commanding the United States army, passed through Pittsburgh to Kansas City, where he will witness a test of several new models of field guns. He was accompanied by Capt. William Chamberlain, his aid, Col. C. H. H. Whitney, and C. H. Powell, secretary of the board of ordnance and fortifications. Gen. Miles stated that there were four guns to be tested, one of German make, another of English manufacture, a French model, and an American-made gun. The test will be conducted at Fort Riley, Kansas.

MR. ELKIN'S FIGHT.

Nervy Leader, but Lacks the Votes to Win in Convention.

From the Philadelphia Press.

The defeat of the movement to make Mr. Elkin the candidate for governor is now practically assured. Of the delegates already elected—many of them before a halt was called on his assumption—he has less than a hundred. Of those yet to be chosen he cannot secure sufficient to come within sight of a majority. He cannot elect enough; he cannot revolutionize the convention; he is doomed.

It may be freely recognized that he has made a vigorous fight. He has confirmed the impression that he is a nervy, resolute, unyielding leader. The tenacity and audacity of his contest since the declaration against him have created a measure of surprise in some quarters. He has the qualities of his school of politicians, with more than the grit and pluck of most of them.

But why should the sturdiness of his battle cause any surprise? No intelligent observer has doubted the ability of the organization or any material part of it to put up a strong fight. If there was any skepticism on this point the experience of the past ten years has left no room for delusions. Year after year a strenuous struggle has come on in one form or another, and the organization has proved its power. The machine in this state is strong enough to divide and still show great vitality. The big Pennsylvania pond generates many tadpoles, and the youngest progeny are as frisky as the parent stock.

Mr. Elkin has learned his lesson well. He has not been on the front bench through so many terms

DR. C. R. WATSON HONORED BY HIS FELLOW PASTORS

WILL SUCCEED DR. BARR

United Presbyterian General Assembly Reluctantly Received the Resignation—Body Is Reproached for Not Giving More Help.

At noon today the forty-fourth general assembly of the United Presbyterian church of North America will have practically concluded its work for the year 1902. The adjournment will take place later in the afternoon, possibly not until the evening service. Already quite a number of the commissioners are journeying homeward, and today will seee larger delegations going east and west.

Yesterday afternoon's session was notable for the acceptance of the resignation of the Rev. Dr. W. W. Barr, secretary of the board of foreign missions, and for a severe criticism of the church for its laxity in supporting Freedmen's missions. Dr. Barr has been connected with board for a number of years and for a time it was hoped that he might be prevailed upon to retain the position, but the nominating committee "regretfully reported" that he could not be persuaded to assume the duties again, and named for the place the Rev. Dr. Charles R. Watson of the First church of St. Louis.

New Secretary a Young Man.

Dr. Watson is a young man and his being named to such an important position is regarded as no small honor. Dr. Watson will be notified at once of his election. He is the son of the Rev. Dr. Andrew Watson, a missionary to Egypt. He is a graduate of Princeton, where he taught for some years. He was licensed by the Allegheny presbytery in 1898 and ordained and installed in the Fifth ward mission, Allegheny, now the Twelfth church, July 26, 1900. In the fall of the same year he was called to the First church of St. Louis.

Dr. Barr's years of noble work are not to be forgotten. The minutes of the assembly of 1902 will bear testimony to his works and deeds, and the following committee has been appointed to frame resolutions: The Rev. Dr. W. P. McNary, the Rev. J. A. McKirahan and the Rev. A. B. Coleman.

At the conclusion of the reading of the report on Freedmen's missions the Rev. J. W. Witherspoon, corresponding secretary of the Freedmen's board, made the statement that both the church and the assembly had shown but little interest in the work among the colored classes of the southland.

Work in South Neglected.

"Last year the general assembly," he said, "neglected to make an appropriation for the work, as it had been done in former years, the result being that the work lagged for want of finances." At the conclusion of his speech the assembly adopted a resolution ordering the presbyteries to explain the work more explicity to the congregations and have a special collection taken up the third Sunday of October for it.

As a supplement to the report of the board of church extension the Rev. Dr. A. G. Wallace gave an interesting description of his trip through the west. This board reported that $52,807 had been expended in helping churches, an increase of over $12,000 since the last report. The nominating committee announce a partial list of committees, as follows:

Trustees of general assembly—R. E. Stewart, James H. Scott and E. S. Morrow.

Board of foreign missions—Robert L. Lattimer, William Neeley and the Rev. S. J. Fitzgerald. Secretary of board, the Rev. Charles R. Watson.

Board of home missions—George M. Reed, the Rev. J. W. English and the Rev. H. W. Temple.

Freedmen's mission—Peter Dick, the Rev. R. H. Park and the Rev. W. K. McElhenes.

Church extension—The Revs. J. T. McCrory, C. L. Dean, R. L. Hay, H. C. Swearingen and A. S. Wallace.

Publications—The Revs. W. B. Smiley, R. H. Hood, T. J. Gillespie, Hugh Kennedy and J. M. Wallace.

Education—The Revs. T. H. Hanna, W. H. Brown and Hugh R. Moffat and J. S. Peacock.

Ministerial relief—The Revs. J. C. Scouley, W. J. P. Edgar and Frank Getty.

Historical society—The Rev. Drs. J. C. Boyd, James Hamilton and John A. Wilson.

Thousands Join in Protest.

CHICAGO, June 3.—The meeting of the Irish-Americans of Chicago at the Auditorium tonight to protest against the coercion laws in force in nine counties of Ireland, was perhaps the largest demonstration of its kind ever held in this city. Bourke Cockran was the principal speaker. About 8,000 persons were present.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Society

ONE of the handsomest church weddings ever seen in Pittsburgh took place last evening in the Shadyside Presbyterian church, Amberson avenue. The bride was Miss Emma Childs McClintock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver McClintock, and the bridegroom was Thomas Darling, a young lawyer of Wilkesbarre, Pa. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock by the pastor of the church, the Rev. Richard S. Holmes, D. D. The Shadyside church, one of the finest architecturally in the city, has been the scene of some very handsome weddings, but for exquisiteness of appointment they did not surpass that of last evening. The church was filled with guests, and save for the stately arches of the building, the scene resembled a brilliant reception. The church was decorated entirely in green and white, tall, stately palms and lower growing ferns filling the arches about the pulpit, while white peonies with deep pink centers were the only flowers seen.

The bride, a tall, beautiful blonde, was given away by her father. Her only attendants were her twin sisters, Miss Jeannette McClintock and Miss Elsie McClintock, pretty, fair-haired girls, who have not yet entered society. Mr. Darling's best man was C. Wood Benton of Philadelphia, and the eight ushers included C. D. Thurlow of New York, George E. Elliott of Clinton, Conn.; William Darling of Philadelphia, P. O'Hara and John R. Farnham of Wilkesbarre. Walter McClintock and Norman McClintock, brothers of the bride, and her cousin, Starling B. Childs. The bride wore a rich wedding gown of white duchess satin, a princess gown with the full court train. It was trimmed with exquisite lace and the bridal veil was fastened with a coronet of orange blossoms. The bride's bouquet was of orchids and lilies of the valley. The two maids of honor wore dainty gowns of white mousseline de soie, trimmed with insets of valenciennes lace. Their sashes were of pale green chiffon, almost blue in color at night, and white ribbon bows were worn in their hair.

After the wedding a reception was held in the McClintock home, Ellsworth and Amberson avenues, Shadyside, the guests being confined to the relatives. They formed a large company, however, the bride belonging to the extensive McClintock, Childs and Speer connection. The decorations at the house were superbly arranged. Rare tropical plants and vines inclosed the piazzas, and within the house there was a wealth of delicate green forming the background for the myriads of pink and white roses which appeared in profusion. Supper was served in two dining rooms, the bride's tables being placed in the maining dining room and decorated entirely in white and green. The center piece was composed of white kaiserine roses, which have hearts of pink, embedded in a mass of maiden hair ferns. The other dining room was decorated in pink and white.

The bride and bridegroom left late last evening on their wedding trip. They will make their future home in Wilkesbarre, where Mr. Darling is already established in the profession of law. He is a Yale man of the class of '96.

Colored Orphans' Home Reception.

The managers of the Home for Colored Orphans held their annual reception and donation yesterday at the home in Termon avenue, Allegheny. Addresses were delivered by the Rev. John Hoffman, pastor of the California Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, and the Rev. Edward D. Jones, pastor of the Avery church. Exercises by the children included songs and drills prettily presented. An unusual feature of yesterday's exercises was the reunion of the children in what is called the "debenture" class, those who have been placed out in service until they are of age. It was the first reunion of the kind and those who could not be present were represented by letters. The treasurer's report showed receipts of $8,070 25, while the expenditures amounted to $8,459 69. The officers of the board include Mrs. John Ormsby, president; Mrs. J. W. Campbell, Miss Mary Oliver and Mrs. Robert Munroe, vice presidents; Miss Annie Miller, recording secretary; Miss Jeannette Kennedy, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. John D. Carson, treasurer.

Yesterday's reception was the celebration of the twenty-second anniversary of the founding of the institution. During the past year 31 children were admitted, 24 leaving for private homes. There are 68 children in the institution now.

At an early meeting of the ministers' conference of the colored churches of Pittsburgh and Allegheny the subject of appointing a certain day annually upon which to take up a collection in the colored churches for the Home of Colored Orphans will be discussed. Though many of the colored people have contributed generously to the work of the home, none of the colored churches in this section of the state have ever given anything for its support.

Mrs. Wattles Will Entertain.

Mrs. J. Harvey Wattles has issued invitations for a reception which she will give on Saturday afternoon, June 7, at her home in Wallingford street, Shadyside. The hours are from 2 o'clock until 4 and from 4 until 6. Mrs. Wattles will be assisted by Mrs. Biddle Arthurs, Mrs. William Holmes Black, Mrs. William Blacksiock Rodgers, Mrs. William W. Wattles, Mrs. Harry J. Lawrence, Mrs. Lidie W. Stephenson, Mrs. Edward Pitcairn, Mrs. John E. Hurford, Mrs. Nathan Graham Eyster, Mrs. Horace W. Bikle, Miss Julia S. Wattles, Miss Annie J. Hurford, Miss Katherine Carnahan, Miss Elizabeth Robb, Miss Vardy Marshall and Miss Elizabeth Speck.

Oakmont Club Elects Officers.

The Woman's club of Oakmont has elected the following officers: Mrs. William T. Drill, president, succeeding Mrs. J. R. Johnston; Mrs. William H. Cooper and Mrs. S. Dale Clark, vice presidents, succeeding Mrs. James M. Hamilton and Mrs. Armstrong; Mrs. William D. Hill was re-elected secretary; Mrs. Harry W. Armstrong, treasurer; Mrs. Thomas P. Henderson was retained as historian. During the coming winter the auditorium of the Oakmont Carnegie library will be used.

Wedding Today in Sewickley.

Today at 3 o'clock will occur the wedding of Miss Anna Elena Naylor to Royal L. Scoville at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Christian O. Shannon, uncle and aunt of the bride-elect, in Broad street, Sewickley. The appointments will be unusually handsome. Mrs. Shannon will act as matron of honor and Mr. Scoville's attendant will be Lyon Logan of Allegheny. Both young people are quite popular in the valley society, and the marriage is one of great interest.

Armor-Lyle.

At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alpheus Armor, Taylor avenue, Allegheny, was solemnized the marriage of Miss Virginia Reed Armor and J. Harper Lyle. The ceremony was performed at 7:45 o'clock last evening by the Rev. Henry T. Lindsay, D. D. There were no attendants. The bride and bridegroom have gone east on their wedding trip. They will be at home on Fridays in September in their new home in Maripoe avenue, Bellefield.

Wedding in Beaver.

Cards have been issued for the marriage of Miss Caroline D. Snyder, daughter of John Snyder, the oil operator of Beaver, and Benjamin E. Thompson, son of S. H. Thompson, superintendent of the Pittsburgh transfer of the Pennsylvania Company. The ceremony will take place at the home of the bride, Wednesday, June 18, at 6 p. m., and will be witnessed by relatives and near friends, a reception to follow at 8:30. The officiating clergyman will be the bride's pastor, the Rev. Dr. Appleton Bash, of the Beaver Methodist Episcopal church, and the bride will be given away by her father. She will be attended by her twin sister, Mary L. Snyder, and the groom by his brother, M. E. Thompson of the Pittsburgh bar. The little sister of the bride, Ethel, and her cousin, Ethel Edwin, of Sharon, will act as ribbon girls.

Children's Day at the Country Club.

The directors of the Pittsburgh Country club yesterday issued invitations for the annual Children's Day party at the club house in Beechwood boulevard, which will be observed next Tuesday afternoon, June 10, at 2 o'clock. Special arrangements have been made for the pleasure of the children and the ladies who will be honor guests. The handsome grounds of the old Phipps property, transformed into the present club house, will be gay with life and beauty. A committee of the members will be in attendance to assist in entertaining the guests. Swings, hammocks, the American Military band, a hurdy-gurdy, "Punch and Judy" and ponies and carts are among the features provided for entertainment. Luncheon will be served at 4 o'clock. Should there be rain the party will be postponed until the following day. The band will play from 2 o'clock in the afternoon until 5 and from 7 until 10:30 o'clock in the evening.

For the accommodation of those who do not wish to drive out to the club the private car, Duquesne, will leave the Hotel Schenley, on the Forbes street side, at 1:30 o'clock sharp. During the afternoon this car and all other cars of the Monongahela line on the Swissvale and Wilkinsburg branch will be met by carriages at the Homewood cemetery gate.

The patronesses for the party include many of the younger matrons in society. The are: Mrs. J. L. Dawson Speer, Mrs. Henry C. Frick, Mrs. J. McClurg Hays, Mrs. William Sage Dalzell, Mrs. D. Herbert Hostetter, Mrs. Alexander M. Jenkinson, Mrs. Richard B. Mellon, Mrs. John G. Bennett, Mrs. W. Harry Brown, Mrs. Andrew W. Mellon, Mrs. Charles A. Wolfe, Mrs. Albert J. Logan, Mrs. Lawrence C. Taylor-Neiman.

A handsomely appointed wedding of last evening was that of Miss Myrtle Bell Taylor, daughter of Joseph M. Taylor, to Hugh Roberts Neiman of Ingram, at the home of the bride's parents in Fisk street, Avalon. The Rev. W. W. Lawrence, pastor of the Bellevue United Presbyterian church, performed the ceremony. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Alma Lucille Taylor, as maid of honor, and Fred Neiman was best man. The bridal gown was of white mousseline de soie over taffeta, with lace trimmings and insertion. The bride carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Taylor wore white Swiss over pale green taffeta and carried white sweet peas tied with pale green chiffon ribbon. Following the ceremony was a reception for about 100 guests, after which Mr. and Mrs. Neiman went east on an extended wedding tour. On their return they will go to housekeeping in their new home in Crafton Terrace, Crafton.

Home and Hospital Reception.

The annual donation and reception day of the United Presbyterian Orphans Home and Memorial hospital will be celebrated tomorrow. The two institutions, at West Jefferson and Monterey streets, Allegheny, will be open from 2 to 10 p. m. Supper will be served from 5 to 8 p. m. A concert will be given in the evening for which an attractive program has been prepared. The work of both home and hospital has been very extensive during the past year and good use can be made of the aid that tomorrow is expected to bring. Money, dry goods, groceries and anything that can be utilized in the home or hospital will be gratefully received.

Heaven-Coombs.

A pretty wedding occurred at the home of John Heaven, in South avenue, Wilkinsburg, last evening, when their daughter, Miss Anna L. Heaven, was united to C. L. Coombs, a traveling salesman for the Westinghouse interests. The Rev. Dr. Sherrick of the United Brethren church performed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Coombs left last night for New York city and other eastern points to spend their honeymoon.

Traction Cars and 46 Passenger Trains Going Each Way Will Connect Trafford City With Pittsburgh.

The schedule time of P. R. R. to this grand new Westinghouse city from Pittsburgh is 25 to 35 minutes. In addition to the 46 local passenger trains going each way there are 31 through trains. The Pennsylvania Railroad's terminal yards, in reality, will at no far distant date be removed to Trafford City from Pitcairn, and railroad operations of magnitude will be added to the town's money-making activities to give real estate another advance.

The traction line penetrating Trafford City is the Wilmerding and Pitcairn branch of the Pittsburgh Railways Company, with direct connection by transfer to Pittsburgh. Wilmerding is only 2½ miles distant and East Pittsburgh 3½ miles.

The line runs over the property, traversing the immense new steel viaduct, up Brinton Avenue to Second Street, then up Second Street to Cavitt Avenue, along Cavitt to Fifth Avenue, along Fifth Avenue and back to viaduct.

Follow this information when looking at the map showing lots and you will get an intelligent idea as to where the business section of the new city will be.

Southwest Branch Schedule

In addition to the special chartered trains which will be run, excursionists living on the line of Uniontown, Connellsville and Scottdale can travel on regular train No. 401 of the Southwest Branch of the P. R. R., which leaves Uniontown at 9:04 A. M., Connellsville at 9:39 A. M. and Scottdale at 10:02 A. M., returning on train No. 108, which leaves TRAFFORD CITY at 4:59 P. M. On both these trains FREE tickets given out by our Uniontown and Connellsville branch offices, will be accepted.

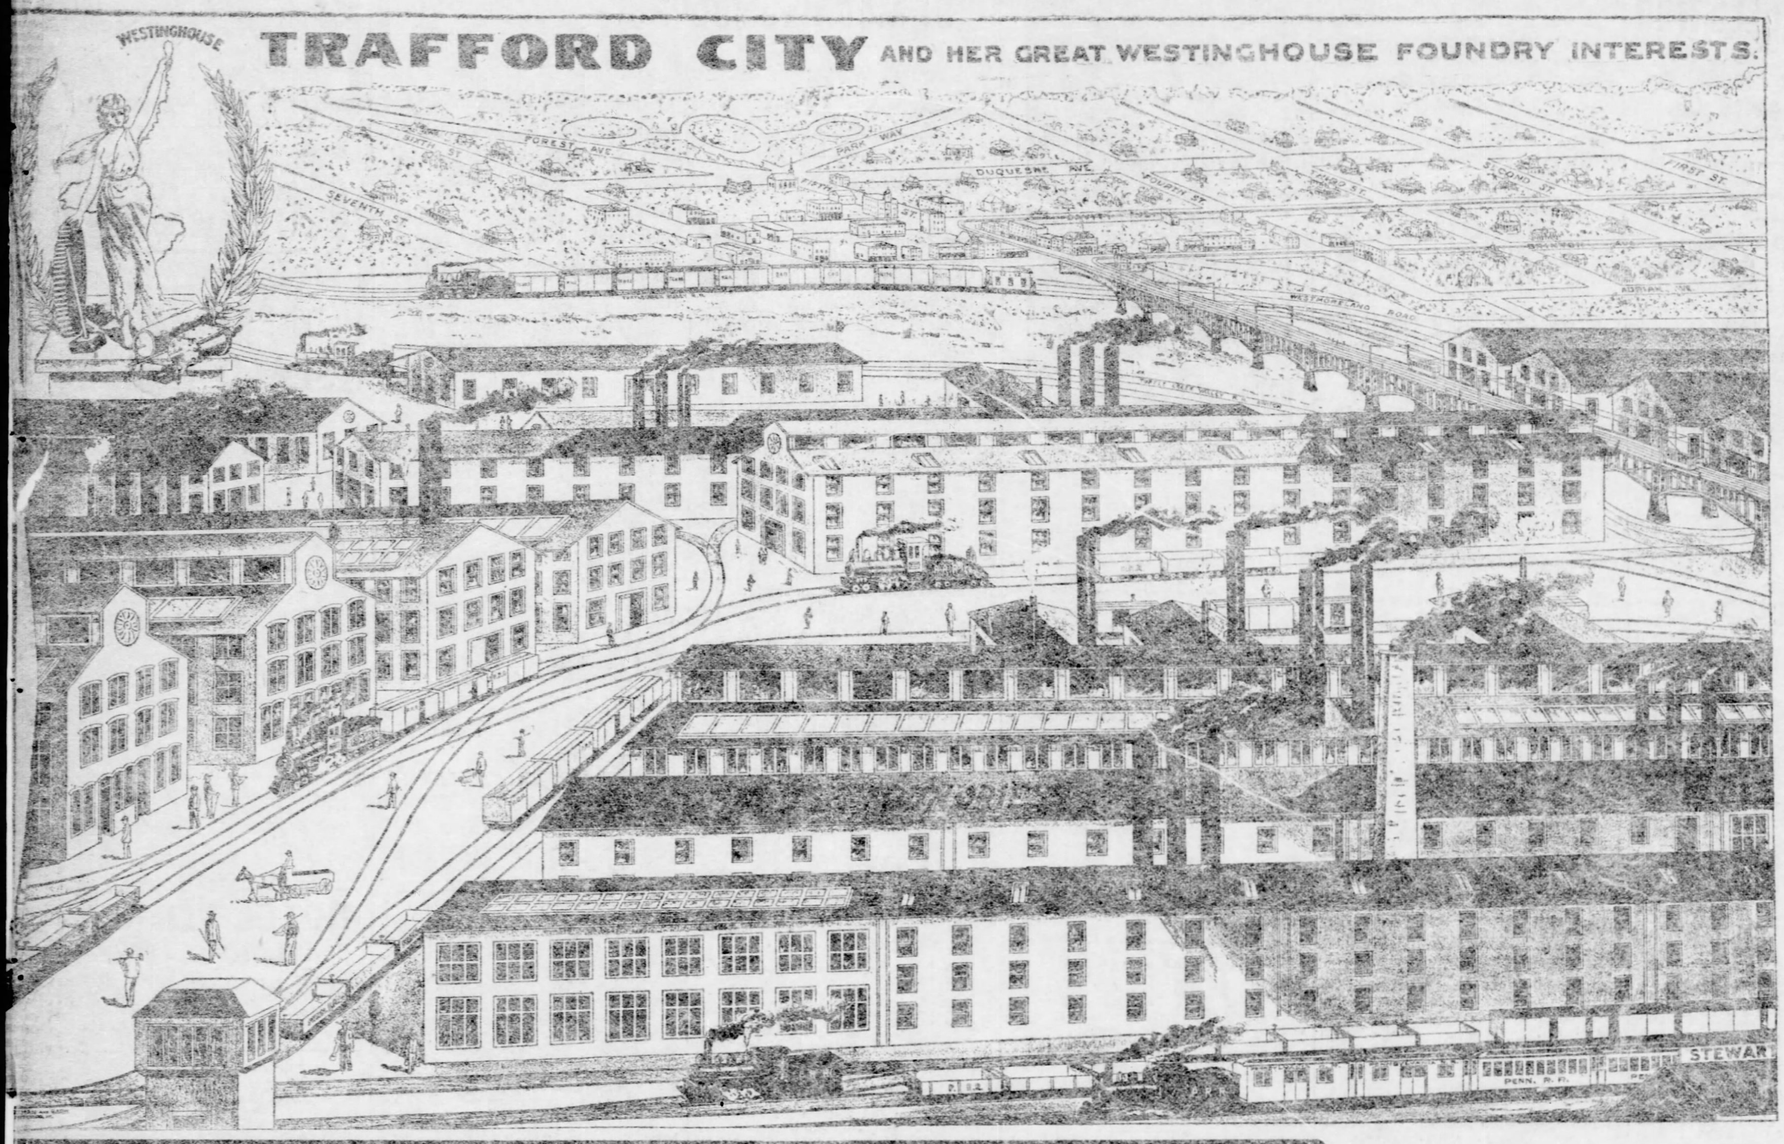
TY, JUNE 7.



NO LOTS HAVE BEEN NOR WILL BE SOLD UNTIL OPENING DAY!

Today nearly 69 per cent of the 15,000 workmen employed in the great Westinghouse industries at East Pittsburgh and Wilmerding are worth more money than the average business man, and at least 87 per cent of this 69 per cent will have the value of their real estate holdings increased at least 50 per cent by the monster $1,500,000 extension to be built this summer to the plant of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company.

When you consider that all the castings for all the Westinghouse works will be made at Trafford City you will see that the Trafford City industry will have the largest volume of growth, because not one of the Westinghouse industries can grow without compelling the growth of the industry upon which it is dependent for its castings.

The great Westinghouse Foundry interests at Trafford City, in fact, constitute the only industry in the Westinghouse circuit that shares in the success of each and every one of the other Westinghouse industries. This is a point investors should not overlook. It makes Trafford City property the property with unquestionably the greatest future.

Sixteen Hundred Men Now at Work on the Streets of Trafford City.

You will be surprised at the pace progress has set in this model city when you see one army of men after another and team after team at work carrying out the wonderful plan of street improvements, including the most improved sewerage system in the world.

The property occupies a beautiful eminence, just high enough above the monster Westinghouse foundries to be free from smoke, soot and dirt, and every lot is as level as the hand of nature could possibly make it.

A handsome steel viaduct 1100 feet long spans the manufacturing section, Pennsylvania R. R. and Turtle Creek Valley to the plan from the direction of Pitcairn, and hundreds of thousands of cubic yards of earth are being excavated to make way for other extensive improvements.

A large percentage of the water mains, fireplugs, sidewalks and paving has been laid, and in a few weeks this work will have been completed.

There was never a town built that started with as many or as fine highway improvements.

You have opportunity to see before buying your lot that your investment will be in a city blessed with advantages instead of in a barren suburb. You get a value which you know will turn out handsomely.

4000 Skilled Workmen Will Be Employed; Will Establish a Population of 20,000

These are facts based upon what Westinghouse Industrial Expansion has done before. Other great cities have been built and held fast in prosperity by added links that in no sense reached such a number as are being welded to the Westinghouse trade-binding chain of productive genius.

Look how the Westinghouse Airbrake, Westinghouse Electric Light and Power Systems and Westinghouse Engines and Machinery are being called into greater and greater demand in every center of civilization throughout the world, and you will not stop at this last matchless opportunity to buy a piece of real estate whose future is dependent upon Westinghouse destiny.

Remarkably choice lots for residences will go in this first great sale at:

$100, $150, $200, $250, $300, $350, $400 AND UP.

Lots for business houses and public edifices on the most finely graded, sewered and paved streets, having gas, water and every modern convenience, including traction cars in front of the doors, will be offered at $850. In fact, every lot in this plan has city water and new sanitary system of sewerage.

The easiest monthly payment plan ever adopted on good property will govern transactions where purchasers do not wish to pay all cash.

In other words, terms are as follows:

10 per cent. down, balance 3 per cent. monthly, with no taxes nor interest until delivery of deed.

On this proposition an investor can step in with $25 or $50 and snap up opportunities which he can dispose of to later arrivals at twice and three times these amounts. Or, he can hold on by paying $7.50, $9, $12 or $15 each month and the lot will pay for itself in a short time by the natural tremendous increase in value bound to result.

15 per cent discount will be given cash purchasers, provided purchaser pays all cash within thirty days or pays one-third cash within thirty days and gives bond and purchase-money mortgage for balance, payable in two equal annual installments with interest.

All lots on residence streets will be sold with restrictions requiring that houses be built back 20 feet from the sidewalks, the company's aim being to have a community possessing beautiful lawns and such surroundings as enterprise and refinement are sure to give.

A policy guaranteeing title will be given free with each lot. Said policy will be issued by the Real Estate Trust Company of Pittsburgh, Capital and Surplus $3,500,000.

The thrilling advance in East Pittsburgh and Wilmerding real estate is the best possible evidence as to the advisability of investors getting in and securing a piece of Trafford City property when it goes on the market.

Do a little arithmetic on this proposition, after you get our price list and terms, and you will realize how a man with $25 to $50 can secure and hold an investment which will eventually earn him $5,000. Let a shrewd investor go in with $100 and he can make $20,000 in a few years. He won't have to wait (like he invariably would in the average new town), to see where the finest improvements are going to be, because this is a Westinghouse town, founded upon a clear unmistakable Westinghouse policy.

Sale Will Take Place Rain or Shine!

Shelter Provided!

PEOPLE LIVING IN WESTINGHOUSE TOWNS WILL REALIZE THE VALUE OF THIS OPPORTUNITY.

The people of East Pittsburgh, Wilmerding, Jeannette and Turtle Creek need not be told of the advantages to be gained by getting on the grounds early at this great sale of Trafford City lots. What they and their neighbors made before when Westinghouse towns were established will make them eager to profit by this even greater opportunity. They know what the million dollars distributed in workmen's wages each month by Westinghouse industries have done for other communities, and it will be easy for them to see what the additional hundreds of thousands of dollars in wages will do for Trafford City real estate.

At their present rate of development the Westinghouse industries will employ in less than five years more than thirty thousand well-paid mechanics. On this basis Trafford City property will go to ten times the prices that will rule at the opening sale.

This is really a conservative estimate, if we take as a criterion what property in the other Westinghouse towns has earned. For instance, business lots that sold in East Pittsburgh twelve years ago at $500 and $600 brought $8,000 and $9,000 less than thirty days ago.

The above is but one of a hundred similar instances of the marvelous increase in value of real estate in the Westinghouse towns, and it makes it impossible for investors who know anything about Westinghouse property to resist the opportunity to buy it.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Philadelphia, June 3.—The Phillies took the first game of the series from Pittsburgh today by a score of 4 to 3 after a hard ten-inning contest. Although outbatted over 2 to 1 the champions bunched their hits in two innings, tieing the score in the seventh. During the first five innings only one Pittsburgh man reached first base.

In the sixth, with two out, Davis drew a pass, stole second and took third on Dooin's wild throw. Clarke hit a hot one at Childs and by fast sprinting beat the throw to first, Davis crossing the plate on the play. Clarke also stole second and reached third on Dooin's second wild throw, but Conroy struck out.

Honus Made a Home Run.

In the seventh Wagner hit the ball to deep left, making the circuit of the bases. Bransfield singled, Ritchey sacrificed and Leach's two-bagger brought in "Kitty." Leach took third on a passed ball, but was thrown out at the plate on O'Connor's bounder to Hallman.

The Philadelphias bunched four hits and scored three runs in the third. White beat out a hit to Phillippe, Thomas sacrificed and Browne hit for two bases, scoring White. Douglas flied to Wagner, but Barry beat out a hit to Conroy. It was such a close decision that the Pittsburgh players, thinking Barry was out, made no attempt to prevent Browne from scoring. Dooin singled to left and Clarke fumbled the ball, his second error of the season, but it allowed Barry to score.

The winning run in the tenth was made on Childs' single, White's sacrifice and hits by Thomas and Browne. Between the fourth and tenth innings only one Philadelphia man reached first base, and he got there on a muff by Davis. Ritchey played a grand game at second and Conroy made several fine stops at short.

Pittsburgh started out very well in the ninth inning, Bransfield making a fine single to right. Ritchey, however, put a fast one to Hulswitt and a double play resulted. Leach drew a pass, but O'Connor was not equal to the occasion and for the third time in the game landed the ball in Hallman's hands for an easy out at first.

Where the Game Was Won.

The tenth was started by Phillippe striking out, and such good batters as Davis and Clarke could not get the ball outside the infield, the former sending a grounder to Hulswitt and Clarke putting one down to Childs. Philadelphia should have won by a larger score and inside of nine innings. In each of the first two innings the home team got two hits, but threw away their chances by poor base running. Thomas, as fast as he is, could make only one base on Douglass' hit in the first inning and was left on third. The score:

Notes of the Game.

It was the Pirates' first defeat away from home this season.

Wagner got one hit, but it made good for a few that he lost. It was a home run and came at a time when hits were necessary.

That Barry White is a persevering youth. He avowed when his team was here that he would yet beat the champions and he kept his word.

Big Jake Beckley saved the Reds from a shutout by soaking his old side partner, Doc Newton, for a home run. It was big Jake's only hit in the game.

Deacon Phillippe pitched good enough ball to win any ordinary game, but the boys back of him were not hitting. Nine of them were victims of White's curves in a strikeout way.

Beaumont was missing from the game and Manager Clarke was forced to shift Wagner to infield field and place Conroy at short. That Panama hat must have been too much for Beau.

Patsy Donovan and his pals didn't do a thing to pretty Joe Pittinger, the pride of Greensburg, yesterday. They went at Pitt's curves in the ninth inning and never quit until they had scored more runs than enough.

Look out for a Mont Pelee eruption in the New York team. Eleven straight defeats are more than Freedman can stand. It would not be surprising to see a shift in manager as well as players. New York deserves better ball than the article now being put up.

The trouble with the champions is that they have struck a batting slump. This affects the playing of the team in all departments. Players cannot put heart into their work when they are not hitting the ball. The team is about due for a brace at the bat.

PITY THE POOR GIANTS.

Chicago Administers the Eleventh Defeat to Them.

NEW YORK, June 3.—The New Yorks could do nothing with the Chicago ball team today and the result was another defeat for the home team, the eleventh straight. Chicago pounded out 12 runs, while New York could only get four, only one of which was earned. The score:

BOTH GAMES THROWN OUT

New York's Protest Against Short Pitching Distance Allowed—Must Play Games Over.

NEW YORK, June 3.—The meeting of National league baseball men begun yesterday was continued today behind closed doors. There were present John T. Brush of Cincinnati, chairman; James Hart of Chicago, A. H. Soden of Boston, all of the executive committee; Fred Knowles of New York, Harry Pulliam of Pittsburgh, Charles Ebbetts of Brooklyn, Stanley Robison of St. Louis, John I. Rogers of Philadelphia and N. E. Young.

The protest entered by the New York club regarding the games played in Chicago on May 7 and 8 was allowed by the executive committee, which ordered the games thrown out. The committee decided to have these games played over, one on July 7 and the other on August 18. The protest was entered after it had been discovered that the pitchers' plate was not the required distance from the home plate. The executive committee exonerated the Chicago club officials from any willful attempt at unfairness.

The New York-Brooklyn game of April 25, which was protested by the New Yorks because of Umpire O'Day's action in putting Dooin out of the game, was allowed to remain a record.

The appeal of Fred Tenney, the Boston first baseman for a reconsideration of the penalty imposed on him for his part in in the recent fight in Pittsburgh, was disallowed.

Another matter considered was the adjustment of the 5 per cent fund being raised for the purpose of settling with the Baltimore, Washington, Louisville and Cleveland clubs for the abandonment of the expense of maintaining Manhattan field. "All differences," said Mr. Brush, "which have influenced club members of the National league in the past, have been amicably and satisfactorily adjusted, and the National league stands today a harmonious organization and a unit in the management and conduct of its essential affairs."

HIGH STRENGTH RECORD.

Willard, Columbia's Strong Boy Shows Great Skill.

NEW YORK, June 3.—Nelson W. Willard, who led Columbia's list of strong men in the intercollegiate tests with a record of 1,824 points, broke that record today by scoring 2,072 points. Willard's individual tests today were: Strength of back, 390 points; strength of legs, 345 points; strength of lungs, 40 points. The push-ups and pull-ups aggregate 653 points. With his back Willard lifted 808 pounds and 1,859 pounds with his legs, a record almost unsurpassed.

Willard's record is the third best ever made under the Sargent system.

MORGANTOWN, W. VA., June 3.—University won another victory on the diamond this afternoon, the team of the Western Reserve university being the victims. The score was 9 to 3. Bowman and Smith were the battery for West Virginia and Rose and Newcomb for Western University. The teams will play again tomorrow.

A FAST CRICKETER FOR LOCAL COACH

LEADING ENGLISH PROFESSIONAL COMES TO PITTSBURGH.

F. H. Taylor of Westinghouse Company Secures Lohman, Brother of the Famous Surrey Bowler — First Inter-City Match With Cleveland on June 14.

F. H. Taylor, second vice president of the Westinghouse Electric Company and an ardent cricket enthusiast, has secured for Pittsburgh one of the leading English professionals to help in the revival of the wicket game which is being attempted here by the Pittsburgh Field club. Last season saw more cricket about Pittsburgh than for years, but with a membership in the recently formed Central International Cricket league of the United States and Canada this city promises to boom the English sport still further this year.

The first inter-city cricket match game of the season has been arranged for June 14 to take place on the Pittsburgh Field club grounds here between the home eleven and the team of the Crescent Cricket club of Cleveland. The first cricket game of the season last week was won by the Field club from the Allegheny County team, a team of old cricketers organized locally to oppose the Field club.

The English professional engaged by Mr. Taylor is Stuart Lohman, a brother of one of the most famous English professionals who ever bowled a wicket. Lohman serves as a coach for the Field club and also coaches Mr. Taylor at his residence. In last week's game Lohman led all the local players with a total of 36 runs.

George Lohman, the brother of the local player, was for 10 years the leading bowler of England, playing for the famous Surrey eleven, and died last year in South Africa of consumption. He was accustomed to return to England during the summer and spend the winters in Africa, but was too fond of old England and eventually succumbed to the effects of his home trips.

ALLEGHENY H. S. WON.

Preps Play Wup Freshmen Today and Close Season With Trinity Hall Saturday.

The Allegheny High School nine yesterday defeated the Allegheny Preparatory school at Exposition park by a score of 10 to 1. But seven innings were played as by that time all the balls at the disposal of the school boys had been exhausted. The batteries were Knox and Willock for Allegheny Preparatory and James and Burgess for Allegheny High School.

The Allegheny Preparatory team, which has made a very creditable record considering the lack of grounds to practice on, will close the season on Saturday morning in a game with Trinity High School of Washington, Pa., at Exposition park. Today Allegheny plays the Western University Freshmen nine on Observatory hill. Out of the seven games played so far this season Allegheny Preparatory has won four and lost three, two to Allegheny High School and one to Pittsburgh High School. The scores have been: Allegheny High School 15, Preparatory 2; Preparatory 12, Park Institute, 4; Preparatory 15, Sewickley High School, 4; Preparatory 11, Shadyside Reserves 3; Preparatory 19, Trinity Hall at Washington, 7; Pittsburgh High School, 11; Preparatory 3. Will Knox, the star athlete of the Preparatories, has pitched all the games but the first one with Allegheny High School.

ASHTABULA, O., June 3.—The Winter Athletic club played the first of a series of three games with Breens "Braves" today and were badly beaten. The visitors started well, but a fusillade of hits in the second inning sent them up in the air and a poor exhibition of fielding followed. Score:

NEW RECORD MADE.

Nichol Thompson Did Some Sensational Golfing on the Edgewood Course Yesterday.

The most sensational golf of the season was played yesterday on the Edgewood course by Nichol Thompson, the new professional of the club, who established both new 9-hole and 18-hole records for the course. Thompson, who was playing with J. D. Duff and several members of the club, made the nines in 31 strokes and 18 in 64. The worth of Thompson's performance can be appreciated when compared with the old records of 32 and 65, held by Arthur Smith, who was the open champion of Western Pennsylvania for two years and one of the best professionals in the country.

Thompson's card was as follows:

Out, 4, 3, 4, 4, 3, 3, 3, 4, 2—31. In, 4, 4, 4, 4, 3, 2, 4, 3—33. Total—64.

The match contest in the Western Pennsylvania league to have been played this afternoon at Sewickley between the Allegheny County Country club and the Edgeworth teams on the Edgeworth course, has been postponed until next week, to suit the convenience of some of the players.

The second round of handicap match foursome play on the Edgeworth course yesterday resulted as follows: Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Nevin, Jr., defeated W. S. Eyster and Mrs. Elliot Rodgers by 4 up and 3 to play; Mr. and Mrs. C. B. McNay, Jr., defeated Sydney Liggett and Miss Miller by 2 up and 1 to play; John Dix and Miss Porter defeated Mr. J. C. Neale and Miss Madeira.

Today J. C. Neale and Miss Madeira meet Mr. and Mrs. C. B. McNay, while Mr. and Mrs. Nevin meet Dr. Collard White and Miss Cochran.

THE KING WAS THERE.

Witnessed an American Victory and an Ugly Collision.

LONDON, June 3.—Many Americans found their way to Epsom today where King Edward and a brilliant suite watched the races, which will culminate tomorrow in what is expected to be the most brilliant Derby in years. Nearly all the members of the royal family and the foreign potentates in England will be the king's guests for the Derby, and the demand for coaches threatens to exceed the supply.

Today's racing was marred by accidents to three jockeys, in the race for the Craven stake. Owing to the unevenness of the turf, three

SMALLPOX LIST GROWS DESPITE ALL MEASURES

Five More Cases Found Yesterday and Hundreds Were Vaccinated.

DISEASE IS IN SHARPSBURG

Director Leslie Waited Upon by Thirteenth Ward Citizens, Who Are Moved by What He Depicts. Citizen Shown to Be Wrong.

Five more cases of smallpox were added to the list yesterday and several of them were accompanied by incidents out of the ordinary. Mary Thomas, 8 years old, developed the disease at the Municipal hospital. She was sent there on Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Moses Thomas of West Carson street, who had the disease. With the mother away there was no one at home to look after the little one.

Thomas Dagallo, an Italian, the first foreigner found to have the disease, was taken from his parents' home, No. 26 Our alley in the morning. He is 5 years old. His parents had kept him in the house for two weeks and had no doctor. A neighbor saw him at the window yesterday, knew he had smallpox and told a policeman. The latter was denied admittance, but Dr. B. A. Booth, the city physicians, forced his way in the house and took the boy to the hospital.

Doctor Did Not Know the Disease.

Antonia Lesnak, another foreigner, was found at his parents' home in the rear of No. 2931 Penn avenue at noon. He is a Pole, 2 years old. He has been sick for two weeks under the care of a doctor who did not know he had smallpox.

Alonzo Schools, colored, 1 year old, had been sick with the disease for three weeks and the eruption on his face was well dried up. His parents live at Charles and Reed streets, and they had not had a physician for him.

Amstead Scales, a colored man, 26 years old, was found at his home in Stockholm street, Twelfth ward, and also removed to the hospital.

Because of the many colored people found with the disease who had worked at the Black Diamond steel works in Thirtieth street, Dr. Booth will today send a request to that mill that all the employes be ordered vaccinated.

Four new cases of smallpox were discovered last night in Sharpsburg in the family of J. Kronmiller, No. 411 Canal street. The victims are all children, their ages ranging from 5 to 12 years. Two of the oldest children had been sick for some time, but the cases were not made known to the health board by the parents and they have partly recovered, but the two youngest children have very severe cases of the disease. There are eight persons quarantined in the house.

More Wholesale Vaccination.

Compulsory vaccination was continued in Pittsburgh yesterday. During the day 1,700 persons were vaccinated by the district physicians of the department of charities and corrections. In addition, 3,000 virus quills were distributed among physicians by the bureau of health officers.

The councilmen of the Thirteenth ward, together with several citizens of the ward, called on Director A. H. Leslie, of the department of public safety, yesterday, to protest against building the proposed new contagious hospital in that ward. After a two hours' conference with him they called on Recorder J. O. Brown and laid their objections before him also.

Director Leslie said it was imperative that the city take care of the numerous smallpox cases that have developed, and that the city has no other place than the present location to do so. It was his intention, he said, to ask councils for permission to build a temporary house there where the convalescents may be kept before final discharge.

He pitcured the crowded condition of the place, where there is room for about 60 and where there are now almost 100 patients. He asked the delegation what he was to do and so won them over to see his predicament that they agreed to vote for a resolution asking for $10,000 to put up the proposed temporary building. They maintained their stand, however, against building the new hospitals there, which they told before the recorder.

"Citizen" has been heard from again. Last week he wrote to The Gazette complaining of the management of the Municipal hospital. Here are some extracts from his last letter:

"For about six months the Municipal hospital has been carried on in a very loose manner. Wagons of all kinds drive into the grounds and people come in close contact with the inmates. The attendants are allowed to ride on the cars. The inmates are allowed to go outside the gates. People working at the place go home to their families. It is an outrage, and why is this hospital not in an isolated place, instead of in a built-up residence portion of the city?"

The letter was shown to Director Leslie, who read it carefully and said:

Leslie Answers Complaints.

"The writer says that the Municipal hospital ought not to be in a built-up portion of the city. Men who have studied the question of infection and contagion have determined that a hospital for infectious and contagious diseases, isolated only 40 feet from surrounding buildings, is perfectly safe; that is, there is no danger that infection can spread to persons living 40 feet from the hospital. The distance from our hospital to the nearest dwellings is far more than 40 feet.

"'Citizen' speaks of attendants and inmates being outside the fence. We heard of this complaint lately, and I only wish that 'Citizen' and others like him had brought it to my notice before. It is true that some of the nurses and attendants did walk up and down in the lane along the fence, but not until they had changed their clothes and their persons were thoroughly disinfected after the most approved scientific methods."

In Memoriam.

At a meeting of the O'Hara Sub-District school board, held Monday, June 2, 1902, the following minutes on the death of Mr. William Pollock were unanimously adopted:

Having learned with sorrow of the death of our fellow representative to the central board of education, Mr. William Pollock, and wishing to express our love and respect we record this testimony of our appreciation of his sterling worth and noble and generous virtues:

Resolved, That we, as directors of the O'Hara school board, do testify to his earnest zeal in the cause of truth, to his unswerving adherence to what he deemed the right, and to his noble and kindly nature.

Resolved, That we tender our heartfelt sympathy to the afflicted family, and commend them to the care of Him who can ever give rich compensation for broken ties of earth.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread on the minutes of the O'Hara school board, and a copy of the same be engrossed and furnished to the family of the deceased.

WHITEHOUSE MUST GO.

Probable That the Inspector Will Be Removed at Police Board Meeting Monday.

Inspector of Police Henry Whitehouse will probably receive his discharge at the meeting of the police board next Monday. His services in the past few months have been anything but satisfactory to Director Leslie.

Inspector Whitehouse will be asked to explain his conduct during the last two weeks and unless he can make a satisfactory explanation he will be dismissed. According to Director Leslie he cannot do this. The director said that Inspector Whitehouse has been guilty of the most flagrant violations of his office, which are beyond all reparation.

In addition to this Inspector Whitehouse has been in bad repute with the police department since the election last fall. It is alleged that at that time he was found to be unfaithful to his party and the leaders of the machine decided to remove him. He was removed, but was reappointed inspector shortly before the election in February. It is said by friends of Inspector Whitehouse that he is involved in his present trouble because he refused to ask the patrolmen in the fourth district to sign the "yellow book."

TELLS OF HOW BOERS ACTED AT BERMUDA CAMP

Col. Leslie of Royal Engineers Came in Close Touch With Them.

WAS IN CITY YESTERDAY

Came Here in Order to Secure Information in Regard to the Equipment of a Thirty-Mile Electric Road to Haul Heavy Guns.

Lieut. Col. I. S. Leslie, Royal Engineers of the British army, and in command of the division of Royal Engineers stationed at Bermuda, was in the city yesterday, accompanied by Mr. Eugene Holcomb, one of the New York representatives of the Westinghouse Electric Company, who has recently been appointed representsntive of the company at Buenos Ayres, South America. Col. Leslie went to New York last evening at 10 o'clock and when seen at the Hotel Schenley just previous to his departure he said:

"I have been in New York for 10 days on business connected with certain improvements which the imperial government intends to make in electric railroads and other matters at Bermuda, and came to Pittsburgh with Mr. Holcomb to collect certain information in regard to equipping an electric railroad 30 miles long, the entire length of the island, for the purpose of transporting passengers and heavy ordnance, such as 100-ton guns for coast defense.

"While in New York I purchased a distilling boat for the purpose of distilling sea water for drinking purposes. There is to be a trial of the boat at New York tomorrow, otherwise I would remain here longer and visit more of the manufacturing plants.

Pleased With Peace Terms.

"I am greatly pleased at the settlement of the Boer war and especially with the terms of peace. This practically gives the Boers the same conditions of government as are now enjoyed by the Canadians, and I believe it will be greatly to their benefit. We have in Bermuda and on a number of the different islands of the group about 4,000 Boer prisoners at the present time, and I have found the officers to be well educated and intelligent as a rule, many of them being graduates of Cambridge and Oxford.

The middle class and lower class, however, who are the ordinary soldiers, are not very intelligent and have most decided and fixed ideas in regard to their religion. They are stubborn about helping themselves and are inclined to be lazy. I remember that when they first arrived, they thought that, as they were prisoners, they should be waited upon and have everything done for them by our soldiers, and we had great difficulty disabusing their minds on this point. After doing all we could for them, we found that they expected us to do all their work without moving a hand in their own behalf; so one day when a cargo of provisions arrived for them, they were told to take them from the wharf to their quarters. They permitted them to remain there for 24 hours until hunger compelled them to go to work. After that we had comparatively little trouble on that score.

Quaint Idea of Happiness.

"They are of a peculiarly jealous disposition, too. One young fellow who displayed intelligence above the average, was selected by one of our officers as a clerk, and was given some special privileges in consequence. This made his comrades so angry and jealous that they caught him one day and soused him in the pond.

The average Boer is also so selfish that his idea of government is that he should possess at least 100 square miles of land and then sit down in the middle of it and do nothing. The British idea is that they could not progress with that amount of territory, nor with any such ideas, and that, therefore, they should be governed according to the rules of other well established governments."

Mr. Holcomb, who will remain in the city for several days preparing for his departure for Buenos Aires, via London on July 4, said that Col. Leslie had been very much pleased with his visit and was very much surprised with all he had seen during his brief stay in the city.

CORAOPOLIS OIL PLANT IS BURNED

Damage to Lake Carriers' Oil Company's Plant Is Estimated at About $10,000.

A fire at the Lake Carriers' Oil Company's plant that might have ended in a disastrous conflagration was kept within reasonable limits yesterday by the cooperation of the Coraopolis fire department and the employes of the company, the company profiting by the connection which it established some time ago at its own expense with the water main of the borough.

The fire broke out at 11 a. m., caused by a spark from a locomotive, which set the barreling house on fire, that department being the only frame building of the plant, a legacy from the former owners. In a short time the barreling house, the retort, wash and filtering houses were practically destroyed. The 3,000 barrels of oil that went up made a big blaze, but after it was all over it was estimated that the loss would not be much more than $10,000, fully insured.

Loftus Cuddy, the president of the company, came down from Cleveland in response to a telegram sent when the fire looked dangerous. One of four tank cars containing oil caught fire, but by prompt action they were got out of the way.

SCHOOL BOARDS ORGANIZED.

Officers Elected and Teachers Chosen in Four Wards Last Night.

The school board of the Thad Stevens sub-district, Thirty-sixth ward, was organized last night by the election of W. P. Byers president, Samuel Harper secretary and the West End Savings bank treasurer. Teachers were elected as follows: W. M. McCullough, principal; Mary E. Rogers, assistant principal; Ida M. Garbart, Margaret M. Allen, Emma O. Kiefer, Alfa E. Norris, Sarah J. Campbell, Delia M. Vaughn, Myrtle P. Jones, Sara Fording, Mima Jamieson, Mrs. Anna R. Mitchell and Gertruda Reed. The latter took the place of Miss Sara Mitchell, who was not an applicant for re-election. Laura E. Fowelson was elected drawing teacher. The board decided to have the annual picnic at Allquippa park on Saturday, June 28.

The new school board of the Fifteenth ward was organized last night at a meeting held in the Lawrence school. Jacob Hartman and John L. Frecker were the new members to take their seats, and the former was made president of the board. Prof. T. S. McAulis was re-elected principal and the following teachers elected: Misses Mary J. Carr, Charlotte Bennett, Marion F. Courtney, Clementina Wyhte, Nellie F. Riley, Marguerite Ligham, Catherine E. Hoerr, Lillian Delamater, Alice L. Husting, Matilda D. Anderson, Ethel Velte, and substitutes, Myrtle R. Crawford and Laura B. Balmer.

The Twenty-ninth ward school board was organized last evening for the ensuing year. Fred Praegner was elected president; William Zeffel, secretary; and B. Clinton, treasurer. E. W. Dalby was re-elected principal of the schools. The Twenty-sixth ward school board was also organized last evening. Carroll Cappel was elected president; Dr. H. L. Reineck, secretary, and William Hirsch, treasurer.

LOCAL RIDER WILL OPPOSE VERY FAST MAN

Lester Wilson to Be Matched Against One of the Cracks of the Track.

SOME SPEEDY BIKE EVENTS

Colosseum Management Arranging for Some Fine Sport at the New Track—Paul McLain Will Take Another Try in Amateur Events.

A star engagement is planned by the Colosseum management for the next race in which Lester Wilson, the speedy Pittsburgh professional, takes part. Wilson had not nearly enough training behind motor pace when he was defeated by Tommy Hall, the Englishman, on the opening night, but he is working hard every day and the management thinks he will soon be fit for a big effort.

Wilson is naturally anxious for another crack at Hall, and as the Englishman is willing, it will either be Hall or the wonderful Joe Nelson when the local pedal pusher again tries to show his admirers here what there is in him. Joe Nelson has been the sensation of the east and has been smashing the records right and left from one mile up.

The Colosseum management is also planning something sensational for the Fourth, and at present the intention is to have a motor paced race between Floyd McFarland, the big Californian who established a new world's record while here, and either Bobby Walthour or Harry Elkes. McFarland, who went the fastest mile ever ridden behind motor pace last Saturday night, in 1:24 and 3-5, is now in Boston, where on Saturday he will compete in a four-cornered race with Champion Elkes and Walthour.

The amateur events for the national holiday will also offer extra inducement for the local element, which is fast rounding into old time shape.

Bennie Munroe of Memphis, Tenn., arrived in Pittsburgh last night. He will do his first training today for the 25-mile motor-paced race with Otto Maya, of Erie, at the Colosseum track in Allegheny, on Saturday night. He is in splendid condition, and should need but a few days' training to familiarize himself with the new track.

Otto Maya continued his training yesterday. In the afternoon he did a fast 5-mile work out, making the distance in 7:28 behind the big tandem pacing machine. This is 1:29 3-5 to the mile and indicates the Erie man's increasing speed as he becomes familiar with the track.

The entries for the amateur events are coming in fast, and there promises to be a larger field than on either of the previous nights. Among the entries received yesterday was that of Paul McLain, the well known local amateur, who did so well at the inter-collegiate meet on Decoration Day. He will enter in both the half mile open and the one mile handicap.

McLain several years ago was one of the local leaders on both road and track and the year before Wilson went on the amateur circuit was picked as the Pittsburgh rider best able to give Lester a run for his diamonds. A paced match race was arranged for Schenley between the two but fell through on account of a hitch over the pace.

THE "FORCE" FOOD CO.
Buffalo, N. Y.

DEAR SIRS:—I have used a number of packages of "Force" since it was first introduced here. I use so much of it I would like to buy it in large quantities, if possible. My husband and I use a package every two days. Every spoonful is an aggravation for more, since it gives us both more strength and fat.

My husband is a stationary engineer, and he takes a whole bowlful to his engine-room and eats it with one quart of milk. He says it makes him feel like a "young colt." I have a nursing baby—my first child—and I find it gives nourishment in abundance for both myself and baby.

We eat it by the wholesale, and I would like to buy it by the wholesale.

MRS. ——— ———

Name given on application.

JOHN SHERMAN: Reminiscences of the late Senator by Col. A. K. McClure in the Sunday Gazette. Read It.

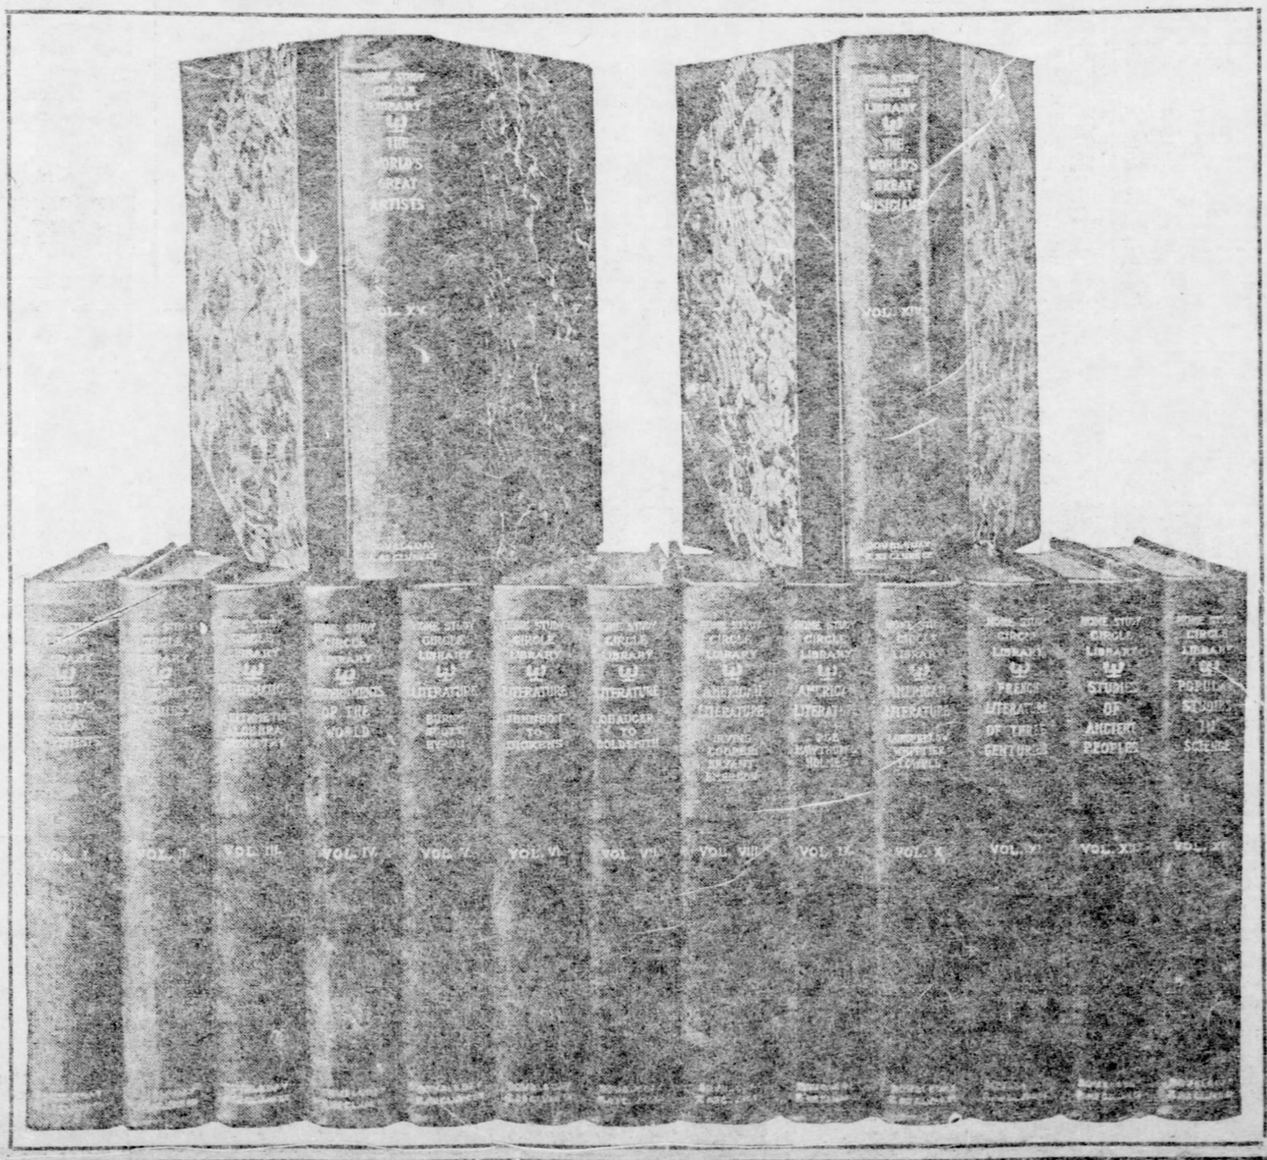
"FEW OF US REALIZE THE EXTENT to which we can make ourselves what we wish to be,"

said Sir John Lubbock, and it may be added that those who have a set of books like The Home Circle Library to assist them are enabled to move rapidly in the direction of substantial, gratifying progress.

"Imagine that we had it in our power to call up the shades of the greatest and wisest men that ever existed and oblige them to converse with us on the most interesting topics—what an inestimable privilege should we think it!—how superior to all common enjoyments! But in a well-furnished library we, in fact, possess this power." And in The Home Circle Library you come into intimate contact with many of the world's greatest thinkers and writers, scientists, musicians, artists and rulers.

Petrarch's words in praise of books apply with peculiar force to this popular educational Library: "It is easy to gain access to them, for they are always at my service and I admit them to my company and dismiss them from it whenever I please. They are never troublesome, but immediately answer every question I ask of them. Some relate to me the events of past ages, while others reveal to me the secrets of nature. Some teach me how to live and others how to die. Some drive away my cares and exhilarate my spirits, while others give fortitude to my mind and teach me the important lesson how to restrain my desires and to depend wholly on myself. They open to me, in short, the various avenues of all the arts and sciences, and upon their information I may safely rely in all emergencies."

How important that so delightfully informing and stimulating a set of books as The Home Study Circle Library should be found in every home. They are needed for the sake of the children as well as the grown-ups. "The greatest problem presented to the consideration of parents and teachers nowadays," says James Baldwin, Ph. D., "is how properly to regulate and direct the reading of the children." You will certainly make no mistake by getting them the Home Study Circle Library.



The 15 volumes embrace 5,300 pages and over 1,100 illustrations, including hundreds of the finest full-page half-tones. There are two styles of binding, dark green half-roan leather and a beautiful carmine cloth. The complete set is delivered on receipt of a small first payment, balance payable in little monthly sums at the purchaser's convenience.

TWO BUILDING SITES BOUGHT BY EAST ENDERS

Fine Frontage in Beechwood Boulevard Brings $33,000.

A BIG PENN AVENUE SALE

Two Lots in Twenty-Second Ward Bought for $14,000—All Records Broken at City Hall—Business Block Is Started.

Through the agency of A. B. Hay, Jr., of Allegheny, one of the best building sites in the Twenty-second ward has changed hands for a consideration of $33,000. The property is located at the southeast corner of Hastings street and Beechwood boulevard, and measures 300x150 feet. It formerly belonged to Misses Lucinda and Emma Hay, and H. A. Menoher, who conveyed it to two East End business men, whose names are withheld until the deal is finally closed. The plot is only a short distance from the holdings of Mrs. Mary Thaw and is in a district that is rapidly coming into favor as a choice residence section. The price, $110 a front foot, is the highest ever paid for frontage in this neighborhood and shows that property owners are stiffening their prices. The purchasers, one of whom lately sold his East End home for $18,000, will build two high-class residences to cost no less than $20,000 each.

Another locality had its record of realty prices broken when the sale of property at Nos. 1237-1239 Penn avenue for $1,000 a front foot was announced yesterday. The deal was negotiated by Leahy Bros. of the East End, who conveyed the property from the heirs of Patrick McKenna to James and Jacob Cohen for $25,000. The lot has a frontage of 25 feet on the north side of the avenue and a depth of 100 feet. On it are erected two three-story brick buildings occupied as stores and dwellings. The purchasers will make extensive improvements on the buildings to fit them for first-class business blocks.

The sale was made known yesterday of two Twenty-second ward properties to William H. Sykes for $14,000. One lot, 144x200 feet, on the south side of Dalzell axenue, near Dallas avenue, was secured from Robert D. McGonigle for $7,000. It is improved with an eight-room house. The other property, also improved, is of the same size and brought a like figure. It is located on the north side of Irwin avenue, near Dallas avenue, and was formerly owned by George H. Blaxter. Rumor has it that both purchases were made in the interest of the Pennsylvania railroad.

Building Site Now Available.

Since the Citizens National bank was merged with the Union Trust Company there has been considerable speculation among real estate men and downtown property owners as to what disposition would be made of the bank property at the southeast corner of Wood and Diamond streets. Although H. C. Frick by acquiring control of the bank virtually has possession of the property, a director of the bank said yesterday that no formal transfer of the property had been made to him. The bank lot was needed to fill out Mr. Frick's holdings which now comprise a block 120 feet square. When the other purchases were made it was announced that a skyscraper would be built on the lot. That this will be done this summer is not generally believed, as Mr. Frick has shown no disposition to improve his other downtown sites the present year. The Wood street lot is one of the best sites for such a structure in the city, as it is large and very conveniently located. With the two skyscrapers at the Fourth avenue corner, and the Farmers Deposit building at the Fifth avenue corner, the property is greatly enhanced in value and a big office building at this point would be. Values on nearby lots up very rapidly.

All Records Broken.

Monday and Tuesday of this week there were registered at the city hall 166 deeds amounting to $880,000. This is not only a record-breaker for a like number of days this year, but exceeds the average number and amount usually recorded for an entire week. Most of the transfers were for sums ranging from $2,000 to $5,000, the average being about $2,800. Nearly all were of recent date, showing that there was no undue accumulation of stale deals. Just why there should be such a rush of small home sales at this season is somewhat of a puzzle to the officials who would have considered it nothing remarkable two months ago. The fact that a large majority of the sales were made direct, without the aid of brokers, is evidence that there is a strong undercurrent of buying in spite of the apparent dullness that has prevailed more or less for a month. It should be remembered, too, that no record has yet been made of the hundreds of sales of lots the past month, most of which were made on the installment plan. The number of home buyers would seem to be fully as large as ever and the amount of money kept in circulation through this channel is no small part of Pittsburgh's business.

Another Project Goes Ahead.

Work was started yesterday on the three-story store building which A. J. Puffenberg is erecting at No. 709 Penn avenue. The building will be of brick and terra cotta, and will cost about $50,000.

Architect R. Maurice Trimble has awarded the contract to John Pollar for the erection of the new No. 5 eight-room house in Preble avenue, Allegheny. The building will cost in the neighborhood of $28,000.

Through Samuel Kelly & Co., East End, Sarah E. McHenry has sold to Carman G. Paul an improved property, 30x100 feet, on the south side of Walnut street, near South Highland avenue, Twentieth ward, for $10,500.

LITTLE CHILD ON STAND.

Four-Year-Old Daughter of John Barwell Tells of Father's Abuse.

The inquest into the death of Mrs. Helen Barwell was commenced yesterday and continued until today. Mrs. Barwell died at the home of her mother, Mrs. Julia Parvin, at Browns station on May 23 of a beating said to have been administered by her husband two weeks before. Barwell was arrested at Lorain, O., and is now in jail to await the result of the inquest.

Mrs. Julia Parvin was one of the witnesses. She knew nothing except what her daughter had told her. She was allowed to tell of the repeated beatings said to have been administered by Barwell to his wife, and more particularly of the two beatings on May 3 and 4, which are said to have caused her death.

Julia Barwell, 4 years of age, told of how her father had come home in the middle of the night, beaten and choked her mother, and then threw her against the wall. The little one even showed how her father had caught her mother by the throat and otherwise abused her.

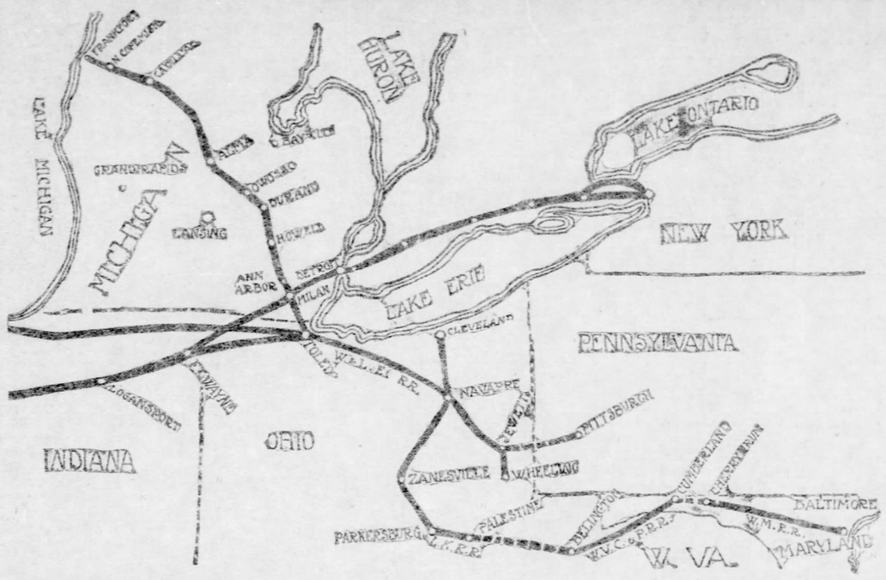
The Kind You Have Always Bought

GREAT IMPORTANCE OF WABASH PURCHASES IS ILLUSTRATED.



Excepting only the original purchase of the Wheeling & Lake Erie, none of the sales of roads to the Wabash railroad has had so close a bearing upon Pittsburgh's needs as the recent acquisition of the Ann Arbor road. This line will furnish to Pittsburgh a new outlet for coal, by way of the Wabash to Toledo, the Ann Arbor railroad to Frankfort and the Ann Arbor ferries across Lake Michigan. The line serves equally well as an ore-hauling route to supply the Pittsburgh district furnaces, since the country tapped is one of the richest ore regions in the world.

The route from Toledo and Detroit to the seaboard afforded by the recent acquisition is also shown. It runs by way of the Ann Arbor, the Wheeling & Lake Erie, the Little Kanawha, the West Virginia Central and the Western Maryland. To link up all these lines actual work of construction is now in progress in several places and elsewhere the contracts are about to be let.

BIG NAVAL BATTLE COMING THIS FALL

MANILA AND SANTIAGO FLAGSHIPS TO LEAD RIVAL FLEETS.

Rear Admiral Coghlan's Squadron to Attack and Attempt to Surprise That Commanded by Rear Admiral Higginson.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, June 3.—A sham battle between two fleets, each of which will include many of the most formidable vessels of the United States navy, will be the novel feature at the joint army and navy maneuvers this fall. The Olympia will carry the flag of one of the fleets and the Brooklyn the other. Rear Admiral Higginson will float his blue flag from the former ship during the engagement, which will be the first of its kind ever seen along the Atlantic coast, and the red pennant of Rear Admiral Coghlan will fly from the other.

The battle will present all of the realism of an actual engagement, with the fatalities left out. One of the fleets, probably the one to be commanded by Admiral Coghlan, will make the attack. The plans for the battle are being worked out with great care by the naval bureau. The struggle probably will take place near Fisher's island. There is some talk in naval circles that it may be fought nearer New York so that it may be witnessed by a greater number of people.

The details of the attack will not be given out. It will rest with the judgment of the commander of the fleet which is to make the attack as to the course he will pursue. It will be his privilege to attack at any time of day or night that he may choose, and it will be his game to take his supposed opponent while napping.

Every available vessel of the North Atlantic station will be pressed into this battle. Already the naval bureau is getting together ships for the occasion. The Olympia and the Brooklyn, the two flagships, will, of course, figure most prominently in each of the fleets during the battle. Then there will be the battleships Kearsarge, Massachusetts, Indiana, Illinois and Alabama contending against one another. The battleship Iowa of the South Atlantic station may be called north for the maneuvers. In addition there will be numerous cruisers and other vessels. The Marietta, Machias, Cincinnati, Winslow, Dolphin, Eagle and other vessels which may return from the Philippines will be used as secondary and reserve vessels in the two fleets.

Within the next few weeks the plans will be completed and a rehearsal of the battle will be held. This probably will be along the New England coast.

Erie's New Banking House.

The city of Erie, Pa., will soon have one of the strongest banks in Western Pennsylvania. The institution will be known as the Erie Savings Bank and Trust Company. It is a reorganized corporation, and will be the only banking house in Erie. Its new banking apartments will be opened for business in a few days. The Erie Savings Bank and Trust Company is capitalized at $500,000 with a surplus of $250,000. Many prominent Pittsburghers are financially interested in the institution. The deposits of the bank already exceed the million marks, its success become apparent from the fact that the bank has over 4,000 accounts, 600 out of which draw dividends. Among the Pittsburgh stockholders are the following: The Hon. William H. Graham, the Hon. J. Guy McCandless, Mr. John D. Fraser, Mr. James H. Willock and Stephen Stone, Esq. The subscriptions for stock certificates in Pittsburgh are payable at the North American Savings bank, corner Fourth avenue and Market street.

OIL OPERATOR DENIES CHARGES IN $40,000 SUIT

Theodore N. Barnsdall Says He Never Lived With Mrs. C. B. Davis.

SHE ACTED AS HIS NURSE

Defendant Repudiates All Knowledge of Alleged Strange Contract to Marry Plaintiff Upon Procuring a Divorce, or Promise of Money.

An answer was filed yesterday in common pleas court No. 3 by Theodore N. Barnsdall, the millionaire oil operator, to the suit of Mrs. Cora B. Davis to recover $40,000. It was claimed by the woman that the defendant promised her $10,000 for the education of her daughter, $30,000 for herself and a properly furnished home.

Barnsdall does not deny that he met the plaintiff at Mt. Clemens. He says he was suffering from rheumatism and that the plaintiff there and elsewhere acted as his nurse, for which she was liberally paid. He denies he ever employed "any acts or devices, or won the affections of the plaintiff," or represented to her that he was procuring a divorce from his wife. He declares the plaintiff told him that she had been married twice, and he denies that he sent her money to come to Pittsburgh, or that he made any professions of love or promised to marry her.

Barnsdall says he never traveled with the plaintiff as his wife, that he never lived with her at Columbus, O., as "Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bell," and never represented her to be his wife at Chicago.

The defendant makes a flat denial of the charge of the plaintiff as to money, declaring he did not promise to give her $10,000, $30,000 or any other sum, or agree to purchase a house for her.

ORDERS AN ACCOUNT.

Judge W. G. Hawkins Hands Down an Opinion in the Estate Ann Conlon.

Judge W. G. Hawkins in the orphans' court handed down an opinion in the matter of the estate of Ann Conlon, deceased. The question in the matter arose upon a petition filed to compel Mary Conlon to file an account as trustee of the interest of Thomas Conlon. By the terms of the will she was to hold his interests during his life and at his death it was to be conveyed to his sisters. The petitioners are the surviving husband and children of a deceased sister, Elizabeth, and they claim that Thomas Conlon has been unheard of for 17 years and is therefore presumably dead. Mrs. Mary Conlon denied this and demanded proof of his death.

Judge Hawkins says that is immaterial whether Thomas Conlon is living or dead. The court then says:

"This court cannot shut its eyes to Miss Conlon's gross dereliction of duty in failing to file an account. She is an officer subject to the jurisdiction of this court and as such bound to give an account of her stewardship at intervals, without the spur of coerce proceedings."

The court says it is her duty to show the court that the purposes of her trust have been fulfilled and on her failing to do this it is the duty of the court to compel it. The opinion further reads:

"Suppose it should be developed in a collateral proceeding that a trustee was wasting the assets which had come to his hands; must a chancellor stay his hand and await the form of law in view of impending waste? Surely not." It is ordered that an account be filed.

CLAIMS HE IS SANE.

Mrs. Albert Pitcairn Takes an Appeal from the Finding Against Her Husband.

A jury was summoned in common pleas court to hear evidence in the application to set aside the finding of a commission that Albert Pitcairn is a lunatic. When he was adjudged insane his wife took an appeal. The commission reported that Pitcairn had been a lunatic, without lucid intervals, since some time before his marriage, which resulted in much litigation, it having been claimed the couple were not legally man and wife.

But two witnesses were heard before court adjourned, both of them giving testimony relative to the marriage. The case will be continued today.

BLOCK-HOUSE CASE UP.

Hearing of the D. A. R. Application for Street Vacation Is Begun.

In common pleas court No. 2 yesterday a hearing was begun in the matter of the application of the Daughters of the American Revolution to have the ordinances for the vacation of Fort street and Point alley declared invalid.

A number of the members of the order were placed upon the stand to show the transfer of the old block house to that organization, in an effort to prove that the Schenley estate does not possess the right to petition for the vacation. John W. Herron, agent for the Schenley estate, was called to show that his father and five him and himself, have acted for the Schenley interests as to the furthering of improvements upon authority given them from Mrs. Schenley and that their actions have never been questioned. E. J. Martin, city clerk, testified that for years Mr. Herron's right to represent Mrs. Schenley in matters of street improvements has been considered proper. A further hearing will be held.

ATTORNEYS IN TROUBLE.

True Bills Charge J. H. McCreery and A. C. Hays With Embezzlement.

The grand jury yesterday returned true bills against Attorneys J. H. McCreery and A. C. Hays on charges of embezzlement, preferred by J. H. Hays. McCreery is alleged to have embezzled $200 from the Greater Northwestern Telegraph Company; $65.35 paid to him by J. H. Hays, with which to pay sheriff's costs; $141 entrusted to him with which to pay taxes on certain property, and $250 which he appropriated to his own use under pretense of being his fee as the attorney of the prosecutor, he being disbarred, it is said, from practicing as an attorney.

A. C. Hays is charged with embezzling $300 paid to him by W. C. Herrington, a tenant of the prosecutor.

A true bill was also found against C. C. Williamson, principal of the Bellevue school, for assault and battery preferred by William Teller, for the punishing of the prosecutor's son.

Other bills were returned as follows:

True bills—Larceny, John Carter, John Lazarski et al.; felonious assault and battery, John Rork, Joe Sullivan et al; assault and battery, Maurice and James Deely, R. J. Barth, John J. Nowak; entering a building, etc., Joe Sullivan et al; common scold, Marie Keefer.

Ignored bills—Assault and battery, David Benjamin, Daniel Gager, Anton J. Katchmar, Alfred Rosensteel; aggravated assault and battery, James Llewelyn; misdemeanor, John Hurley, Edward E. Powell.

WANTS A DIPLOMA.

Medical Student Gets Writ of Mandamus Against Western University.

The first of the suits to be entered against the medical department of the Western University of Pennsylvania, exclusively foretold in yesterday's Gazette, was heard from yesterday, when a writ of mandamus was granted by Judge E. H. Stowe upon the board of trustees of the Western Pennsylvania Medical college and the chancellor of the university, requiring them to show cause why a degree of doctor of medicine should not be conferred upon F. Kurtz Addy, the petitioner.

It is stated that Addy was a student in the college for four years, and that after his examination he was notified that he had passed it successfully. It is stated that the board of trustees notified him that it would not recommend to the chancellor that the degree be conferred. Addy states that he has since requested that the degree be conferred and a diploma be awarded, but his request was refused.

MORE MEN JOIN MINERS' STRIKE SAYS MITCHELL

Operators Declare They Still Have Large Resources to Draw on.

BOSSES ARE TURNED BACK

Not Allowed to Go to Tunnel Ridge Colliery at Mahanoy City—Gov. Stone Breaks Pledge by Commissioning Hundreds of Policemen.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Wilkesbarre, June 3.—President Mitchell tonight gave out the following statement:

Detailed reports from all quarters of the anthracite field indicate that the number of engineers, firemen and pumpmen who ceased work yesterday was considerably increased today and the probabilities are that it will be further augmented tomorrow.

There have been no violations of law on the part of the strikers and our predictions made last week that the mine workers will be law abiding have been more than verified by the events of yesterday and today.

The coal strike is remarkable in many respects. Were is not for the fact that the coal companies have a veritable army of private guards and coal and iron police employed there would be no exterior evidence that a great industrial contest was being waged.

We are sure that the splendid conduct of the men and boys who are engaged in this great, silent and passive struggle for at least a small share of our country's prosperity must commend itself to all well disposed persons.

The mine owners claim that thus far they have employed a very few non-union men and have plenty of workers to draw on.

The entire coal belt remains comparatively quiet, although disturbances of a minor nature are becoming more frequent. At Miners Mills this morning and this evening men and women gathered on the street corners and hooted the men that came from the mines to go to their homes. At Plymouth also this evening there was a small demonstration against those still working at the engines and pumps in the collieries there. About 100 men, women and children followed the workers to their homes calling them vile names.

At Mahanoy City 200 union pickets guarded the approaches to Tunnel Ridge colliery and refused to pass in James Holloway, Charles Carl, George Oliver and William Dodds, all bosses. They were forced to return home. The strikers also held up the engineers at the Gilbarton water shaft and the hoist is idle.

HARRISBURG, June 3.—Contrary to his promise to the leaders of the United Mine Workers Gov. Stone is giving the anthracite operators material assistance in flooding the strike territory with coal and iron policemen. Typewritten lists of the names of these special police are furnished the operators to Stone, by whom they are appointed without question.

Nearly 2,000 of these police have been appointed since this strike was declared.

At the Stanton colliery of the Lehigh & Wilkesbarre Company today an employe came out of the colliery for the purpose of buying meat for tonight's supper for the men inside the works. When his errand became known a crowd gathered and he was driven back to the mine. There was a cutting affray at Edwardsville late this afternoon. A striker hung an effigy of one of the workmen on a telegraph pole and when the victim of the prank, a Hungarian, learned of it he sought out the man and stabbed him in the arm. The Hungarian was soon followed by a crowd and slightly injured.

At East End the father of a young man who did not quit work became enraged because his son was interfered with and in his anger shot into a crowd. He was rescued by the police and locked up.

President Mitchell went to Scranton tonight with District President Nicholls to confer with leaders in that vicinity.

HANNA WORKS TO STOP SYMPATHETIC STRIKE

Senator Does Not Believe Bituminous Miners Will Join With the Anthracite Men.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, June 3.—Senator Hanna said today that all his energies as the head of the council of conciliation of the Civic Federation for the last two weeks had been devoted to preventing sympathetic strikes of other coal miners and men employed in other trades. He also said that, in his opinion, widespread sympathetic strikes will not occur and that the soft coal miners, who are working under a contract agreement, will not quit work.

Mr. Hanna made a statement to The Gazette regarding an attack made on him in a Boston newspaper in which this opinion was expressed. "When the great coal strike was in its initial stages, if Hanna had promptly called a meeting of the conciliation committee, both sides would have made reports, which would have been made public and would have brought about a discussion that probably would have ended the strike. Hanna sees his mistake now, and is said to be sorry for it."

"That is a stupid statement, made by a man who does not understand anything about the situation," said Senator Hanna, tossing the clipping across the table. "I would like to know what else the council of conciliation did when the strike was impending except to work day and night, hold conferences with both sides and use all possible diligence and all available arguments to bring about a settlement. If both sides had wanted a public discussion it would have been had, but strikes are not usually settled in that way."

MINES FULL-HANDED.

No Vacant Places in This District for Strikers From Anthracite Field.

Strikers from the anthracite fields are flocking to the Pittsburgh district for work. A month ago the demand for miners was heavy, but now, it was stated officially yesterday, there are few vacant places. Most of the river shipping mines are closed and the men of these workings fill the vacant places in the rail shipping mines.

The recent move of owners of mines at Blairsville is having enjoined the strike leaders of the Pittsburgh district in their campaign in the Allegheny and Kiskiminetas valley fields, may bring retaliation through the co-operation of the Ohio organization of miners. This is planned to take the form of a strike against operations of these same interests in Belmont county, Ohio.

Contractors Will Talk It Over.

The Stone Contractors' association will meet tomorrow night at headquarters in the Lewis block to consider moves to be made in dealing with the strike of stonemasons, which has been on since Monday. After making a settlement with the stonecutters which continues the old wage, the contractors offered to open the question with the stonemasons looking to a compromise. The committee representing the men declined to entertain this, demanding 50 cents an hour, which is an advance of 5 cents.

SOME CHANGES IN SERVICE OF STEEL COMBINE

Resignations of Percival Roberts and W. E. Dodge from Board Accepted.

A NEW COMPTROLLER, TOO

No Friction in the Directors' Meeting. The Corporation's Surplus Now Almost as Large as Its Capital—Pig Iron Disappearing.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, June 3.—At the regular meeting of the directors of the United States Steel Corporation today the resignations of Percival Roberts and William E. Dodge as directors were accepted. Mr. Roberts, as is generally known, turned in his resignation several months ago. He said at the time he did not agree with the policy of certain officers of the corporation, and it is due to this that he has severed his connection with the combine. Mr. Roberts was formerly president of the American Bridge Company. After the meeting today Judge Gary, chairman of the executive committee of the United States Steel Corporation, made the following statement:

"William E. Dodge and Percival Roberts, Jr., have resigned as directors of the United States Steel Corporation, and their places have been filled by James Gayley, first vice president of the corporation, and Robert Bacon, of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co. This is Mr. Bacon's reappearance on the board. He resigned several months ago, went to Europe, and was succeeded by George W. Perkins, who is also associated with the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co. Mr. Dodge sent a letter to the board giving his reason for resigning as poor health. He also stated that he was retiring as one of the boards of other corporations with which he is associated. A letter from Mr. Roberts was also read at the meeting, in which he expressed himself very agreeably."

The resignation of Edward Shearson as comptroller of the United States Steel Corporation, also was accepted. W. J. Wilbert, assistant comptroller, was elected to succeed him. Mr. Shearson is now chief senior member of the stock exchange firm of Shearson & Hammill. Today's meeting of the United States Steel Corporation was harmonious in every respect.

Steel Rails for Next Year.

Judge Gary today confirmed your correspondent's story that the price of steel rails for 1903 has been fixed at $28 a ton. He said:

"You can also say that an exceptionally large tonnage has been booked for delivery next year. The action of the corporation is unusual, as prices for the new year are generally considered in the last quarter of the old year. The early action this year is due to the sold-up condition of the mills."

Steel Corporation's Big Surplus.

A representative of the United States Steel Corporation today estimated that within the next two years the company, together with the subsidiary concerns, shall have accumulated a surplus of something like $275,000,000, a sum almost equivalent to the outstanding preferred stock after the completion of the bond transfer plan. According to the last annual report of the corporation, the surplus amounted to $174,344,259, so that if the estimate of the steel official proved correct, the corporation within the period under review will have increased its surplus by more than $100,000,000.

The same official said two years more of prosperity in the steel trade is assured, and that the undivided earnings at the close of the third fiscal year of the company would be in the neighborhood of $80,000,000.

The foregoing estimates are based on current prices for steel and iron, which the steel corporation officials consider very reasonable. People in close touch with the affairs of the corporation are positive that the average monthly earnings for the remainder of the year will be far in excess of the earnings in the corresponding period of last year. For the fiscal year ending March 31, 1902, the net earnings are expected to exceed $130,000,000, or something like $20,000,000 in excess of the earnings reported for the fiscal year just closed. The management of the United States Steel Corporation does not anticipate labor troubles this year.

Available Pig Iron Disappearing.

What remains of the possible production of southern pig iron for this year is rapidly being taken up by belated consumers and will soon disappear altogether. According to an official of the Tennessee Coal & Iron Company, there remain unsold only about 150,000 tons of this year's possible production of southern furnaces. Other manufacturers give even more moderate estimates than this. Prominent producers of southern pig today denied that the United States Steel Corporation has bought 50,000 tons of southern basic iron, as it was recently reported to have done. This product of the Tennessee Coal & Iron Company had been bought, or was negotiating for, such an amount of iron as this, he certainly would have heard about it.

The southern price for No. 2 foundry spot iron is now well above $16 a ton, although the maximum figure for maximum of $12 remains unchanged. A representative of the Tennessee Coal & Iron Company said the strike of the furnace men in the Mahoning and Shenango valleys will not affect southern furnaces in the least. The wages of the southern furnacemen are fixed by a sliding scale. The wages of the coal miners in the south are based upon the price of pig iron.

It was estimated today by a prominent producer that if the anthracite miners and furnacemen remain out for another week, the production of pig iron will be curtailed by 5,800 tons a day. The estimated possible production for this year is 18,000,000 tons. If both strikes last two weeks longer this year's production of pig iron is likely to be curtailed between 35,000 and 100,000 tons.

New Steel Company.

The Philadelphia Steel & Iron Company was incorporated in New Jersey today with a capital of $125,000. The incorporators are W. L. Weir, Charles F. Walker and Alfred C. Rex, who give their address at 419 Market street, Camden, N. J.

Fuller Company's Contracts.

It was announced today that the George A. Fuller Company, in which the United States Steel Corporation is largely interested, during the past two months has taken building contracts aggregating more than $6,000,000. Among these new contracts are George C. Boldt & Co.'s new Stratford hotel in Philadelphia, which, it is said, will cost $3,000,000, and an important further addition to the Tribune building in Chicago, now in process of erection. Other large contracts have been taken in Washington, Boston, Pittsburgh and New York.

Visible Supplies of Grain.

NEW YORK, June 3.—Special cable and telegraphic communications received by Bradstreet's show the following changes in available supplies since last report: Wheat, United States and Canada, east of Rockies, decreased 4,317,000 bushels; afloat for and in Europe, decreased 1,100,000 bushels; total supply decreased 5,417,000 bushels; corn, United States and Canada, east of Rockies, decreased 2,000 bushels; oats, United States and Canada, east of Rockies, increased 851,000 bushels. Among the more important changes reported south this week are those of 1,500,000 bushels in Manitoba, 345,000 bushels at Chicago private elevators, 100,000 bushels at northwestern interior elevators, 80,000 bushels at Portland, Me., and 50,000 bushels at Fort Worth. The leading increases are those of 267,000 bushels at Depot Harbor and 99,000 bushels at Newport News.

Dullness in the Leaders the Feature of the Entire Day.

CORN THE CHIEF FACTOR

Prospects of Future Good Crop Adds Languid Interest to the Western Railroads—Higher Rate for Money Represses Speculation.

New York, June 3.—It would be useless to seek for anything but a negative influence from the operations in today's stock market, owing to the smallness of the dealings and the languid movement of prices. Variations of as much as a point are rare and must be sought among the obscure portions of the list. An example of the character of the market is offered by St. Paul, usually an active leader of the market, but in which there were only three transactions up to 2 o'clock today. It is necessary to go back nearly two years to the period preceding the last presidential election to find any such showing of stagnant speculative interest. The undertone was rather firm as the immediate news developments were favorable to values. The buying was entirely by small professional traders and the market was so narrow that they were obliged to concede all of the advance in price caused by their bidding in order to close out a contract. The traders bought during the first hour in the belief that the success of the anthracite operators in keeping their mine pumps going would presage a rise in the value of anthracite stocks. Importance was also attributed to the notable increase in the receipts of corn and the resultant decline in the corn market.

Belief in Coming Crop.

The immediate benefit of increased traffic for railroads of the larger receipts was considered of much less consequence than the obvious inference that the freer offerings of corn were due to belief of planters that the coming crop would be abundant. The higher rate for money was probably the most influential factor in repressing speculation. Rates for call money ruled about last week's maximum throughout. The syndicate operations last week which resulted in the $15,000,000 loan expansion by the banks are liable to be repeated in kind at almost any time and the effect on the money market in the present narrow state of the surplus reserve is an object lesson against free speculative commitments. The question is beginning to be canvassed whether the tax reduction bill which goes into effect on July 1 will afford the expected relief to the money market by relaxing the government's surplus revenue requirement.

Talk About the Treasury.

The fiscal operations for May show that in spite of a decrease of over $4,000,000 in internal revenue collections the government's surplus for the month was fully equal to that of the year before. The available cash balance in the treasury was brought up to above $195,000,000 and the increase of government deposits in national banks was less than $4,000,000.

It is probable that the decrease in internal revenue is due to measures for withholding traffic until it can get the benefit of the July 1st reduction of taxation. On the other hand the reduction in government expenditures more than keeps pace with the decrease in revenue.

There was an active demand for Consolidated Tobacco 4's, otherwise the bond market was dull and irregular. Total sales par value, $3,405,000. United States bonds were all unchanged on the last call.

WALL STREET FEATURES.

Total sales for the day, 184,100 shares; par value, $3,405,000.

Higher rate for money proves a repressive influence on speculation and causes a very languid day.

Prospects for a good corn crop add interest to the western stocks.

The dealings in United States Steel were 4,850 common and 2,500 preferred, and both closed lower than the highest point of the day.

Speculators still have confidence in the ability of the anthracite operators to keep their pumps running and soon settle the strike.

Glass Workers and Bottle Blowers Expect Some Trouble at Atlantic City.

Members of the American Flint Glass Workers' union and the Glass Bottle Blowers' association are electing their delegates to the annual conventions, which will take place next month at Wheeling and Atlantic City respectively. Trouble is expected over the recent changes which have made the prescription bottle blowers of the flints' organization members of the other association, commonly known as the green bottle association. This change is expected to result in lowering the wages of the prescription bottle blowers, with the result that these men have already started to flock back to the flints. The same contest has permeated the two organizations of manufacturers, each holding annual conventions in Atlantic City next month.

The wage committee of the chimney branch of the flints will meet the committee of the manufacturers today in the Stevenson block to adjust a new wage agreement. The workers will probably ask for an advance of 5 per cent for hand workers and the continuance of the present machine system. The manufacturers will contest an increase in the limit on moves for machines. The present scale, which will expire next month, was made two years ago. The factories will close July 1 for six weeks.

NEWS FROM THE MINES

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, June 3.—It is reported that Phelps, Dodge & Co. have bought all the holdings of the Indiana and Sonora Mining Company in Sonora, Mexico.

A fine strike of green carbonate and glance ore has been made in shaft No. 1 of the Copper Glance Mining Company, near Bisbee, Ari.

A French and Swiss syndicate has bought a one-third interest in the Gold Roads group, near Kingman, Ari., for $500,000. Experts report that there are 120,000 tons of ore blocked out of an average value of $15 20 gold to the ton.

The last month's production of Cripple Creek is estimated at $1,624,000, derived from 52,300 tons of ore. The output for April, according to official figures from the mills and smelters, was 57,000 tons, valued at $1,100,000.

In the third level of the Santiago, near Georgetown, Col., an ore body five feet wide has been exposed. The ore carries a large quantity of copper and is very rich. Samples assayed 90 ounces silver, $99 gold and 15 per cent copper to the ton.

A rich placer mine on Jaque creek, in Josephine county, Ore., which has been lost for half a century, has been found by S. D. Johnson of Colorado.

In the Expansion claim of the Bright Star group, Alta Bay district, Ari., a large body of black sulphide of copper is disclosed. The ore also carries values in silver and gold.

Two hundred men are now employed in the Picacho mines, near Colorado river, Cal., and the force will be increased to 500 by next October.

Of the placer mining companies at Hawkinsville, Cal., will finish ground sluicing next week and begin cleaning up bed rock gravel. Water has been plentiful and a good yield of gold is expected.

Local Stocks Were Very Dull and Listless, Closing About Steady

SMALL SALES ROLED IN THE DAY'S TRADING

Except in the Bank Group the Changes in Prices Were Immaterial.

REAL ESTATE TRUST OFF

Stock Sold $6 Lower Than Last Week—Fifth Avenue Bank Made a New High Record—Crucible Steels Firmer.

The market on the Pittsburg stock exchange yesterday was again very dull and listless, but the tone at the close was generally fairly steady. The sales as a rule were small and in no case were more than 750 shares of a single stock sold during the day. The whole market seemed to have come to a standstill, and just why nobody is able to tell. The strike is probably the real reason, but in some quarters there is an evident desire to minimize its effect and to believe that it has practically ceased to be a factor. In this column yesterday the effects of peace in South Africa and the seriousness of the strike were briefly outlined. In writing of the market in Wall street yesterday a prominent financier took almost a similar view, saying: "The declaration of peace on the other side marks an influence far reaching in its effects on security values and one that is hardly capable of being actually discounted, opening up as it does opportunities for American ingenuity and enterprise in the development of the tremendous resources of South Africa. The mere fact that peace has been declared releases funds that have been held in check through the timidity of the investors and opens the possibility of a great expansion of business and speculation and it is reasonable to suppose that American securities will come in for a good share of this improved condition of affairs. The actual market, however, continues dull and narrow, but with a very firm undertone, and it begins to look to us as though the strike as a market factor was losing a little of its influence, although it must necessarily act as a check on any market operations." Locally, the strike is regarded as a most potent factor, and if it spreads or is maintained for any considerable period its effect on the market will be most pronounced. At present it is a heavy check to both speculation and investment. In the trading yesterday Crucible Steel preferred led with 137 shares and closed a shade firmer and ¼ higher at 86, the firmness being probably due to the near approach of the dividend period. The common was exceptionally dull, only 25 shares changing hands at 22, ¼ higher than Monday. United States Steels were almost without a market, 100 common selling at 40 and 20 preferred at 90. In the early trading 39¾ was bid for about 1,500 common. River Coal preferred was fairly active and ¼ higher at 42. Pittsburgh Coal common lost ½ at 24 and the preferred ¼ at 88¾, the selling of the latter amounting to about 600 shares. Brewing common came out freely at 26. Electric seconds and Air Brake were dull and unchanged. Window Glass was ¼ higher at 58¾, but liberal offerings at that price checked buying.

The banking department was quieter, but with one exception steady to firm. The exception was Real Estate Trust, which sold 10 shares at 280, a decline of 86 from the last previous sale. At the close 281 was the only bid, there being no offer. Fifth Avenue bank was $5 higher at 70 and closed still $1 higher at 71 bid. Traders and Mechanics bank lost $2 at 68 and United Realty Trust $1 at 136. In the quotations Fourth National advanced $2 to $160, City Deposit $1 to $102, Mechanics National $1 to $137 and State bank $1 to $38 bid, all being new high records. Peoples National was also firmer and higher at 385 bid, its previous high selling price. The other changes were unimportant. Bonds were dull but firm.

The fact that they had got down low enough to be within reasonable reach, turned the attention of consumers to new potatoes, and request has been very brisk for a few days. Old potatoes are still weak and slow of sale. Texas and Mississippi tomatoes are now quoted, as they are coming in regularly. Strawberries were abundant and cheaper yesterday.

Horse Market.

Draught horses were the principal offerings at the exchange auction sale yesterday, and 250 were sold at prices averaging about the same as those which have ruled for two or three weeks.

Retail selling is not so active as it was a month or two earlier in the year, dealers declaring less purchases are made for owners work against quick sales, as buyers who were willing to pay top figures are now fairly well supplied. Driving horses are not in as good request as it was thought they would be at this time.

WILL MAKE BIG ADDITIONS TO JERSEY PLANT

Standard Underground Cable Co. Votes Large Stock Increase.

HALF MILLION INVOLVED

Stockholders Feel That There Is a Demand for Increased Facilities for Turning Out Insulated Cables. No Prospect of Transoceanic Work

The Standard Underground Cable Company yesterday voted for a new issue of shares amounting to $500,000 at par value of $100 a share, the proceeds to be used in extensions of the new plant of the company at Perth Amboy, N. J. The present capital stock of the company is $1,500,000, all of one class, and it pays dividends of 8 per cent. The Perth Amboy plant is the newest of the properties of the company and was erected two years ago in addition to the Pittsburgh plant and that at Oakland, Cal.

In locating at Perth Amboy, the company had in contemplation the supply of deep sea cables of any length required for the government of the United States, or other governments, or for individual enterprises in this line. This idea was never carried out and the $500,000 to be spent in additions to the present plant is to increase the facilities for supplying the growing eastern trade in the lines of manufacture which the company has pursued since its organization.

Nature of the Product.

This production includes the making of cables for electric light, electric railway, telephone and telegraph purposes. At the Perth Amboy works, the cables now manufactured are insulated with rubber and paper. At the Pittsburgh works most of the production is paper-insulated and some jute fiber cables are made. These last are growing in favor for telegraph use.

The stockholders of the Standard Underground Cable Company met yesterday afternoon at the general offices of the company in the Westinghouse building. All shares represented were voted unanimously for the issue of the additional stock, which will make the capitalization $2,000,000 at par. The new shares go to the holders of record a month ago in proportion to their holdings.

Joseph W. Marsh, vice-president and general manager of the company, who has probably done more than any other one man to advance cable manufacture in the United States, said yesterday that there is doubt that the present congress will take any action which will encourage the American manufacturers for long and deep sea cable making.

No Action by Congress Expected.

The bill now in congress, which imposes a duty on foreign cable makers who touch two American ports, has been reported favorably by the committee to which it was submitted, but Mr. Marsh doubts that the house will favorably consider the matter this session, if at all.

Action of this kind by congress would turn the contracts for cables touching two American ports to the manufacturers of the United States. While congress was delaying action on a subsidy bill to provide for the stringing of a cable from San Francisco, including Hawaii and the Philippines, the Mackay-Bennett syndicate of New York and London, went ahead to arrange for the construction of the cable. This interest has already placed the contract for the first section out of San Francisco with English manufacturers, and this apparently ends the chance of the Pittsburgh company for constructing the great trans-Pacific cable.

The Standard Underground Cable Company had formerly planned to make an investment of at least $1,000,000 at Perth Amboy to provide suitable works for the construction of deep sea cables of sufficient length to fulfill the contract. The company has made deep sea cables, but only for short distances across a bay or harbor.

A TREMENDOUS TURNOUT.

Thousands Will Take the Free Excursion Trains to the Birth of Wonderful New Trafford City.

With the dawn of next Saturday, the 7th, enthusiasm will have reached its height among the thousands of investors and homeseekers, who have received and are receiving free tickets for the grand excursion to be run from all principal points to Trafford City, the great new Westinghouse industrial center, where criterion points out a rich harvest for those who get in on the ground floor.

The Real Estate Trust Company of Pittsburgh, the promoters of this tremendous land enterprise, report that calls for particulars and full information are enormous. The demand for free tickets has already gone far beyond all anticipations.

The announcement of the opening of Trafford City has created a tremendous stir and one doesn't have to look far for the cause. The remarkable advance in East Pittsburgh and Wilmerding real estate—the unmistakable influence of the great Westinghouse industries—is the magnet that will draw a great concourse of humanity to Trafford City, the logical spot for reaping the Westinghouse enhancement.

It is a fact that today nearly 60 per cent of the 15,000 workmen employed in the Westinghouse industries at East Pittsburgh and Wilmerding, are worth more money than the average business man and at least 87 per cent of this 60 per cent will have the value of their real estate holdings increased at least 50 per cent by the monster $1,500,000 extension to be built this summer to the plants of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Company.

The great Westinghouse foundry interests at Trafford City constitute the only industry in the Westinghouse circuit that shares directly in the success of each and every one of the other Westinghouse industries. Another point bearing on the wisdom of possessing Trafford City property, is the fact that 8,798 out of a total of nearly 11,000 renters who got in and took advantage of the first opportunity to buy property, opened by the Westinghouse industrial expansion, are now owners of homes; in many instances are the wealthiest men in the towns or communities in which they live.

Four thousand skilled workmen will be employed in the immense Westinghouse plants at Trafford City alone, which will establish a population in Trafford City of at least 20,000. At their present rate of development the Westinghouse industries will employ in less than five years more than 30,000 well paid mechanics and Trafford City's population will take a wonderful bound.

People who have considered these facts will be in the front ranks at the opening sale of Trafford City property. In the near future when the cry for homes arises from the thousands of throats, Trafford City, it is conservatively estimated, will go to ten times the prices that will rule at the opening sale.

Free excursion train will leave Pittsburgh at 9:00 sharp Saturday morning, June 7, and stop to take on passengers at all intermediate points to Trafford City.

M. G. Carrel to Take Cleveland Position—More Announcements Made in the Freight Department.

Final details of the reorganization of the Baltimore & Ohio traffic departments are rapidly being settled. The changes have been on the docket for over a year and the final form they have taken is gratifying to old Baltimore & Ohio men, for in neither the freight nor passenger departments have outsiders been brought in to fill important positions.

Today and tomorrow D. B. Martin, manager of passenger traffic of the system, will be in Pittsburgh in consultation with passenger men from the whole system, and when this meeting adjourns there is no doubt that all the matters will be settled. It is announced from Baltimore that M. G. Carrel, general passenger agent of the Cleveland, Lorain & Wheeling, will become district passenger agent of the Baltimore & Ohio at Cleveland, with jurisdiction over both the old Cleveland, Lorain & Wheeling and the Cleveland, Terminal & Valley. S. W. Hege, general agent of the passenger department at Washington, D. C., will become division passenger agent.

Effective this date the jurisdiction of the following officers is hereby extended over the following additional lines of the Baltimore & Ohio system, viz.: Pittsburgh & Western, Cleveland Terminal & Valley, Cleveland, Lorain & Wheeling and Ohio & Little Kanawha: L. Rush Brockenbrough, general freight agent; C. V. Lewis, general freight agent in charge of freight claims; J. A. Murray, general coal and ice agent; Page Cherry, general dairy freight agent; Ben Wilson, general live stock agent; R. B. Ways, foreign freight agent; W. W. Wood, industrial agent; H. C. Smith, freight tariff agent.

The local changes incident to the promotion of D. G. Gray, chief clerk in the general freight office here, to division freight agent at Columbus, will be as follows: D. S. Henderson becomes chief Clerk; H. P. Gardner, chief clerk to General Freight Agent W. L. Cromlish of the Pittsburgh & Western lines, becomes assistant chief clerk in the general offices; F. E. Guy becomes chief rate clerk, and W. H. Baggs becomes rate clerk.

EDWARD D. SMITH,
the New Assistant General Passenger Agent of the Baltimore & Ohio at Pittsburgh.

Through Car to Boston Certain.

It has been definitely decided by the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie to put on a new train for the Boston business. It will leave the Lake Erie station about 5:20 p. m. and connect with train No. 10 of the Lake Shore at Ashtabula, at 9:03. The through car to Boston will arrive at Boston at 3 p. m., or before the close of the business day. The route will be over the Lake Erie to Youngstown; Lake Shore to Buffalo; New York Central to Albany and Boston & Albany to Boston. In view of the already large travel between this city and Boston a good patronage of the through car is believed to be assured, despite the fact that this route is somewhat longer than the one via New York. It is also the intention of the Lake Erie to develop Pittsburgh travel to New England coast resorts.

Oppose New Form of Report.

As a result of the meeting of the auditing officials of a number of railroads held in Pittsburgh last week, the roads will protest against the new form of report desired by the Interstate commerce commission. A hearing in the case will be held by the commission in Washington tomorrow.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE PENNSYLVANIA CO.

Formal Report for Year Is Made Showing Record Earnings, and Directors Are Re-Elected.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Pennsylvania Company was held yesterday at the general offices of the company in the Union station. All the former directors were re-elected. The earnings of the company show an advance over those of any previous year.

The gross earnings for the year were $29,054,544 92 and the expenses $20,312,-038 58. The net earnings were $8,742,-506 42. Dividends and interests received from investments amounted to $3,595,-365 98. The gross earnings amounted accordingly to $12,247,872 40. Interest, car trust, payments, eac., amounted to $8,-566,611 66, leaving a net income of $3,-681,260 74.

The directors re-elected were Messrs. A. J. Cassatt, James McCrea, Joseph Wood, J. J. Turner, E. B. Taylor, John P. Green, W. H. Barnes, N. P. Shortridge, Charles E. Pugh, Samuel Rea, George Kood, C. Stuart Patterson and L. F. Loree. Mr. Loree is president of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad and his membership on the board of the Pennsylvania Company is a good illustration of the close interworking of the two systems.

RAILROAD NOTES.

W. W. Dunnavant, traveling passenger agent of the Queen & Crescent, with headquarters at Cincinnati, was in Pittsburgh yesterday on business.

LARKIN IS STILL AT HIS PRUNING WORK

Pay Rolls Subjected to Close Scrutiny and Cuts Ordered Where Load Is Too Heavy.

Twenty-three men in the bureau of parks have been dropped from the pay roll. A few have been transferred to other bureaus and others have had their salaries reduced. The pay roll of the bureau which reached Controller John R. Larkin yesterday contained 23 names less than the one handed him for the bureau a month ago. Controller Larkin refused to discuss the pay roll except to say that he had found the name of Elmer E. Siebert upon the roll and that he would not issue a warrant for Siebert.

When the pay roll for April reached the controller he noticed that it was filled with "deadwood," and he informed Supt. William Falconer that he would have to cut down the force. Supt. Falconer promised to do what he could, and that he achieved results is shown in the pay roll for May.

Controller Larkin yesterday had Supt. G. E. Emery of the bureau of bridges before him. The pay roll for that bureau included 14 men accredited as watchmen, while the bureau is only entitled to nine. Emery said he would cut the extra men off at once.

The construction bureau pay roll was found yesterday, with the names of the filtration employes upon it, and they were ordered paid, as the money comes out of the construction appropriation and not out of the filtration fund.

Concerning the adroit plan of the machine to get the filtration employes paid, Controller Larkin said: "The purpose of refusing to countersign warrants for work on the filtration plant after May 10 was to preserve intact the money voted by the people for pure water until councils had considered the whole cost and determined on the character of the undertaking. I exercised the discretion of my office and prevented piecemeal absorption of that fund. If a new way has been found to pay old debts, and an artful process has been resorted to that these men may be kept on the pay roll, it only advertises the adroitness and craft sometimes employed to reach the treasury when other means have failed. If, however, these warrants are to be charged to construction, the conclusion must be drawn that former warrants were improperly charged to filtration, and that the controller was right in interposing objection to the ill-concealed raid on that fund.

"It is possible that the present scheme may be successful, but the people will find comfort in knowing that the construction fund is really a disability fund, ingeniously constructed as a refuge for the protection of claims shut out elsewhere, and needs reconstruction by councils."

EBENEZER VS. CENTER.

Pittsburgh Baptist Association Opened With a Lively Tilt Yesterday.

The 68d annual session of the Pittsburgh Baptist association opened yesterday morning in the Fourth avenue church, of which the Rev. Dr. L. C. Barnes is pastor. The Rev. J. A. Maxwell of McKeesport was elected moderator, F. J. Rebbeck clerk, and George F. Street assistant clerk and treasurer.

During the afternoon session there was a lively tilt between the congregations of the Ebenezer and Center avenue churches and the Second church of Monongahela. When the report on new churches was read the Ebenezer people protested against the admission of the Center avenue body on the ground that "they're a lot of disgruntled folks, formerly of the Ebenezer church." The trouble in the Monongahela church was settled by the recognition of delegates. Some interesting reports were made.

In the evening special devotional services were held, addresses being made by the Rev. W. E. Pritchard and the Rev. J. M. Moore.

JOLIET UNDER WATER.

Three Persons Are Drowned and Many Have Narrow Escapes.

JOLIET, ILL., June 3.—Joliet has the worst flood in its history. All the lower portion of the city is under water. Eddie McGovers, Lizzie McGeen and a little girl named Kennedy were drowned.

Scores of families have been driven from their homes and several houses and other buildings were swept away. All the principal streets are under water. The damage to property is estimated at $100,000.

DICKERING WITH POSTAL.

Western Union's Great Rival Likely to Work on Pennsylvania Lines.

PHILADELPHIA, June 3.—It was officially stated today that negotiations are in progress between the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and the Postal Telegraph Company concerning the operation of the telegraphic system over the railroad company's lines. The Western Union contract will terminate in about six months.

A vice president of the Pennsylvania railroad admitted that a conference of officials of the two companies had taken place, but he said he could not anticipate the result of the meeting.
